

The Red Cross Needs You! YOU Need the RED CROSS!

ON this our twelfth anniversary we salute the American Red Cross, the world's greatest peace time organization.

TO the thousands of American women who so generously devote themselves to the alleviation of human distress, — women whose only reward is the personal satisfaction that comes from a deed well done—to these we pay humble tribute.

WE deem it a distinct honor to be associated with this mighty army of good samaritans in their endless war against human suffering.
