Egans, Johnstons Entertain Friends At River Places

With Indian summer still giving a pleasing warmth to the noonday air and leaves, flaunting a galaxy of autumnal colors while they cling to the bough, river lodges and the great outdoors continue to demand much attention of southern Oregon folk, vying during the past week with election news and Armistice festivities for honors.

Today, Mr. and Mrs. H. Chandler Egan will entertain a number of friends at their river place and the T. Slater Johnstons have invited the following guests to their lodge: Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Emmens, Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Edgell and Mrs. Alice Holloway.

Mrs. Egan is also entertaining tomorrow, having invited the bridge club to her home. Among the guests will be Mrs. E. H. Lloyd of London, England, and Mrs. O. W. Sumner of Honolulu, house guests of Mrs. Jack Morrill, who plan to leave Friday for San Francisco. Others present will be Mrs. G. M. Roberts, Mrs. L. A. Salade, Jr., Mrs. Gain Robinson, Mrs. J. J. Emmens, Mrs. Jack Morrill and Mrs. W. F. Biddle, Jr.

A. P. Johnsen and Mr. McMahon, Hosts At Saturday Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Johnsen and Harry McMahon were hosts last evening at a very clever party for 90 friends at the Johnsen country home, west of the city.

Dancing and cards, enjoyed during the early hours of the evening, were divided by music and other special features. There were Ping Pong and numerous other contests arranged for entertainment of the guests and the evening completed with midnight supper.

Cabaret Setting Adds Gaiety to Armistice Party

One of the gayest parties to grace the Armistice holiday was that given Friday evening by Mrs. C. T. Baker and Mrs. A. E. Orr, at the Orr home, which was converted into a Parisian cabaret for the affair. Dinner was served cabaret style and the guests entertained between courses by "Mademoiselle from Paris and her three beauties," also by several local artists.

Red, white and blue decorations, in keeping with the holiday were much in evidence and places arranged at dinner for 55 guests. The list included Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Reed, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Johnsen, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bolger, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Alenderer, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Quisenberry, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. Chal Strange, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Lageson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Orr, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Schade, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Solinsky, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hauk and Mr. and Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Orr.

Vilas Home, Scene Of Holiday Dinner

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Vilas was among the gathering places of society folk Armistice evening. A group of their friends met with them for a community dinner. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fisher, Mrs. Corbin Natwick, and Messrs. Tom Swen and Harry McMahon.

Greens Hosts At Dinner on Friday

Two Weddings on October Calendar Of Local Society

The month of October has been a popular one with Medford brides, two weddings of social interest being solemnized during the past week.

Thursday evening at the St. Mark's church, Episcopal, Miss Mary E. Hebb, daughter of Mrs. J. H. White of this city, and Harold H. Brown, were married. Father Wm. B. Hamilton read the service. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. T. Slater Johnston. Following the wedding they left for a trip north after which they will be at home to their friends in this city, where Mr. Brown is manager of the First Insurance Agency.

The morning of the same day at 9 o'clock service Miss Elizabeth Young and Dr. Robt. W. Stearns were married at the bride's home, 308 North Ivy, Rev. Wm. J. Howell of the First Presbyterian church officiating. The Misses Helen and Katherine Stearns and Patricia Young were the only guests at the service. Following the wedding breakfast, Dr. and Mrs. Stearns left for the north and will return to their Medford home, 835 East Main street, the last of the week.

Gleemen Sing in Formal Concert Tuesday, Nov. 22

Medford's largest singing organization, the Gleemen's male chorus, is practicing intensively in preparation for the formal concert to be given the evening of Nov. 22nd. This promises to be a musical treat as the program embraces a wide variety of numbers and the singers are bending every effort to bring each selection to the point of perfection.

Their first appearance when they sang at the dedication of the courthouse was a delightful surprise to the large audience, but this concert toward which they are working will far surpass anything of its character ever done before in Medford. The direction of the ensemble is in the capable hands of James Stevens and the accompanist is Sebastian Apollo, well known concert pianist. Arrangements are under way to secure the use of the High School auditorium for the occasion and it is expected that the attendance will tax its full seating capacity.

Altar Guild Names Committee Groups

Bi-monthly committees were appointed Monday evening at the meeting of St. Mark's Altar Guild, which met at the home of Mrs. F. Wilson Wait.

They are as follows: November-December, Mrs. Fletcher Fish, Mrs. Aletha Vawter and Miss Helen Winter; January-February, Mrs. John Moffatt, Mrs. Emerson Merrick and Mrs. Wilson Wait; March-April, Miss Frances Kenney, Mrs. Karl Jaouneh and Miss Marjorie Kelly; May-June, Mrs. Royal E. Many Attend Guild Party Wednesday In Floral Setting

Ferns and palms blended with large chrysanthemums nodding from baskets about the hall, formed the decorations for the large party given Wednesday by St. Mark's Guild. Tea tables were also pleasingly attired with bowls of yellow and lavender flowers to complete the scheme.

There were 10 tables of cards in play, both auction and contract bridge, and prizes awarded Mrs. Chas. R. Gail and Mrs. Olen Arnspiger. Mrs. Arthur Bevan, and Mrs. Chas. Ellis poured at the tea table.

The success of the affair was made possible by Mrs. Ellis, chairman, and her committee, composed of Mesdames Bevan, Ammons, Bid Moore, Fitch and Woodcock.

Mrs. Salade Pens Educational Story

The article carried in the Friday edition of the Mail Tribune, concerning the educational program to be broadcast over KMED this morning at eleven o'clock, was not written by Mrs. I. E. Schuler as the story showed, but by Mrs. L. A. Salade, Jr. The by-line appeared on the article thru a misunderstanding.

Guild Sews for December Bazaar
At the meeting of St. Mark's Guild held Friday at the Guild hall, the members devoted much time to sewing for the bazaar, which will be held December 7. A short business session was also held and plans made for the parish dinner, set for Thursday, November 17, at Guild hall.

Hansens Entertain At Event Feting Mr. and Mrs. Darby

Mrs. Harry C. Hansen was hostess last evening at a charming party, feting Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Darby on the anniversary of their marriage. There were three tables of bridge in play during the evening and bouquet tattles and bridge scores used to add a festive note to the games.

A telegram announced the honor guests of the occasion and a clever book, portraying the history of their romance, from the "day they met" added much humor.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Darby, Mr. and Mrs. James Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Murray, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. Hansen.

Dixie Club Has Pleasant Session At Murray Home

The regular monthly meeting of the Dixie club was held November 5, at the home of Mrs. C. C. Murray. Mrs. Murray, Mrs. D'Albini and Mrs. Dech acted as hostesses.

There was a good attendance and the afternoon was spent sewing for the Red Cross.

Miss Constance Moore gave two lovely piano selections; current events were discussed; then followed the distribution of sample ballots and the marking of them. As the membership of the club is composed of those reared in the South or descendants of ancestors from south of the Mason Dixon Line, the election went strongly Democratic.

Daughters Nile Have Luncheon Here Saturday

Yellow chrysanthemums and smylax formed the decorations yesterday for the attractive luncheon table at the Hotel Medford, where 28 members of the Nile, gathered. The decorating was done by Mrs. Marie Schoepen.

Following the luncheon the members continued to the Masonic hall for the business session, which was attended by more than 50 members of the temple.

Butlers Hosts at Midnight Supper

Among the many affairs in celebration of Armistice day in local society was the supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Butler following the grand ball at the Oriental Gardens. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Henselman, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reames, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Bunch and Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Humphreys.

Club Women Still Want Suite Chairs

Club women of the community are still endeavoring to obtain chairs for the new rooms, being furnished in the city hall for use of all club groups. An opportunity to purchase at less than wholesale price an adequate number of metal folding chairs, has come to them. Mrs. A. J. Hanby stated yesterday.

Anyone wishing to aid the project by donating the price of a chair is urged to call Mrs. Edwina Weishaar, president of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Medford is the only city of its size on the coast, the club women pointed out, which does not have a women's club center. When the suite in the city hall is equipped this need will be answered.
