

6 SLAIN, 11 HURT BY MAD FILIPINO AMUCK WITH BULO

'Felt Funny in Head' After Holdup by Negroes — Enraged Man Leaves Trail of Slaughter in Seattle

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—(AP)—An explanation for the ghastly slaying of six men and wounding of 11 others with a knife came from the lips of Julian Marcelino, Filipino laborer, authorities said today, with his confession that he had "felt funny in the head."

Overpowered at the end of a trail in which he had left bodies of his dying and wounded victims in an area of several square blocks yesterday afternoon, before he was captured, the 30-year-old maddened man lapsed into a stullen silence, when jailed.

Finally, in the presence of police officers and coroner's deputies shortly after midnight, they said, he burst out in an attempt to explain his murderous deeds, crime which had claimed a greater toll of life than any public catastrophe here in many years.

"I was held up Wednesday night by three colored men," they quoted him as saying, "and I lost $200. Afterwards I went to the Midway hotel and stayed with Pito Guaito. "I got up at 9:30 a. m. yesterday morning and went up to the hospital to visit my cousin and when I returned to the hotel $100 I had hidden in a sack was missing."

He questioned his companion, Guaito, the confession said, but was told that Guaito didn't know where the money was.

"I then felt different to the way I usually feel. I felt funny in the head. I stabbed Pito. He was lying on the bed. I went over and hit him once."

Continuing his account of the trail of slaughter which that killing began, he related briefly his deeds until he thought he "stabbed a negro."

"But I didn't remember anything else," he added. "I feel better now."

Meanwhile, at the city hospital, physicians held out some hope for the life of Antonio Schuler, 73, who had been stabbed the most seriously of the 11 who were wounded and not killed. At the city morgue, on the other hand, lay the bodies of two elderly white men and four Filipinos, victims of the killer's rage.

The dead were: W. J. Morris, 60, a grocery store proprietor.

Frank Johnson, 65, a bystander. Pito Guaito, Filipino, 50. Bernardino Bonita, Filipino, 25. Jimmy Gintez, Filipino, 43. William Tanador, Filipino, 28.

Meanwhile, 11 others, one a Japanese woman, were in hospitals with stabbing wounds in their chests and shoulders, slashed by the two seven-inch knives which the crazed man had fashioned from a Filipino bolo and used in his murderous course.

Among them were Hans Sjogren, 50, stabbed in the shoulder. Tom Takoff, 47, with wounds in his chest and Taji Mace, 36, a Japanese woman with shoulder wounds.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING RITE ENJOYED BY MANY

Thanksgiving service held at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Medford, yesterday was well attended. The service opened with the singing of hymn 337, "Too Thee, Our Loving Father, God, a Glad Song Begin."

The first reader then read the president's Thanksgiving proclamation and a scriptural selection taken from Psalms 107-108.

The congregation was then requested to join in a few moments of silent devotion, followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation as given in the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with the Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Hymn 342, "This is the Day the Lord Hath Made," followed.

The subject of the lesson sermon was "Thanksgiving," the Golden Text being from Psalms 69:30, "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving."

One of the correlative passages contained in the lesson sermon was from the 108th Psalm: "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it."

Following a solo entitled "Blessing" by Pearl G. Curran, brief testimonies expressing gratitude for fruits of healing, progress, and regeneration as the result of the application of Christian Science were given by members of the congregation.

The closing hymn was 374, "We Thank Thee and We Bless Thee," after which the first reader read the Scientific Statement of Being from the Christian Science text book and the correlative scripture according to I John, 3:1-3. The benediction from I Chronicles, 29:18 concluded the service.

FINAL APPEAL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO RED CROSS FUND

In the annual Red Cross roll call drive, which is nearing an end today, the solicitors have been unable to contact all persons and issued the request today that all with something to give, who have not been approached, leave the contribution at Red Cross headquarters in the Jackson county court house.

The demand for funds is constantly increasing and the response in Medford and outlying communities has not been as great as anticipated. Reports from Central Point, however, show that that town has increased its membership this year and given more than previously, realizing that the need is greater.

Leaders of the drive hope that today's solicitation will bring Jackson county over the top again, maintaining her good reputation and insuring funds for the relief work, which must be done during the coming season.

The Red Cross headquarters are located on the first floor of the county court house and there will be someone in the office throughout the day to receive donations.

LABORATORY TESTS CHECK EFFICACY OF KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Show Why This Delicious Cereal Overcomes Common Constipation

There are scientific reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN in preventing and relieving common constipation. Laboratory investigations show that it supplies "bulk" to excite the intestines; and vitamin B to promote appetite, and help tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements aid regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming! Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CHINESE VILLAGERS MASSACRED BY JAP SOLDIERS, REPORT

SHANGHAI, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Japanese troops were accused in a Chinese foreign office communique today of the massacre of 2706 Chinese villagers in northern Manchuria recently.

The document said a Japanese detachment ordered the inhabitants of the villages of Ping Ting-San, Chien Ehin-Pae and Litsekou, near Pushun, to assemble in a ditch outside Ping Ting-San.

The mass killing followed, the troops using machine guns to mow down the mass of screaming villagers, the communique said, adding that Japanese nationals were given the land the villagers had owned.

The announcement said the villagers were taken to the ditch with the explanation that they were suspected of harboring and co-operating with volunteer Chinese troops and said the Japanese promised a reward if the suspects were found innocent, then sent troops into the towns to investigate.

At the same time, the communique asserted, ten or more machine guns were placed in shooting position 70 yards from the ditch.

At that point, said the document, the Chinese, suspecting something besides an investigation, broke ranks and some started to run, and the machine guns opened fire.

It added that 160 escaped with slight wounds, that 60 or 70 died trying to flee, "while infants, children and others not killed by bullets, were bayoneted."

The Chinese statement said Japanese soldiers piled the corpses in a huge heap, covered them with oil soaked fuel, and burned the bodies to ashes.

The Japanese were charged with then allotting the farms of the villagers to Japanese.
