Activities of Legion Auxiliary

By Mrs. Cole Holmes.
Members of the American Legion Auxiliary of Post No. 15 of Medford, Ore., are requested to meet at the Presbyterian church on South Holly street just south of Main street at 4 p. m., Sunday, November 6, 1932, to do honor to our departed comrades. These semi-annual Vesper services are just a little tribute to those who made these United States secure for us to enjoy liberty and freedom.

Our first sewing club will meet in the welfare rooms on the third floor of the Medford National Bank building for the Auxiliary Monday night, November 7, at 7:30 p. m. Every member is urged to come. New members are particularly asked to come and meet with us. In this way you will become better acquainted with the members of the auxiliary. We are going to work on work given us by the Red Cross. By meeting with us you will also be doing your "bit" toward helping the needy of Jackson county.

Don't forget your dues are due. Our Auxiliary wants to get our quota by Armistice Day. If we do this we win a citation. Make yourself a committee of one to see that your dues are in by that time.

The children of the Auxiliary and Legion members are requested to meet at the city park opposite the library at 10:30 a. m., Friday, November 11, 1932. The junior parade will form there. The line of march will be from the city park of Riverside and return. Parents are requested to meet their children at the city park, opposite the library at the disbandment of the junior parade. All children marching in the junior parade will receive a favor at the end of the march. Mrs. Edward Leach and her committee will be at the city park to meet the children at 10:30 a. m. All members wishing to attend the annual Armistice Day luncheon at the Hotel Medford at 12:30 p. m., November 11, will please make reservations with Mrs. K. D. Ross (phone 640 or 1091-Y). All are assured of a good time. The committee in charge are as follows: Mrs. Gladys Watson, Mrs. Louise Bricker and Mrs. William Bolger. Mrs. Louise Bricker is to be toast mistress. The menu is in charge of Mrs. Maude Codding. The rest of the program is to be a "dark secret" so plan to be there with us and enjoy a happy, snappy Armistice Day.

D. A. R. News

According to the latest report of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, 334,399 manuals of the United States were distributed during the year. These little books, published in 18 different languages, contain much information relative to our American government and institutions that is particularly valuable to immigrants, foreigners and new citizens and to students of these subjects. Distributions were effected through hotels, railroads, state industrial schools, county courts, Americanization classes, public libraries, schools, chambers of commerce, etc. This work is a natural line of national defense and is participated in by all D. A. R. chapters.

Last year more than 800 valuable historical papers were received by the D. A. R. national committee for filing and lending papers and the number loaned was greatly increased. Crater Lake chapter submitted six papers to this committee during this period.

The next regular meeting of Crater Lake chapter will celebrate the 13th anniversary of the organization of the chapter. It will be held at Mrs. J. O. Grey's home, 22 Rose avenue, on Saturday, November 19, at 2:00 o'clock.

Mrs. M. J. Norris will speak on "International Relations" and Mrs. B. G. Harding, Mrs. Hinc and Mrs. A. W. Shepherd will be assistant hostesses.

Torch Honor Group Adds New Members

In the Torch honor meeting held at the Senior High school on November 3, it was voted to admit Juanita Wilson, Pauline Rogers, Wallace Lowry, Barbara Holt, Elmira Blake, Ruth Tucker and Dolph-James into the society. These students have maintained a high grade standard during their freshman year and have 24 or more points toward a one-bar pin.

A party is to be held November 18 at the home of E. H. Niedermeyer on the Old Stage Road for initiation of the new members. The committee for entertainment consists of Dorothy Gore, Irene Stubblefield and Erna Niedermeyer. Dorothy Willis, Marjorie Gregory and Arletta Tyrrell are in charge of refreshments.

REHEARSAL TODAY FOR GLEEMEN AS CONCERT NEARING

In preparation for their first public concert appearance, the Medford Gleemen, the community's new male chorus, will hold a special rehearsal at Guild Hall, on North Oakdale, this afternoon at 2:30, according to James Stevens, director of the group. With only two weeks remaining between now and the date scheduled for the concert, November 22, it has been found necessary to call this special meeting to smooth out the work of the ensemble.

The choral program, which will fill a full evening's program, will include between 12 and 15 ensemble numbers, together with solo appearances by James Stevens, baritone, Sebastian Apollo, pianist; and other members of the organization. The organization has been working for the past six months in preparation for their first concert, and have made only one public appearance, at the dedication of the Jackson county court house, where they made a most favorable impression on the audience.

A repertoire ranging from the light, popular numbers to the more difficult classical compositions has been arranged, and music lovers of southern Oregon are assured of a fine evening's entertainment when the chorus presents its concert. It is planned to give two public concerts each year, in the fall and in the spring, with a new program for each appearance.

Officers of the Gleemen urge full attendance of all members at the rehearsal this afternoon, was the appeal made last night by Dr. E. W. Shockley, president of the organization.

Mail Tribune Readers to Get Speedy Reports on Election

George Washington learned he had been elected president of the United States two months after the ballots were cast. The 1932 candidates will know the news in a matter of hours after the polls close—because the Associated Press, of which the Mail Tribune is a member, will compile the results with an army of workers.

Not less than 80,000 persons will participate in informing the voters promptly on what was decided November 8. Most of these will start their work after midnight and continue until the job is finished. Fleet reporters throughout the country will speed the results to county or district centers. Progressive totals next will be forwarded by telephone or telegraph to zone headquarters, from there to a central state bureau.

The results from each state, carefully checked and verified, next are simultaneously telegraphed over leased wires to member newspapers and the Associated Press bureau at Washington, the national tabulating center. At frequent intervals, the electoral and popular vote totals will be provided, to show the trend of the steadily mounting tabulation and the final results.

The election organization in each state also will tabulate the votes for senators, representatives and state officers. The results of congressional elections, because of their importance in the makeup of the new legislative department, are tabulated nationally with the same speed as the presidential returns.

Unusual precautions are exercised throughout the election organization to safeguard against errors creeping into the Associated Press reports. Figures and totals are subjected to careful checks and tests by the staff men experienced in handling election results.

Any possible discrepancy, such as an unusual reversal of party adherence in a precinct or section, is immediately investigated by trained experts. Only when there is no question of its accuracy is the news released.

American newspaper readers will not wait for the formal counting of electoral college ballots in February to learn who will occupy the White House for the next four years.

Member papers of the Associated Press will bring them the news as promptly as humanly possible to obtain it—accurately.

Junior High Plans Frolic at School For November 10

By Bobbie Ivanhoe
Junior high school is giving a frolic Nov. 10. It is being conducted much the same as in previous years. Tickets are sold for five cents. These are good for: Voting for popularity contest, chance at the grand prize, and five cents in trade at the carnival. The contestants in the popularity contest are: 7th grade, Ruth Hedges, Grace Dudley; 8th grade, Grace Turnquist, Bob Hayes; 9th grade, Carol Scheffel, Ben Hostmark.

The returns from the voting is posted every day, and the race has already begun.

The various clubs are sponsoring the program, and concessions. These clubs are: Pep club, Dramatic club, seventh, eighth and ninth grade clubs, roll rooms, Glee clubs, Girls' and Boys' leagues, and the newspaper.

The graduation honor society has charge of the business. The program begins at 7:30 o'clock, and ends at 9. The school promises lots of fun for all, and public is urged to attend.

The complete story of the November 8 election results will reach the Mail Tribune readers promptly and accurately through the nation-wide staff of the Associated Press. Photo shows a group of Associated Press election and markets tabulators in the New York headquarters.

Parent-Teachers Enjoy Successful Conference

The regional conference held at Ashland Thursday and Friday of this week was of great help to the many Parent-Teacher workers, who attended, according to all reports here.

Some of the able speakers addressing the group included John Beakley who spoke on safety. Using a chart he brought home through figures, far better than words, the great necessity of teaching safety.

"County Unit and School Cost" was the subject of a talk given by Fred Peterson, school superintendent of Klamath county. G. A. Briscoe, superintendent, of Ashland gave a fine comprehensive talk on maintaining standards of education. He said that in spite of reduced teaching staff and salaries that the teachers would do their part to maintain these standards.

Miss Louise Cottrell, investigation secretary for the state welfare organization, spoke on the splendid work done by this department. She complimented the Parent-Teacher organization and said that this organization not only considered it a duty, but a privilege to work for the under-privileged child and by securing hot lunches and milk they increase the health of the student and therefore the child becomes a better student and a better citizen. She further stated that there were laws supervising all institutions where children are cared for.

"New Methods in Education of the Handicapped Child" was the subject of a talk given by Miss Louise Basford of Medford. She spoke of the greater efficiency and better educational advantages being given these children in Medford schools, where they are taken to a specially fitted room with a greater economy to the taxpayers. While Medford is pioneering in this work in Oregon, it is attracting attention of leaders in the state, because of the marked success of the plan, she pointed out.

Others who gave talks on subjects of vital interest to the delegates were W. Redford of Southern Oregon Normal and Mrs. D. Peroutz, both of Ashland.

Besides the community singing led by J. Enders of Ashland, other musical numbers enjoyed were solos by Miss Regina Johnson, Merland Tolleson and a quartet of boy's voices from Ashland High.

A special vote of thanks was extended to the Ashland Parent-Teacher council, who, under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. A. Briscoe, graciously entertained the delegates.

ONE WOMAN tells another...

Women are good judges of value. And they're not easily fooled. They know the difference between "cheap" things and a worth while article at a low price.

That's why so many women of this community come here for jewelry, watches and silverware of the finer kind. Their good judgment tells them that they get more for their money.

Drop in yourself some day—then pass the good word along to your friends.

City Treasurer

Mr. Grey, before coming to Medford 20 years ago, was owner of a printing establishment in Chicago. He is a practical business man, an experienced bookkeeper and accountant and well versed in office routine. This ability, together with the fact that he has served on the Medford city council for the past five and one-half years and is thoroughly familiar with city affairs, especially recommends him for the office of city treasurer.

The members of the Grey for City Treasurer Club urge the voters of Medford to examine Mr. Grey's excellent record on the city council during the past five and one-half years and as a director of the Medford Public Schools before becoming a councilman. This record is one of untiring work in behalf of economy.

We feel that Mr. Grey is well qualified and highly deserving of election to the office he is now seeking!
