CLOTHING NEEDED TO SUPPLY CALLS SAYS RELIEF HEAD

Urgent Appeal for Children's Garments, Men's Underwear and Shoes Issued From Welfare Exchange

Because of the many demands made upon the supply of the welfare exchange, Miss Helen J. Carlton, manager, is issuing a special appeal for contributions of clothing, especially children's warm garments, men's underwear and shoes of all sizes, to augment the almost depleted stock on hand.

According to Mrs. A. E. Reames of the general relief committee there is real suffering in many families in Jackson county and the immediate need for warm clothing is serious.

Work Grows Fast.

The work of the local relief clothing shop has grown so much more rapidly than the managing committee anticipated that the work room where women sew and generally renovate garments in exchange for clothing for their families, is overcrowded and a waiting list being maintained.

Ten woman were present at one time last week, all eager and willing to give their services.

No Profit Asked.

The committee also wishes to announce that no item in the welfare exchange is sold for a profit as shown by the fact that a child's woolen sweater is sold for 5 cents, a pair of shoes for 10 cents and a New York labeled overcoat was sold for 25 cents.

The purpose in placing a price on any article given out is to help the recipient to maintain his self-respect, to make him realize he is also helping others in this way, and in the case of many impractical items brought in for sale or exchange, to sell these in order that funds may be available for the committee's purchase of clothing not in stock but in much demand, such as warm underwear or children's stockings, or new material to be made up into warm garments.

Donations Taken Any Time.

While the welfare exchange is open only on Wednesdays and Saturdays bundles may be left at headquarters on the second floor of the old city hall or by telephoning Mrs. David Rosenburg of the motor corps, some one will call for any contributions for this worthy cause.

All residents of Jackson county are asked to cooperate on this humanitarian project. Other agencies are caring for the needs of transients.

Occasional exception is made to the rule of buying or exchanging labor for clothing as when investigation proves it wise, aid is given outright.

OPPONENTS PLAY ON DISCONTENT SAYS PRESIDENT

cratic program," containing various measures proposed in the last congress, he decelared "the nation would collapse under them."

He enumerated 21 measures "adopted" by the Republican administration as bringing increasing evidences of economic recovery.

The president at the outset asserted Democratic leaders had attempted to "build a fantastic fiction" as to the causes of the depression.

Lack Understanding

"But in the pursuit of the misrepresentation," he said, "they have demonstrated their total lack of understanding of the real situation with which the government must deal if we are ever to find our way out of this depression.

"This narrowness of vision, this incapacity to reach to the heart of things, is a complete demonstration of their unfitness for the still gigantic task of leading the nation back to normal life and the resumption of the forward march of progress."

HARRY MOORE POINTS OUT QUALIFICATIONS FOR CITY TREASURER

Speaking in regard to his candidacy for the office of city treasurer, Harry G. Moore, Saturday brought out his views on the qualifications needed for that place as follows:

"My appeal to the voters of Medford is based solely upon the consideration of my qualifications for the position. I feel certain that the public desires just as efficient and up-to-date methods in the administration of this office as any large corporation would demand in a similar office of its own. I always have believed that our public offices would be more efficiently administered of it were possible to secure candidates who had had wide and thorough training in the methods and systems employed by big business enterprises.

"Too many of our offices are content to use the same methods year in and year out rather than adopt newer and more efficient methods, which would more than pay for the slight cost in time saved and accessibility of the records. These facts are particularly true of a purely administrative office such as City Treasurer.

"My training," continued Mr. Moore, "has been along the lines just mentioned. I have been employed all of my life, outside of my service in the army, by corporations in analytical accounting work. I believe this experience has qualified me for the office which I seek. Incidentally, my service in the army was connected entirely with administrative office work. I enlisted as a private and was fortunate enough to be promoted thru all enlisted grades and finally commissioned from the ranks before the close of the war."

"Mr. Moore says he "still retains enough idealism to believe that the public is concerned with actual qualifications of candidates to the exclusion of all other factors."

He has been a resident of Medford for the past eight years, is a taxpayer, and is well known in business circles. His slogan is, "Qualification the Only Consideration."

NEIGHBOR WOMAN SUES ON BEATING

Suit for $10,000 damages, for an alleged beating administered last May 12, was filed in circuit court Saturday by Manilla Burdell against Della Wilkinson.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant administered a severe beating, following a neighborhood quarrel, and repeatedly during the course of the combat, cried:

"Bite the dust, Manilla, bite the dust."

The plaintiff further alleges that as a result of the battle, she sustained wrenched muscles of the neck, a strained arm, abdominal injuries of a permanent nature, and the hair was pulled from her head. Mrs. Burdell alleges that her head was pounded on the ground, her face discolored, that it was necessary to call a doctor, and that neighbors intervened to stop the quarrel.

Attorney Gus Newbury appears as counsel for the plaintiff.

GREY ADMIRABLY FITTED FOR CITY TREASURER POST

Members of the Grey for Treasurer club who are urging the voters to support Joseph O. Grey in his campaign for the office of city treasurer have been sponsoring a series of short radio talks over KMED. The following short address was presented Thursday evening by E. C. Ferguson, chairman of the club, who spoke in behalf of Mr. Grey as follows:

"Representative Medford men and women in many walks of life, and from all parts of the city, have organized the Grey for City Treasurer club for the purpose of familiarizing the voters of Medford with Joseph O. Grey's splendid record in city service and his unquestioned ability to fill the position he is seeking. The members of this newly organized club have intrusted me with the task of placing these facts before the radio audience.

"It is a pleasure for me to act as spokesman for these many friends of Mr. Grey. I consider it a privilege to have known him for many years; I have followed his public life, first as a director of Medford public schools, and for the past six years, as a member of the Medford city council. His devotion to the best interests of the people of this city throughout his years of public life has been marked.

"As a school director Joseph O. Grey did much to create harmony and effect economy in the school system of this city. During the more than five and one-half years he has served on the Medford city council, Mr. Grey has established the enviable record of not missing a single regular council session. As chairman of the council's airport committee he personally spent much of his time supervising the construction of this city's airport, considered one of the finest small ports in the west. Mr. Grey has served on many important council committees and merited the approval of city taxpayers through his untiring efforts in behalf of economy and reduced city expenditures.

"The members of the Grey for City Treasurer club feel that Mr. Grey's unselfish work for the city of Medford is deserving of recognition. He has devoted years to public work without one cent of remuneration.

"We feel that Joseph O. Grey's qualifications for the office of city treasurer especially recommend him to the voters of Medford.

"He is a bookkeeper and an accountant of many years' experience and a practical business man. This, together with his wide knowledge of city affairs, would make him a valuable man in the office of treasurer for this city.

"Mr. Grey has been a resident of this city for the past 20 years and, though much of his time has been devoted to public work, this is the first time he has sought election to an office which pays a salary.

"We believe that civic devotion should be rewarded. We know that Mr. Grey's qualifications and ability cannot be questioned. We urge the people of Medford who are seeking an economical, intelligent and efficient administration of the office of city treasurer to vote for Joseph O. Grey next Tuesday. We know that Mr. Grey deserves and will appreciate your support."

The Truth About The Income Tax Bill

No measure ever before the people of Oregon has been more viciously misrepresented, both as to its purpose and its specific provisions than the proposed amendment to the state income tax act on which you are asked to pass judgment next Tuesday.

THE INCOME TAX

Provides a sound, fair and necessary substitute for property taxes;
Would reduce the crushing tax load now resting on real property;
Would produce no additional money for anyone to spend, the law requiring that every dollar collected must be used to retire direct state taxes on property;
Would not impose on the laboring man or the small wage earner as a married man with no children could earn $5 a day every working day in the year and still pay no income tax;
Is based on net incomes, after deducting interest, donations and other taxes paid, and not on the gross income;
Does not require a tax return unless the net annual income exceeds $1000 in the case of single persons or $1500 in the case of married persons.
If you would extend badly needed relief to the over-burdened property owner and spread the tax burden over a broader field and more in accordance with tax-paying ability
