At the April meeting of the board of management of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington, D. C., a charge was made in the national defense committee and its scope of work enlarged. It is now called the Committee on National Defense Embodying Patriotic Education.

Mrs. Florence Hague Becker, national chairman, says, "Our society stands for national defense through education which, in our case, is essentially patriotic; an enlightened membership can and does influence public opinion that America shall be kept defended, protected and American."

On October 14, Medford people had the opportunity of hearing Mrs. John Y. Richardson, state representative on this subject. Mrs. Richardson has made a careful and comprehensive study of defense needs and conditions and her enlightening address was opportune at a time of so much social unrest.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing Now that the Medford troops are well organized and beginning their year's activities, it is a fine thing to check up on yourselves, whether you are a patrol member, or patrol leader, and see if you come up to the following expectations:

- What a patrol expects of its patrol leader: To set a good example at all times. To have plenty of patience. To keep the Girl Scout laws. To be able to keep order. To be enthusiastic, and to have ideas. To be regular and punctual. To help all members of her patrol, not just the ones she likes best. What a patrol leader expects of her patrol: To be loyal and dependable. To be loyal and to back her up. To stick individual likes and dislikes for the good of the patrol. To be thoroughly prepared for any badge test patrol members wish to take. To help with the work of the patrol. To be cheerful, good losers and friendly winners.

The summer is past, fall is here, and winter is fast approaching. Now as well as then are we being confronted with the problem of caring for the unfortunate who seek shelter and food.

The good Master said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto Me."

At present we are very much in need of a number of quilts, blankets, mattresses, sleeping cots, all kinds of clothing and shoes.

Only through the kindness and co-operation of the people in this wonderful county of Jackson, are we going to be able to cope with the situation already facing us.
