

BISHOP BALKS AT COLOR LINE FOR HIS CONGREGATION

Bishop Manning Forces Way Into Church to Preach and Legal Action Looms in New York Church Dispute

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Vestrymen of All Souls Protestant Episcopal church intended to consult a lawyer today as a result of Bishop William T. Manning's action in forcing his way into the church, where he preached a sermon declaring negro and white church-goers should be admitted on an equal basis.

Defying threats to have him arrested for trespass, the bishop appeared at the church yesterday, caused a locksmith to smash the lock on heavy iron gates, and ordered services to go on.

"It is the plain duty of all souls of the community, white and colored alike," he said, rebuking the vestrymen for what he termed "intendible" action.

The church is on St. Nicholas dominantly white but now largely negro. Manuel J. Rouse, one of the vestry majority, denied it raised the racial question, saying the issue was the pastor's fitness.

George F. Nelson, another vestryman, said negroes were always welcome as guests.

"But it seems to be the policy of the present pastor," he said, "to build up a large negro congregation and turn the church over to them. We do not think it is fair to turn over to the negroes the church and its endowment which it took the white congregation more than 40 years to build."

18 NEGROES DIE WHEN BUS DRIVEN INTO MISSISSIPPI

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Eighteen persons were drowned in the Mississippi river here last night when a bus load of negroes returning from a religious gathering plunged off a ferry landing. One white man, Joseph Bowman, 27, was among the victims.

The stranded negroes had chartered the bus to go from their homes to Waterproof, La., to a negro baptist convention at Meadville, Miss.

Hawkins-Bakman Wedding Announced

A wedding of interest to many Oregon State college alumnae and other southern Oregon folk was announced in yesterday's Oregonian.

The effectively simple home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burr E. Hawkins, by Rev. Theodore A. Smith of the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Freda Baxter was maid of honor and Miss Ida Bakman of Fremont, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Marjorie Smith were bridesmaids. John Hawkins was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bakman will make their home after November 15 in Fremont. Both are graduates of Oregon State college, where Mrs. Bakman affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and Mr. Bakman with Chi Phi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Roberts returned this morning from the south, where they attended the football game Saturday and visited with their daughter, Mary Lee, student at Hill school, who joined them in San Francisco for the week-end.

The Roberts were accompanied on the trip south by Mrs. Edwin Stanton of Los Angeles, who was house guest for a time this fall of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Robinson and the inspiration for much entertaining here.

Major Years-Brown of the British Indian army, author of many best sellers and a sportsman of international reputation, who addressed an enthusiastic audience at the high school auditorium Saturday evening, left yesterday for the south on the noon plane.

Miss Curtis Bachelder entertained a number of her schoolmates Saturday, which was the anniversary of her birthday. Games were played during the afternoon and followed by refreshments.

PINNACLE DONATES RELIEF AID SPACE

One phase of the county relief council's problem was solved today, Victor Tengvald, secretary, announced, with the donation by Raymond Heter of storage space in the Pinnacle plant No. 2.

Space for storage of supplies for the central commissary has been badly needed. The space offered in the fruit plant will adequately fill this need, being used in connection with the shop of the I. O. O. F. on Sixth street, where the central commissary will be located.

DRUNKEN FATHER BEATING WIFE IS KILLED BY SON

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—He killed his father. He drove a butcher knife into the older man's heart, and he drove it with such force the blade protruded three inches from the back.

The man had come home Saturday night reeling under liquor. He had done it before, his widow told police in a tired voice; done it often. The 35 years of their marriage, she said, had been a nightmare routine of drunken brutality.

He rarely stood it as long as I could. I grabbed the knife—to frighten him—I was mad. At the top of the stairs—I struck at him.

The body, the knife driven through the heart, awayed errily, then pitched backward and rolled to the bottom. The youth was still standing at the top of the stairs, horror-stricken, when the police arrived.

Thomas, Jr., and his sister slipped back into the house. The younger Pendergast told police later: "Yes, I killed him. He's been abusing my mother—beating her. I grabbed the knife—to frighten him—I was mad. At the top of the stairs—I struck at him."
