Ye Smudge Pot. By Arthur Perry. Another day and the GREAT HATE will be over, and the President will no longer be blamed for everything.

It rained Friday, the precipitation being sufficient to cause gloom. Tuesday is election day, as perhaps you have heard. Vote early, and often.

J. Kort Hall is still in Lake county, to keep from voting the Democratic ticket. Peoria Bill Gates alleged Thurs. that he had made a deduction, and exhibited same to Thomas Waterman.

Farmers still come to town and report they have completely recovered from the going by the bull sustained in the spring primary. Dublette Watson was caught on the wrong end of a switch recently, and is silent on the subject.

Post mortems start Wed. after which some bridge playing and plowing will be done. Santa Claus is due Dec. 25, but everybody is saving money but urging the other fellow to spend it.

Jim Bates is once more politically sensible, but hates to admit it. The girls report that the boys have started asking them to go to the movies, and that Dads are letting their kids use the car more freely for social activity.

F. Bybee, the Jville serf, has been exceedingly scarce the past month, which is the cause of him being a successful agriculturist, or nothing but work, when there is work to do. F. even stays between the plow handles the last three months of a campaign, and lets the nation look out for itself, instead of his cows and crops.

Gitzo Shimoda, 8, removed $200 from circulation Tues. When Gitzo gets hold of a dime, friend or foe never see it again. Everybody trying to imitate him is one cause of the stagnation.

Dock Keene and E. M. Wilson are still running for mayor in a dignified manner, and they have been so since that many wish they could vote for both. Not a single fund of the city has been looked by the gang during the campaign.

Many who have not voted for 30 years will vote Tues. If they don't forget or have something more important to do. Ed Kelly, Port Neff and F. DeSousa have been doing yeoman service for the party of their allegiance.

The race for constable and other posts overshadowed the OSG-UOFO football game yesterday. The womenfolk say they will be glad when everybody quits "playing politics." The trouble has been that, instead of playing politics, everybody worked at it.

Several optimists around here think the world will roll on just the same, if nobody is elected. Halloween passed without any great amount of meanness on the part of the sprites, as they indulged in their innocent pranks.

Newport Construction Co. submitted more than 200 bids for new 400 bed bid of $50,563 for oil surfacing about 11 miles of Canyon City-Burns route, extending from Burns south.

The Last Word—Almost

YES, the campaign is about over. Franklin Roosevelt's plea for being placed in the White House in place of President Hoover, reduced to simple terms, is this: "President Hoover has made a failure of the job, I will make a success of it!" That's an easy thing to say. It is the plea of every man who wants another man's job.

But let's look into it a moment. HAS PRESIDENT HOOVER MADE A FAILURE OF ADMINISTERING THE AFFAIRS OF THIS COUNTRY, DURING THIS WORLD-WIDE ECONOMIC CATAclysm? Let's come down to cases, not somewhere else, BUT RIGHT HERE IN THE VALLEY.

NO ONE denies President Hoover was personally responsible for the Reconstruction Finance corporation. What does that mean to Southern Oregon? We believe our information is correct when we say, it means that approximately $200,000—perhaps more,—will be available in this part of the state, to give financial relief to farmers and ranchers, without involving material loss to the government,—not next year or the year after, but THIS YEAR.

PRESIDENT HOOVER has also been responsible for the home loan measure, which will be in operation, here in Jackson County, and throughout the state,—as soon as a state enabling act is passed, and may even be available before, under ITS EMERGENCY PROVISIONS.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be available in this state, and Southern Oregon will get its proportion. The important feature of this bill, which was retained in spite of the opposition of the big banks and insurance companies, is this:

It virtually FORCES this cash to be distributed, NOT for the benefit of banks, insurance companies, or building and loan associations, but for the BENEFIT OF THE INDIVIDUAL HOME OWNER,—if these big companies WON'T do the job, then the people are urged to form companies of their own, and do it for themselves.

What does this mean? It means that for every local home owner who can't meet his mortgage, and is in danger of losing his home, every local home owner who wants a new loan and can't get it; and every local home owner who wants to make repairs on his home, or enlarge it but has been unable to do so, is going to be helped if President Hoover is retained and allowed to do what he wants to do.

Is that making a failure of running this government, during the greatest depression in all history? Had Franklin Roosevelt been in the White House would he have done any better? Would he have done as well? What WILL he do about these two measures, about the protective tariff, about a multitude of important economic and industrial problems,—will he junk the Hoover program and replace it with a program of his own?

In view of the fact he brands his opponent a failure, he must consider his program a failure, so isn't it fair to assume he WILL NOT continue the policies of one or the provisions of the other? Do you want that? Think it over. If a man comes to you for a job and says "Kick the man you have out and put me in his place—he's no good, I am a wonder."

Do you take his word for it? No, you look him over, you size him up, you go back into his record. Then you look the man you HAVE over, you carefully consider under what conditions he has worked, whether all in all he has been satisfactory or hasn't been.

Why not use as much thought and discretion in selecting your President as in selecting your office boy or your hired man? And then for good measure read what former President Coolidge had to say the other day to the people of this country: "If initiating proposals and securing their adoption constitute leadership President Hoover is a leader. If saving the country from one impending disaster after another provides any basis for gratitude President Hoover is entitled to gratitude. I present my opinion of him to my fellow countrymen for such consideration as they may believe it merits. The more this campaign has progressed, the more I am convinced that the public welfare requires that he should be re-elected."

That's all. The campaign is over. It's now up to you—and YOU ONLY—Mr. and Mrs. Voter.

Does the Tariff Mean Anything To Jackson County?

WITH the campaign practically over, one thing is certain,—the Republican party stands for the protective tariff, the Democratic party opposes it.

Certainly those who believe in a protective tariff, those who believe that with the depreciation of foreign currencies, and consequent lowering of foreign production costs, such a tariff is more vital to the material welfare of this country than ever before, would be foolish to trust the fate of such protection to a party traditionally opposed to it, under a leader, who has been on both sides of this question, at least ten times, during a few months' campaign.

THE tariff is a dry and complicated subject. Few voters in Jackson County, think that it has any vitality here in Southern Oregon. What difference does it make anyway? "BUT IT DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE. A very real and practical difference. A difference in our payrolls, and prosperity,—a difference in dollars and cents."

TAKE the Owen-Oregon company merely as ONE example. Thanks to the present $4 tariff applied on Canadian lumber, this company was able to resume operations,—under a reduced force it is true,—but it was able to resume. Work is being supplied to nearly 200 men, which means a weekly payroll check for approximately 200 families—or sustenance for six or eight hundred people. Without this protection, undoubtedly this local mill would have to close down. ISN'T THAT SOMETHING? Under present conditions, does anyone in Southern Oregon wish to vote AGAINST such a payroll? Yet voting for a party that is opposed to that pro-

THE GREAT GALLSTONE CURE HOAX.

In an earlier talk we explained how the ejection of the digesting food (chyme) from the stomach into the duodenum brings about a spurt of bile from the gall-bladder and bile-passages into the duodenum, where it mixes with the chyme and aids the further digestion of food particularly and promotes the onward propulsion of the digesting food mass. We further explained that fat in the diet produce more active ejection of bile or "drainage" of the gall-bladder and bile passages than other food materials, and accordingly certain foods are especially beneficial where "non-surgical biliary drainage" seems desirable. These foods are yolk of egg, cream, brains, animal fats, butter, olive oil or other palatable oils.

But it happens that the foods mentioned are rich in a fat-like substance called cholesterol or cholesterin which enters into the formation or composition of most gall-stones, and for this reason some physicians believe it might be well to restrict or exclude these foods from the diet of a patient who has some low-grade chronic gall-bladder trouble but, as yet, no signs of actual gallstone formation.

Besides the fats mentioned, these items contain considerable cholesterol: liver, peas, beans, wheat. Speaking of olive oil or other edible vegetable oils, I am reminded of the great gallstone cure hoax. Haven't had many inquiries about it lately, but prior to the exposure of some humbug's "wonderful stomach remedy" I received inquiries about one or another of the fake gallstone remedies of that class daily.

When a healthy person takes a large amount of any animal or vegetable fat or oil, in the process of digestion the oil is converted into a kind of soap, particularly to combine with the food. In an excess of it is produced, forms in lumps. Of course the soap is laxative. So there you have the complete explanation of the way in which a huge dose of peanut oil, cotton seed oil or olive oil, of course impressively colored and flavored, acts on "gallstones," whether the Simple Simon has gallstones in fact or in fact or not. Especially if the enormous dose of the "wonderful stomach remedy" or "gallstone solvent" is followed by some disguised alkali in the form of a Seltitz powder or similar concoction. It is funny, if you can ignore the tragic side, but this hoax has been worked on the gullible citizens of this free country for many years, thanks to the fake testimonials of non-existent "ministers," "nurses" and even "doctors" which the nostrum mongers conjured up to promote the sale of the fake.

Entertaining was Barnum's watchword and he found the people like wood and he humbugged. Service is the watchword of big business today — Give the people what they want. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Spraying Enamel. Manufacturing a small article in basement of our home. Son sprays enamel with electric spraying machine. (R. A.) Answer—The shop or room where such spraying is done should be equipped with mechanical fan or exhaust ventilator to carry the harmful spray or vapor out of the room. Caesarian Section. Should scar from Caesarian operation stick in? What does it grow to? Would the operation prevent me from having another baby? (Mrs. E.) Answer—The scar may adhere to the uterus. A second such delivery is simpler than the first. Many women have borne two or more children by Caesarian section. They sort of get it habit. Iodin. Taking your iodine ration. When I bought the tincture of Iodine the druggist asked which tincture I wanted, the 5 per cent or the 2 1/2 per cent, of course I didn't know. Which should it be? (Saskatoon.) Answer—The 5 per cent tincture. My mistake—I should have mentioned that the tincture of Iodine of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia is not the same strength as that of the British Pharmacopoeia. (Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

tection, and voting against President Hoover, who is responsible for it, means just that. WHAT has this same protection done for this state, where as everyone knows the lumber industry is the very corner stone of state prosperity? We take our figures not from a Republican newspaper, but from a paper bitterly opposing President Hoover, the Medford Daily News of October 20, 1932:

"Influenced by the recent tariff applied against Canadian lumber, Canadian exports to this country in September, 1932, were 50,000,000 less than in September, 1931.—In three months since the tariff became effective, shipments from Canada aggregated 30,199,000 feet, as compared to 170,554,000 during the same period a year ago.—That elimination from the U. S. market is equivalent to a gain of 240,000 DAYS' LABOR in American logging camps and mills during the period."

From such a source that statement can hardly be dismissed as merely Republican propaganda. It isn't propaganda. It is the truth—a matter of record, a matter of vital, non-partisan fact finding.

"TWO HUNDRED AND FORTY THOUSAND days of gainful labor!" Isn't that SOMETHING, in this dark hour of unemployment and economic stagnation? DOESN'T that mean something, not only to the Pacific Northwest, but to every citizen of Medford and Jackson County? Wouldn't the removal or the reduction of that tariff protection, make conditions HERE, worse instead of better?

Think it over Mr. Voter, think it over Mr. Business Man, think it over Mr. Worker, before you enter the ballot box, and take a life-sized swat at the party and the party leader, responsible for it. "We get just what we vote for." If we vote against the party that has given us a payroll, we have no one but ourselves to blame, if we lose that payroll.

A Correction

PERSONAL INCOME TAX LAW AMENDMENT BILL.—Purpose: To further reduce property taxes by advancing the tax rate on net personal income in excess of $5,000.00 from 5 to a minimum of 8 per cent; substituting an exemption from the total tax of $10.00 for a single person, $20.00 for a married person, head of a family, or husband and wife, and $4.00 for each dependent, instead of the present income exemptions of $1,500.00, $2,500.00 and $400.00, respectively; and amending the provisions of the law so as to apply the entire income of residents from personal service.

IN OUR recommendations to voters on the ballot measures we interpreted the above to mean that exemptions were to be reduced from $1500, $2500 and $400 to $10, $20 and $4,—which we declared were too drastic and one of our reasons for opposing an increase in the present income tax.

Since then our attention has been called to the fact that these $10, $20 and $4 items are not exemptions on incomes, but really deductions from the total tax. In fairness to the proponents of the measure we are glad to make this correction. The exemptions instead of being reduced from $1500, $2500 and $400, to $10, $20 and $4, would be reduced from $1500, $2500 and $400 to approximately $1000, for a single person; $1500 for a married person, and between $250 and $300 for a dependent.

This, we admit, makes the bill much less objectionable, than we supposed it to be, but it does not entirely remove our objections to such a drastic increase in the state income tax at the present time.

PORTLAND—29 new bridges, culverts and trestles and improvement of 117 miles of state highways, involving expenditure of about $1,000,000, included in program to be up for consideration of state highway commission at meeting here November 2.

EARL DAY SHOULD BE RETURNED TO THE LEGISLATURE

E. B. Day, who is one of the two nominees for representative on the Republican ticket, is a farmer, stock-raiser, and orchardist living in Sams valley. His financial interest in these industries which form the real basic wealth of Jackson county, and his intimate knowledge of the difficulties under which these industries are laboring at the present time make him keenly alive to any opportunity to better the condition of the farmers, dairy men and orchardists of this district. His standing in the last session of the legislature was very high. His important committee assignments, especially on taxation and agriculture, put him in a position to be of great service to this district. As a result of the tax committee's efforts on tax reforms it was possible this year to eliminate entirely any tax on real property for state purposes. Mr. Day's re-election will insure to the people of Jackson county efficient and aggressive representation in the next session of the state legislature.

C. C. Chapman, in the Oregon Voter says: "A lean, wiry legislator who persists till he gets his work done, such as Earl B. Day, Sams valley rancher, who is running for re-election as Jackson county representative. Day was chairman of the reapportionment committee and produced a measure that was non-political while retaining a balanced representation to the counties outside of Multnomah. It was the first time in Oregon's legislative history that a non-political reapportionment was enacted, and Day's painstaking effort is what put it through."

"He got this result along with legislation sought by his county. His other important committee assignments, notably on taxation and agriculture put him in a position to be of real service to his county and state. The records prove his efficiency. Taciturn in negotiation, but firmly insistent; won the respect of his colleagues and at the end of the

WILSON PLEDGED TO ENFORCEMENT CITY'S MILK LAW

In view of the fact that this city's milk ordinance has been often mentioned in connection with the present campaign for mayor of Medford, the committee handling the campaign for E. M. Wilson feels that pertinent facts relative to this important ordinance should be made public. Mr. Wilson, according to his supporters, is the only candidate for the office of mayor who has pledged himself to the strict enforcement of the milk ordinance. Those who favor the present ordinance insist that the expense of its maintenance is borne by the distributors and no part of its cost of supervision is passed on to the taxpayer and consumer. It is also emphasized that the ordinance does not prohibit any type of milk being delivered and sold within the city limits, but it does compel the producers and distributors to label it strictly in accordance with its particular grade, thereby creating no monopoly. In other words, the milk ordinance advocates maintain that milk is sold under its true banner and the consumer enjoys the protection he has a right to expect.

The Medford milk ordinance safeguards milk under a nation-wide recognized standard milk ordinance as sponsored by the United States public health service. For eight years this method of regulating milk has met with such favor that 28 states and over 500 municipalities, eight of them being in Oregon, have adopted this ordinance. None has ever revoked it, according to records.

Those who are advancing the reelection of Mayor Wilson upon his firm stand on milk regulation insist that pure health is equally as essential to this community as pure water. The city has expended a million dollars to assure a pure water supply and it would be folly to discard the present high important ordinance and the health-protection it affords, in their opinion.

1931 session was looked to as a committee and floor leader of notable ability."

Flight 'o Time

(Medford and Jackson County) History from the Files of The Mail Tribune of 29 and 10 Year Ago.)

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY. November 6, 1922. (It was Saturday) Mayor Gates "calls" Ben Lindas on John Carlin's charge, and voters are asked to "pick between a politician and a barrister."

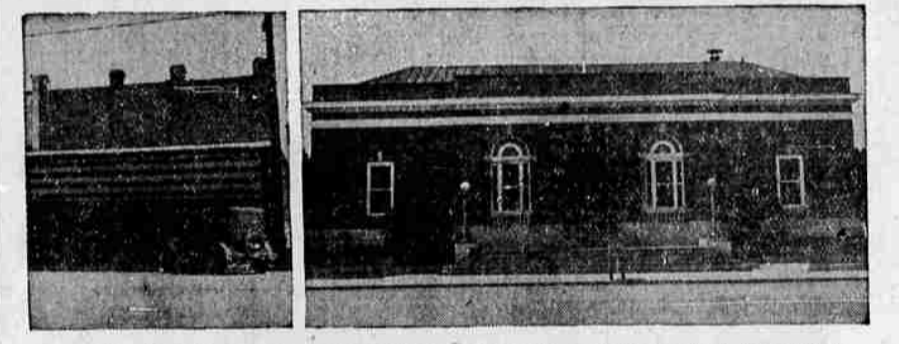

"Thank the Lord, the campaign ends," exclaims the editor in an editorial, that sounds like he meant it. The University of Oregon football team will play five games in seven weeks, and "is breathing confidence."

Larry Schade on trip to Squaw Lake gets poison oak, and his "amile countenance is slightly roughened." October was cold and cloudy with 1.48 inches of rain. Orders issued that intoxicated men must tell where they got their booze, if arrested.

Portland dispatch says that every "candidate in state election, stands for strict enforcement of prohibition laws." Betting lively that Walter M. Pierce will carry Jackson county in race for governor.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY. November 6, 1912. (It was Wednesday) Woodrow Wilson wins presidency. Business assured they need have no fears of unfavorable legislation. Stock market wobbly. Medford goes for Wilson by plurality of 101 votes. E. E. Kelly is elected prosecutor, and Col. Tou Velle wins county judgeship by 500 majority.

County votes for woman's suffrage by majority of 500. "The Farmer's Wife's Special" at the Ugo theater, with several vaudeville acts. Petitions circulated protesting proposed construction of highway to Crater lake park. Lady autists resume reckless speeding on Main street. Two well known ladies stage race on leading street at high noon. Citizens aroused.

John Nance Garner, Democratic candidate for re-election as the Congressman from Uvalde, Texas, is fairly sure that job even if he loses as Democratic candidate for Vice-President of the United States. The folks at Uvalde are proud of their Congressman because he certainly gave them a wonderful post office for a town of 5,600. Mr. Garner has proved probably the most successful of all "pork barrel" Treasury raiders. Above is shown the old Uvalde post office and the new one—which Garner admits is many times too big for the needs of Uvalde.

Dependable Insurance Is The Only Kind Worth Having. When insuring your property make certain that you are assured of fair and speedy settlement of claims. Losing your property is tragedy enough without having to worry about settlements. The dependable fire, casualty and automobile companies we represent, have gained the reputation of settling claims promptly. It's a big help to get prompt action when in urgent need of money. But in order to do this, the companies must have prompt payment of premiums in accordance with their rule of either cash or forty-five days from date of policy. We do not have mutual, reciprocal or cut-rate companies. I am recuperating from injuries sustained in an automobile accident and have been instructed by my physician to rest and stay completely away from work for at least another month. Mrs. Gertrude Fredenburg Greb, who has had seven years' experience in accounting and insurance, Mrs. Mabel Showers and my brother L. A. Wakefield will have charge of the office during my absence. Also F. J. Newman and Geo. Nelson, Attorneys, will represent my agency. I have been serving friends and clients here for the past twenty-four years and have always been glad to extend time on payments, but at this time I am very much in need of some settlement of your accounts and your prompt attention to same will surely be appreciated. Very truly yours, J. W. Wakefield Agency. (Gertrude Fredenburg Greb in charge during my absence.)
