

Tiger Hopes for Thanksgiving Game With Portland Team Dimmed

HOOD RIVER OR DALLES TO GET CALL IS CLAIM

Inability to Satisfy Whole State Seen by Metropolis — Locals Will Play Eugene High Here Saturday

The state champion football claims of the Medford high school were somewhat dimmed yesterday by the forecast of the Portland Journal sports department "that a team from up the Columbia Gorge"—meaning Hood River or The Dalles—would be invited to play the Thanksgiving game with the Portland champions. Hood River and The Dalles meet shortly to decide their own personal differences.

The Journal article sets forth that, inasmuch as no matter who is selected, the entire state will not be satisfied; that neither Hood River or The Dalles have ever played in Portland; that The Dalles defeated a Portland school in a pre-season game and that neither has been defeated this season.

Nearer Portland
Another item in favor of the Columbia River teams is that both The Dalles and Hood River are 100 miles from Portland and reached by auto bus in two hours, and neither apt to upset the metropolitan interscholastic apple cart, which retains as much pride in its high school boys as any other municipality.

The Medford team is listed as one worthy of consideration, along with Astoria, La Grande and other undefeated high school squads.

In the meantime, the Medford team, at the height of its physical form, is preparing for the game Saturday at Van Scoyoc field with the Eugene high school. Eugene plays Corvallis also this week, but is saving its star back for the local contest. They figure Corvallis as nothing to worry about, and a mild practice game, and expect to come here with complete strength and lineup.

Cavemen Mean Business
Grants Pass and Klamath Falls play the second game of their series at Klamath Falls the coming Saturday and, while the Pelicans have been deeply chastened by their decisive defeat here, they have regained their lost prestige by walloping the Josephine county squad. The very confident Grants Pass team has announced it will defeat Klamath Falls by a larger score than Medford, to bolster their conference title claims.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Abe Kaplan, Jewish heavyweight wrestler, defeated Pat Kelly, Boston, two out of three falls here last night. The first fall went to Kaplan in 22 minutes on a series of rabbit punches followed by a winglock and arm bar. Kelly flattened Kaplan in 10 minutes and 50 seconds for the second fall with flying tackles and Sonnenberg butts. Kaplan took the deciding fall in less than five minutes when Kelly missed a flying tackle as Kaplan dived under him. Kelly landed on his back with Kaplan on top.

VANDERBILT BRIDGE CUP JOINS YACHTING TROPHY

(By William H. Spear.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(AP)—That old mug which Sir Thomas Lipton tried in vain to win had a companion on today on the millionaire yachtman put up in 1928 for the competition of contract bridge teams.

Vanderbilt, who fathered contract in this country, restricted his tournament playing to the competition for his own cup.

The skipper of the "Enterprise" won it for the first time last night as a member of P. Hal Sims' team. The quartet, whose other members were William S. Karn and Waldemar Von Zedtwitz, defeated David Burnstine's forces in the final by 5,545 points.

Burnstine and his mates—Howard Schenken, national individual champion, Richard Frey and Charles Lockridge—led by 225 points after the first 30 boards of the final, but the Sims crew took an overwhelming lead on the second 30.

Sims and Karn won the trophy last year as half of the "Four Horsemen," whose other members were Oswald Jacoby and Burnstine himself. Von Zedtwitz played on the team of Ely Culbertson which won it two years ago.

As the play on the following hand, which gave his team a 1,330 swing, was one of the factors in its victory:

North.
S-K 9 8 7 4 2
H-7 5 3
D-Q
C-A 8 6

West. S-10
D-A K 10 7 4 3
H-J 10 9 8 6
C-J

East. S-A 3 6
H-A K Q 4
D-9 6
C-K Q 7 4

At the other table, Lochridge and Frey as East and West, also arrived at a six-heart declaration against Vanderbilt and Von Zedtwitz. Lochridge at East, however, figured North for both the queen and jack of diamonds and played dummy's king after the ace. The error set him one at a cost of 100 points.

OREGON'S GRIDIRON CLASSIC IN MIRE IS OUTLOOK NOW

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 3.—(AP)—With the prospect that the Oregon University-Oregon State college Pacific Coast conference football struggle here Saturday will be fought on a rain-drenched field, Coach Paul J. Schlesier led his Oregon State Beavers into a stiff practice today, designed to develop a non-skid and effective offensive on a slippery field.

The coach admitted he is hoping the clouds will mend their ways by Saturday and that a reasonably dry field will greet the teams, so his men can determine to the fullest extent if the Oregon University Webfoots are still weak in their defense against passing.

Meltooth, the backfield find who found no trouble in plowing through the mud against West Coast Army last week, will probably view the Oregon game from the bench, Schlesier said, as a leg injury kept him out of uniform today. Jarvis, another stalwart in the backfield, was also missing, from practice today with sprain in his side.

The following have been announced tentatively by Schlesier as starters against Oregon: Keith and Everett Davis, ends; Miller and Schwanzel, tackles; Tuttle and Tomcheck, guards; Danforth, center; Blacone, quarter; Pangie and Moe, halfbacks; Joel, full. Moe will be captain.

BORAH PREDICTS NEXT CONGRESS TO PASS BONUS

"I had organized enough votes to defeat this bill had not the Republicans gone across the aisle for their votes."

The Idaho senator, who swung into the northern part of the state in the interests of Senator Thomas, his colleague, who is ill, sternly opposed the passage of the so-called "bonus bill," but added he had advocated "very considerable for injured former soldiers and relatives of the dead."

Bonus Prevention Difficult
"We will be asked to pay two billion and a half dollars in the next congress for the so-called bonus," he declared. "You go home and figure out what that will mean."

He predicted it would be difficult to prevent passage of this measure by the next congress.

Referring to costs of government, which he said had caused an increase of a half dollar in the next congress for the so-called bonus, he declared, "You go home and figure out what that will mean."

LOANS ON FEEDER STOCK DISAPPOINT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Officials of the reconstruction finance corporation said today the demand for loans from livestock feeders "is not as large as we would like to see it."

Both Gardner Cowles, Sr., a director and Ford Hovey, chief of the agricultural section of the corporation, so expressed themselves.

"There is a very large corn crop," Hovey said, "with both cattle and sheep selling cheaply."

"Corn is probably the cheapest it ever has been, selling in some instances for as low as 8 or 9 cents a bushel."

"The reconstruction finance corporation has money to finance stock feeder loans on cattle and sheep. . . . We are really disappointed at not getting more applications."

HOOVER COMING HOME FOR VOTE AFTER CAMPAIGN

acceptance proposed a change in the prohibition laws "to remedy present evils," suggesting that states be allowed to deal with the liquor problem, provided the saloon was not allowed to return.

Start Tour Tonight
President and Mrs. Hoover leave Washington today at 4:20 p. m., for a swing through the middle west with major speeches in Springfield, Ill., and St. Louis tomorrow and Madison, Wis., and St. Paul Saturday.

Under present plans they will start their dash for the coast Saturday night, after the St. Paul speech, arriving in Palo Alto about noon election day.

The chief executive delivered his speech late last night before a California rally at the Carlton hotel here and it was carried by telephone to the coast for broadcasting in celebration of "California Day."

Home Instinct Strong
An audience estimated by White House aides at 150 persons cheered Mr. Hoover for a minute when he appeared before microphones in the hotel patio. He told them his family had made plans each year to return to Palo Alto, but "new crises and new emergencies" had prevented. The president added:

"The improved situation in the country affords me the deep satisfaction of coming home to vote. . . . I have never gone so far away, nor remained so long, except during the great war and the presidency, that the homing instinct has not carried me back every year to sink more deeply and more firmly the roots of my being in the fertile soil of California's spiritual and cultural life."

No Alien Interests.
Most of the president's address was devoted to campaign issues, chiefly the tariff, but he interposed comment on two "calumnies" which he said were being spread by Democratic agents in California. As to the first, he denied having owned "any interest directly or indirectly in any business outside the boundaries of the United States" since entering public service "15 years ago."

Then he denied "the second defamatory . . . that the ranch at Wasco, my interest in which I disposed of two or three years ago, refused to employ white workers."

"Turning to the tariff, the chief executive said "there are no states in the union where property is so dependent upon the maintenance of the protective tariff as in those of the Pacific coast."
