

Four Teams Share Top Honors in All-Eastern Player Selections

SPORTS WRITERS ANNOUNCE CHOICE FOR GRID CROWNS

Pittsburg, Cornell, Army and Pennsylvania Each Place Two in Mythical Lineup for Far East Collegs

By Edward J. Nell. (Associated Press Sports Writer.) NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Pittsburg, Cornell, Army and Pennsylvania share top honors, each contributing two to the mythical all-eastern football team picked annually for the Associated Press today by sports writers.

One representative each from Columbia, Fordham and Colgate, the latter the sole unselected, unscouted upon team in the section, round out the first team.

Brown Gives Three. Group honors for the second team went to Brown, with three nominees, but as a whole the choices for the reserve eleven were more widely scattered. Columbia placed two men on the second team, Army, Cornell, Pittsburg, Fordham, Yale and Villanova one each.

Apparently the severe injury of Dick King, Army's great end, who suffered a broken leg in the Harvard game, alone kept the cadets from placing three men on the first team.

Great Backfield. The ballots of 50 sports writers chose a backfield that would delight the eyes of any coach in the nation. At quarterback the scribes placed Cliff Montgomery, the limber-hipped Columbia ball carrier, a splendid passer, kicker, field general, along with his ability as a broken field runner. Montgomery was the general first string choice over Bob Chase, Brown quarterback, and received more votes than any other back named.

To run with Montgomery from the halfback positions, the experts chose Heller, mainstay of the Pittsburgh offense, and volatile little "Pick" Vidal of Army, who ran wild all season until stopped short by Notre Dame Saturday. There was little opposition to the choice of Captain Bart Viviano of Cornell for fullback, a powerhouse back whose line plunging and tackling have been features of the Ithaca's play for three years.

Colehower in Fore. "Howie" Colehower, a big, fast tackle, and Roy Single, great defensive center, both Pennsylvania stalwarts, were far in front in the votes for the line posts. Milton Summerfelt, Army guard and captain, also overshadowed his opposition.

Walter Urdavina, Fordham tackle, who was in every minute of all his team's games this season, was paired with Colehower as tackle. Bob "Kawpie" Smith, Colgate captain and brilliant running guard, was picked to team with Summerfelt.

For the first time since the naming of all-easterns began, two brothers, Captain Bill Gilbane at fullback, and Tom Gilbane at center, both of Brown, made the second team, along with Bob Chase, the Bruin quarterback.

Lasater Places. In the second team backfield, Bob Lasater, Yale's outstanding ball carrier, and George "Whitely" Randour of Villanova, won the halfback nominations over such stars as "Whitely" Ask of Colgate, Don Kellett of Penn, Mike Sebastian of Pittsburgh, Jack Crickard of Harvard, Chung Hon of Navy and Ken Fields of Army.

Ralph Wolfendale of Fordham and Steve Grenda, Columbia captain, were awarded the second team guard posts with "Abe" George of Cornell and Frank Walton of Pittsburgh, two massive linemen, at the tackles.

The selections follow: First Team. Ends: Joseph Skaldany, Pittsburg; Jose Martinez-Zorrilla, Cornell. Tackles: Howard Colehower, Pennsylvania; Walter Urdavina, Fordham. Guards: Milton Summerfelt, Army; Robert Smith, Colgate.

Center: Roy Eagle, Pennsylvania. Quarterback: Clifford Montgomery, Columbia. Halfbacks: Warren Heller, Pittsburg; Felix Vidal, Army. Fullback: Bart Viviano, Cornell.

SPORT AND POLITICS MIXED, PAIR OUSTED

LAWRENCE, Kas., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Frank W. McDonald, director of athletics at the Haskell Indian Institute, and Louis Weller, assistant coach, have been released by the athletic board with the statement that the action was taken because of the necessity for curtailment of sports.

McDonald, however, after his release was announced last night, asserted that in his case the contract was not renewed because of his political activities during the last campaign.

Rifle Stolen—Walter Wolganoff of One Park Place had a .22 rifle stolen from his automobile in back of the First National bank on Saturday night, according to a report made at the city police station.

STAGG SAYS FAREWELL TO GRIDDERS

Though his 41st University of Chicago football team ended its season with an 18-7 loss to Wisconsin, Amos Alonzo Stagg was able to muster a cheery smile in the dressing room as he said goodbye to his players, probably the last group he will direct as head coach on the Midway. FOOTBALL'S DEATH TOLL NEAR RECORD OF YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Football's death toll for 1932 had reached 37 today, the second highest total since national records on gridiron fatalities first were compiled. The drastic changes made in the football code after last year's record number of 50 fatalities apparently have cut appreciably into deaths and serious injuries where they have been strictly enforced. This year's list of football dead shows only five from college ranks and of those only one was fatally injured in actual competition. He was Ralph McClure of Colorado college, whose neck was broken in a game against the University of Colorado.

Most of the fatalities of the season now drawing to a close occurred in high school or sandlot contests where strict supervision often is not possible.

In addition to the five college players fatally injured, there were seven semi-pro or club team player fatalities. Eight of the 37 victims died of broken necks; six from head injuries other than fractured skulls which took five more lives. Five others died of infections following injury. Internal injuries and cerebral hemorrhage each were charged with three deaths. The remaining fatalities were due to scattering causes, spinal injuries, heart ailments, etc.

SNEEZE PINIONS CANUCK MATMAN

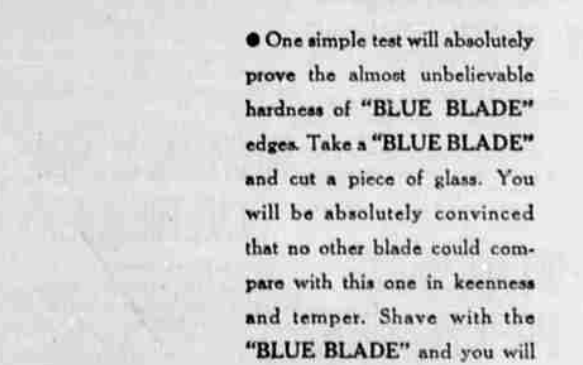

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Walter "Tinkit" Achiu, Dayton, O., Chinese middleweight wrestler, defeated Rod Fenitors, Alberta, Canada, here last night with two straight falls. Achiu took the first fall in 20 minutes with a full nelson after he had been tossed about the ring by Fenitors with a series of flying headlocks. He won the second fall with a Sonnenberg butt in 10 minutes, 42 seconds.

Greek Gods Win From Co-Eds In Hockey Contest

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Nov. 29.—(AP)—The "Greek Gods" are back on the Olympian Heights today after a quick descent upon the Swarthmore college campus to demonstrate their superiority over co-ed hockey stars at their own game.

Making good on a challenge, a group of Swarthmore football and soccer players, calling themselves "Greek Gods" and attired in bathrobes and other variations of "Grecian" costumes, yesterday defeated the women's varsity field hockey team, 1 to 0.

My Beauty Hint

MARY BRIAN The simplest beauty methods are the best, I think. One excellent treatment for the skin and complexion is to take a brisk walk each evening. This stimulates the blood sufficiently to give one a glowing and healthy complexion. Joe, covered with a cloth and applied to the face each day, helps much in clearing the skin, I find.

• One simple test will absolutely prove the almost unbelievable hardness of "BLUE BLADE" edges. Take a "BLUE BLADE" and cut a piece of glass. You will be absolutely convinced that no other blade could compare with this one in keenness and temper. Shave with the "BLUE BLADE" and you will agree its performance is unequalled. Its edges are super-hardened, yet the slotted, flexing center—of an entirely different temper—bends easily when you tighten your razor. Try the "BLUE BLADE." Begin now to enjoy its many exclusive advantages.

BACK TO BOOKS FOR GRIDMEN OF STATE COLLEGE

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Its cross-continent journey completed, the Oregon State College football team was back today, and its members were busy brushing up for the examinations that are only two weeks away.

The boys, who returned yesterday after an invasion of the east, that saw them pitted against Fordham university at New York and Detroit university at Detroit, at well as against Montana university at Missoula in a coast conference clash, studied while en route, but admitted they expected to do some heavy delving into text-books just to make sure the situation will be well in hand when they land in examination week.

Several of the men, including E. Davis, will switch their attention to basketball now that their football season is over. On their three week jaunt they won their only conference game from Montana and lost by small margins to their intersectional opponents.

'JUDGE' COLEMAN IS CITY VISITOR

Now it is Judge Coleman, but a month ago and for many years past it has been Bill Coleman, sportsman. Mr. Coleman of Medford decided last spring that he would take a shot at the nomination for justice of the peace of the Medford district as it pays $200 a month. Others had the same notion, but Mr. Coleman won the nomination by four-score votes.

There was a stinging campaign in Jackson county in October and the first days of November. There was a rousing contest for every office in eight, and there was probably more politics to the square foot in Medford than elsewhere in Oregon. Jackson county takes its politics seriously and enthusiastically. A strong Republican county, it made a complete flip and went for Roosevelt in no uncertain terms. There are about 6000 registered voters in the justice district, and Mr. Coleman made it his business to see as many of these electors as time would permit. He saw enough of them to win out in the general election. As justice of the peace, Mr. Coleman has a six-year term, and he pointed out that a supreme court decision defines a justice of the peace as a judicial officer. Having been long associated with game matters, Mr. Coleman dropped into the state game commission office while in Portland—Oregonian.

Here on Business—Business callers in Medford today from neighboring towns are Clyde Beeson of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Brainard of Grants Pass and Geo. Dorman of Gold Hill.

LORETTA NEVER STAR IN MOVIES BUT SUCCESSFUL

By ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD — Loretta Young is one of Hollywood's soundest, as well as prettiest answers to the question, "Is stardom necessary?"

In her still rather brief career she never once has been foisted upon the fans as a star, and yet from the beginning—when she was 14—she has risen steadily in fan following and ability.

Pretty, cool-looking Loretta calls it "luck." In modest terms she traces her good fortune from the day when Mervyn Leroy called her house and wanted her sister, Polly Ann Young, for a role.

"Polly Ann was out of town, so I was sent down as a substitute," she says, "and here I am."

The star of that picture was Celeen Moore, who took a liking to Loretta and "sold" her to executives. Her first big lead was opposite Lon Chaney in "Laugh Clown, Laugh."

"I was one of 48 girls tested for the part. Any one of the other would have done just as well, if not better and yet I got it."

That's her way of explaining her success. It was luck, too, she says, which fulfilled her secret wish to play opposite John Barrymore—in "The Man From Blankley's." And luck that gave her the leading role in the successful "Life Begins." "I was very

MALE CHORUS CARRIES MOST POPULAR APPEAL TO EARS OF LISTENERS

Contributed. There is no music that pleases all kinds of people quite as completely as a chorus of male voices, for there is something inspiring conveyed by the deep resonance of their harmonies that no instruments can duplicate.

Whether the number be some simple ballad or an aria from the classics it is sure to strike a responsive chord in the hearts of the audience. It is also true that the singers feel the same sensation or thrill, and that is, no doubt, the reason why rehearsals are so well attended when the Gleemen get together each Tuesday and Friday nights preparing for their concert to be given December 6.

They are planning to give the people of Medford and vicinity a pleasant surprise and promise their hearers a program that will linger in memory long after the final number has been sung. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance to appreciate the intensive work that has been done by the chorus to make this affair a memorable artistic success.

ZASU PITTS AT ROXY IN 'STEADY COMPANY'

Zasu Pitts is featured with Norman Foster and June Clyde at the Roxy theater today and tomorrow in the comedy hit, "Steady Company." The program also includes a Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Halpmates," a short feature, "Trout Fishing" and News.

From Connecticut—Jacques Gordon and members of his string quartet were registered here overnight, from Falls Village, Conn. Other members of the group were Ralph Silverman, Paul Robyn, and Naoum Benditaky.
