Southern Oregon All-Conference Team for 1932.

First Team—E. McGuire, G. P. Thompson, G. P. T. Shaw, M. Yaryan, Ash. G. Giovannini, K. F. Bradley, K. F. C. Selloff, K. F. Glem, M. G. Minear, M. Sigford, K. F. Knight, K. F. Propst, K. F. Lindley, M. G. Glinnsky, M. G. McAninch, K. F. Neely, G. P. H. Schell, Ash. Taber, K. F. Strack, G. P. Fichtner, M. G. Strack, G. P. Honorable Mention.

Medford: Greaves, tackle; White, quarter; Hammock, center. Grants Pass: Cook, end; Palmer, center. Klamath Falls: Allen, end; Maxwell, guard; Hamaker, half. Ashland: Wallin, half; Newhouse, guard; Sneed, tackle.

(These teams represent the recommendations made by Joe Pigney, sports editor of the Klamath Evening Herald; Bob Peck, sports writer of the Grants Pass Courier; Regina Johnson, editor of the Ashland Tidings; and Arthur Schoen, of this city.) Medford high school's fighting football eleven, which lost the state gridiron championship to Jefferson high in Portland Thanksgiving, placed four men on the southern Oregon all-conference first team for 1932.

Selections were made by the sports writers of the Klamath, Grants Pass, and Medford newspapers. Although Klamath Falls lost to the Tigers and Grants Pass, four of Les Avritt's players were picked by the sport scribes for first team honors. Grants Pass was awarded two positions and Ashland, which lost all conference games, one.

Piloting the all-conference team is Glinnsky, Medford's elusive and speedy little ball carrier, who sparked all year on his long end runs and punt returns. A real triple-threat, Glinnsky was king pin of Medford's ground attack. Although no signal caller, he outshines McAninch, Klamath's quarter, in all other departments. Neely of Grants Pass and Taber, Klamath Falls fullback, were voted halfback posts on the all-star eleven. When the Cavemen lost a heart-breaking 7-6 game to Medford Neely was Grants Pass' chief ground gainer. He is big and as hard a line-plunger as Taber.

The Klamath man played in hard luck against Medford a year ago, fumbling on Medford's one-foot line and giving Medford a 6-0 victory and this year again fumbling on Medford's goal. Against other conference teams he was Klamath's greatest plunging back.

Clyde Fichtner, Medford's 170-pound fullback, won unanimous choice for first team honors. The leading conference scorer last year, he scored 71 points this fall, five points ahead of the spectacular Glinnsky.

Ends selected were Ed Bennett of Medford and Lynn Propst of Klamath Falls. Bennett scored 24 points this fall and was a brilliant defensive end, shading his teammate, Lindley, in this department. Lindley was a better pass receiver, being Medford's chief threat in the aerial game. Schell to Lindley was the conference's most feared ground-gaining combination. Propst, Klamath left end, blocks and tackles well and was a good man running down punts. He also can snare passes. Thompson of Grants Pass and Sigford of Klamath were awarded tackle berths. Both are big men, Thompson being six feet three, with power enough to trouble enemy interference runners. Sigford was an all-star last year and Avritt's outstanding line performer in 1932.

Stub Glem, stocky little Medford guard, and Yaryan of Ashland received guard positions. Guards seldom shine except on running interference. Glem was a bulwark on defense, as well. Yaryan was Coach Faber's strongest lineman.

Bradley of Klamath won center position over Selloff, Ashland veteran, because of his superior showing on the defensive. Hammock of Medford started in at center at midseason and developed into a fine ball passer and a surprisingly scrappy defense player.

Second team selections saw many outstanding players who would give any of the first stringers a battle on the gridiron. McGuire and Lindley at ends are the equals of Bennett and Propst in many departments. Both were outstanding for their teams pulling in passes. McGuire was instrumental in Grants Pass' surprise 13-0 victory over Klamath on end-around and behind the line passes. Lindley weighs 185 and is over six feet tall.

Pat Shaw of Medford developed into a fine tackle as the season drew to a close and was paired off with Knight, Klamath Falls veteran, for second team post. Giovannini, from east of the mountains, and Minear of Medford were voted honors for their play at guard. Minear and Yaryan of Ashland both received the same number of votes. Giovannini is a big Italian, an excellent defensive player and interference runner.

McAninch, Klamath's quarterback, was a steady signal caller, seldom sensational, but a reliable man. Hess of Ashland and Red Scheel of Medford carried off halfback posts. Scheel was the conference's finest backfield man last fall, but injuries kept him out of games this fall. He is a wonderful passer and his games to Bennett and Lindley seldom failed to gain yardage. His bad knee kept him from doing much ball-carrying. Strack, Grants Pass halfback, was

OREGON'S NEXT FOE SCORES EASY WIN

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 26.—(AP)—A first half power and passing offensive carried Louisiana State university to a 14 to 0 victory over a crippled Tulane team today. Louisiana State scored on consistent offenses in the first and second periods, with Keller going over center for a needed two feet for the first touchdown and Yates making one foot over right tackle for the second tally. Jack Torrance kicked the extra point. The victory gave L. S. U. a clean conference slate.

ATLANTA, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia battled to a scoreless tie on a mud-soaked field today in a savagely fought twenty-eighth renewal of their long rivalry.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Texas Christian University clinched the football championship of the southwest conference with an 8 to 0 victory over Southern Methodist university today. It was the first time since 1926 that the conference was given a champion undefeated and untied in conference competition.

MONTANA BEATEN BY GONZAGA, 56-13

SPOKANE, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A vicious pack of Gonzaga Bulldogs humbled a tottering University of Montana football team, 56 to 13, in a non-conference game here today. Except for one valiant stand in the first period, the Bulldogs had the Grizzlies completely in their power, using first, second and third string players. Montana's stand was a stirring drive for a touchdown. Montana's first, that pushed over everything in front of it.

COLUMBIA SCORES LONE MARKER WIN

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26.—(AP)—A short forward pass from its own 48-yard line and quickly developing, impenetrable interference for the receiver gave Columbia University a 6 to 0 victory over College of Puget Sound in their football game here today.

The lone tally came in the second period when the Portland Irishmen received the ball two yards their side of midfield. On first down John Thomas, right halfback, faked far back and flipped a quick pass to Phil Morrison, left end, only five yards from the line of scrimmage and near the side line. Irish interference formed instantly, and two leggers attempted to stop the play were blocked out. Morrison romped down the side line and into scoring territory standing up. Sullivan's kick after touchdown was wide.

picked for second team fullback, as he was too valuable a back to leave off an all-conference team. Strack was a good interference runner and defensive half. He shared honors with Neely in giving Medford a battle to down the Cavemen this fall. Rex Hamaker, Klamath's galloping halfback, probably would have rivaled Glinnsky for sparking broken-field running if he had not been injured in the third game of the season. He has another year to play, as has Glinnsky.

TIRED PITT TEAM CHECKS STANFORD AND WINS HANDILY

Lone Touchdown Scored While Coast Team Held to Three First Downs—Panthers Show Hard Season

By Edward J. Neil. (Associated Press Sports Writer) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Panther of Pittsburgh, "tired, war-worn but still pugnacious, clawed its way through the Cardinals of Stanford today, climbed to the final height of an undefeated season, and from there roared one last challenge to the far west for renewal of the footballing war, if it cares to, in the Rose Bowl on January 2.

Plainly showing the effects of the hardest schedule any eleven in the east tackled this season, the Panther was content to whip "Pop" Warner's invading forces, 7 to 0, and lay its record beside that of the east's other mighty undefeated outfit, Andy Kerr's Red Raiders of Colgate.

To one or the other is certain to go the annual invitation of the west to meet its best, this year: Southern California, in the Battle of Roses, and both Colgate and Pittsburgh are in a receptive mood.

The first quarter was only half a dozen plays old, mostly punts, but the conventional plunge or two separating each kick, when the Panthers made the first "break," took it in their teeth, and shook from it a victory that left Pitt with a record of conquest over Army, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania and Carnegie Tech—among others—with only scoreless ties with Ohio State and Nebraska marring one of the greatest records any Pittsburgh team has compiled.

Bob Hogan, a 210-pound quarterback who kicks with skill both accurately and for tremendous distance, banged a punt from fifteen yards back of his scrimmage line on the 37 yard line, all the way to inches from the Stanford goal, where Ted Dalley, a brisk little end, downed the ball.

Stanley Anderson, Stanford fullback, immediately punted back, but he got the ball out only to his 30-yard line. From that point Pitt launched its one scoring drive. In two plays Mike Sebastian, right halfback and Izzy Weinstein, a crunching 200-pound fullback, ripped through to the Cardinal 11-yard line. Warren Heller tossed a short pass to Dalley for a first down on the three yard line. Two plays later he dove through tackle for the score and Weinstein placekicked the goal.

As far as the decision was concerned, the game might well have ended there, allowing the 35,000 addicts who braved freezing weather and the threat of pneumonia to return to their firesides and the comforts of home.

With but one exception, nothing "Pop" Warner's men could do had any effect upon the team Jock Sutherland has coached in the identical system of the Pacific coast master.

Through the entire game Stanford, with Anderson bearing the brunt of the attack, gained only 44 yards from scrimmage and completed only three passes of the 13 tried. As a matter of fact, counting the 32 yards lost from scrimmage, Stanford finished the day with a net gain of only 12 yards rushing and 50 yards passing.

Once, in the fourth quarter, the Cardinals burst forth with a single offensive that puffed up their lone three first downs.

Pittsburgh, with Weinstein doing most of the gaining, aided by Sebastian and Heller, piled up ten first downs, carried the ball once inside Stanford's 20-yard line in each period, and rolled up 211 yards from scrimmage. But the Panthers got inside the ten yard line only once, in the scoring charge of the first period. Only one of Heller's nine passes was completed for a ten yard gain.

NOTRE DAME BARES SPEED, POWER TO UPSET ARMY, 21-0

Favored Cadets Crumble Before Dazzling Rambler Offensive — Vidal, 'Ball of Fire', Only Sputters

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Picking up the path of a cyclone somewhere along the way east, a green jerseyed whirlwind carried Notre Dame to an overwhelming victory over the Army 21-0 today before 80,000 spectators in the most startling upset of the intercollegiate football campaign.

Big, powerful and dazlingly swift, the Ramblers struck the gold helmeted soldiers with an attack that was as brilliantly executed and as devastating as it was effective. Before it was all over and the Army's weary, battered forces gave ground for the last time near their goal line, Notre Dame had tallied three touchdowns, narrowly missed putting over about five more and put to rout one of the east's greatest teams.

Notre Dame not only gained ample revenge for its crushing defeat by the soldiers a year ago, but handed their rivals the worst set-back an Army team has met in this series since the 28-0 triumph of the late Knute Rockne's 1921 outfit.

The tornado in green led by the vicious charges of two spectacular tackles, Joe Kurth and Ed Krause, sweeping along on the terrific momentum of Koken, Melnikovich, Banas and half dozen other ball-carriers simply was unbeatable once it got under way. Except for two brief flashes, in the first and last periods, Army not only failed to display its vaunted offense, the power that had ripped Yale and Harvard to pieces, but its hitherto sturdy defense crumbled under the green impact.

When Notre Dame was not punching holes through the line it had the aerial resources to penetrate the soldier defense and did so with sensational effect.

The first two touchdowns by Geo. Melnikovich, fullback, and Hugh DeVore, sub end, were the direct result of passes into the Army end zone. The third score was the result of a fumble by Ken Fields, Army triple threat back in the end zone where big Jim Harris, guard, fell on the ball as it bounded loose. There wasn't a missing splinter anywhere in this astounding Notre Dame offensive as all three touchdowns were converted.

The tremendous crowd, including the corps of cadets, was shocked by the failure of the soldiers to come even close to scoring with an attack which Felix (Pick) Vidal had led to a succession of dazzling victories. Vidal, the "ball of fire," sputtered out after one solo dash that brought the crowd to its feet in the first period. Army had turned back Notre Dame's first threat on its 13 yard line and looked to be on the loose as Vidal broke around his right end, shook off four tacklers and romped 36 yards to Notre Dame's forty. Here Ken Fields gambled with first, bullet-like passes, three of them in quick succession. All failed however, and Army never was that close to the opposing goal line again except on the last play of the second quarter, when it didn't mean anything.

Notre Dame registered 15 first downs to Army's five, piled up 291 yards by rushing to the cadets' nest—66 and gained 77 yards by passing compared to 44 for the soldiers.

Extensive plans are being made for creating a winter playground of the territory, the men reported, and everything will be ready as soon as the snow comes.

Are You Hesitating About Buying the Things You Need and Can Really Afford?

Does timidity or fear of criticism keep you from doing a real service to the country and to the unemployed?

IT IS TRUE that many people have been hard hit by the depression and are struggling to make both ends meet. We all know it is difficult for them to make many purchases beyond the bare needs of existence.

There are many thousands of men and women, however, who are still receiving a fair income and who could be of tremendous help in aiding the business revival. All you need to do is to buy the things you need and can actually afford.

That doesn't mean that you should buy extravagantly, wastefully, or recklessly. It simply means buying what you need when you need it in a normal, natural way.

Have you been hesitating about buying because of timidity or a fear that you might be criticized? Exactly the reverse should be true.

You are doing a real service to the country, to the unemployed and to yourself when you purchase the things you need and can afford to buy. Every purchase that you make now—large or small—helps to create work and wages for those less fortunate than yourself.

When you buy a new dress or a new pair of shoes or a new radio or a new refrigerator or a new car you help to give work and wages to people in many sections of the country. When you have the house repainted, rooms repapered or the roof fixed you directly assist other deserving workmen—perhaps in your very neighborhood.

Nothing you could possibly do for those who need help could be more helpful or resultful than this. Sincere, honest, deserving people everywhere would rather have work than charity. That's the big, broad humanitarian side of it. The other side is what it means to you personally to buy the things you need and can afford to purchase now. Never were such bargains available. Never were prices so low.

But price isn't everything. Today, as always, quality is the important thing to look for. It pays to buy standard, trade-marked merchandise from firms you can depend on. You're almost always disappointed when you experiment with some unknown brand just because it is cheap.

From day to day in this newspaper are advertisements featuring many unusual values. Read them and take advantage of the opportunities they offer. Business revival will be speeded up if people will again buy the useful, necessary things they need and can afford to purchase.
