

TARIFF AND WAR DEBTS STRANGLE TRADE - LAMONT

business has been continued by a 14 year economic war on a world-wide front.

The "slit" of some Americans that our troubles were due to the panic in foreign countries, he said, was hard to sustain, since "Europe's crisis in the spring of 1931 came 18 months after the American collapse of October, 1929."

War Debts Impossible "Others," he continued, "have found still a different scapegoat. It is congress, and behind congress the American people, which for years has insisted upon the foreign governments paying us the perfectly just—perfectly just, I say—but impossible war debts."

"We have held to the idea that these great overseas payments, representing in general nothing except exploded shot and shell, shall be paid every year—a quarter of a billion dollars each year—an unnatural stream of payments, choking the channels of trade.

"Incidentally, it was perfectly reasonable that the allied powers should expect and demand that Germany should pay sufficient to repair the physical damage wrought by her armies in Belgium and northern France. But the bill has not been paid in full, nor can it ever be paid.

Strikes Cheer Note "Similarly, people are asking: Will it ever be possible for the unwieldy war debts—undertaken no doubt with reasonable expectation on both sides that they would be discharged—to be paid in full at Washington?"

Mr. Lamont held that the remedy for present economic conditions was in rebuilding the capitalist system and in seeking economic as well as political peace, not in changing to socialism or communism.

He struck a note of cheer in declaring that things are beginning to "straighten themselves out."

"The deflation of commodities seems almost at an end," he said. "Hard work begins to fill up the gaps. The fingers of a new dawn stretch their tips above the horizon. There are signs of betterment decidedly more tangible than mere hope."

BUDGET DRAFTERS WAIT TAX ACTION

Final action on the Jackson county budget for 1932, will be taken by the budget committee, Ben E. Harder, chairman, as soon as definite word has been received, as to what tax steps will be taken by the state tax agencies. Governor Meier has called a meeting of state tax agencies and authorities for today to wrestle with the problem.

SCHISLER SQUAD IN NEW YORK FOR FORDHAM BATTLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Head Football Coach Paul Schisler and 31 members of his Oregon State team arrived here today to play Fordham Saturday with high hopes of repeating their surprise 25 to 13 victory over another New York city team four years ago.

The Grangemans came to New York little heralded in 1928 and proceeded to dust off powerful New York university, one of the best teams in the east that year, by the 25-13 score. Schisler smilingly asserted today he had "just about about as strong a team" as four years ago.

Portland Butter TAKES HIGH JUMP

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Advance of 2c in all grades of cube butter with the exception of firsts, which was up 1 1/2c on the Portland produce exchange for the last session, indicated more severe weather conditions than anything else. Greatly decreased supplies from outside points have been shown in the local trade recently but centralized production has held its own quite well.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
