

TEACHERS REVOLT AT INHIBITIONS OF DIRECTOR BOARDS

Federation Determined to Obtain Freedom From Bans On Dancing, Smoking — Low Pay Scored

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—(AP)—They've passed resolutions putting school teachers to bed at 9 o'clock, prohibiting them from dancing and requiring them to teach Sunday school classes, so, says Florence Curtis Hanson of Chicago, "we're out to do something about it."

Mrs. Hanson, secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Teachers, is a delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention here. The teachers, said Mrs. Hanson, do not want to go on record as condoning "loose living," but only on condition that they can develop the high type of teachers we really need. We must not hamper them with ridiculous restrictions.

In Kansas City a year or so ago, the school board passed a regulation that no teacher—man or woman—should smoke.

Under that rule, Paderewski couldn't have taught music, Lorado Taft couldn't have taught art, and Gen. Charles G. Dawes would have been ruled out as a teacher of political science.

And so the federation is out to make itself so strong that it can set up the country's teaching standards itself, and they will be high, Mrs. Hanson said.

The federation delegate criticized tendencies in some localities to lower teaching standards with small salaries.

In South Dakota in 1931, one school district advertised for a high school principal, and a $60-a-month teacher got the job, she said.

This year, in North Dakota, jobs went to $45 bidders.

MEDFORD PEOPLE TO LASSEN'S PEAK

M. Meredith Sheets, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gilbert and K. E. Watson of Medford, were among recent visitors at Lassen Volcanic national park in northern California, who climbed the steep sides of Lassen peak, the only recently active volcano in the continental United States.

This information was obtained from the register that has been located all summer on the very top-most pinnacle of the mountain, and recently brought down by park rangers in order that a count of the number of persons climbing Lassen could be made. The totals showed that during the past season 14 per cent of the visitors made the ascent, in comparison with 6 per cent the preceding year.

Mr. Gilbert was a temporary ranger at the park during the recent season.

REAMES HINTED FOR U. S. BENCH

An interesting item, which hints at an important appointment for A. E. Reames, local attorney, is found in the "Those Who Come and Go" column of this morning's Oregonian.

It reads: "A. E. Reames, prominent attorney of Medford, who is known among his many Jackson county friends as Judge Reames, was in the city on legal business yesterday. When he comes here he always finds a place to rest his briefcase at the Hotel Portland. Judge Reames' political leanings are with the incoming administration, and it is said that should a third member of the federal district bench be granted Oregon within the coming four years this Medford lawyer would likely be appointed. But, of course, there might be opposition."

NORMAL STAGING 'AS YOU LIKE IT' AS BARD WISHED

(By Estill Phillips.) SOUTHERN OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Ashland, Dec. 1.—(Sp.)—For the first time in history, Southern Oregon theatrical followers will be able to see a Shakespearean play as its famed dramatist intended it should be produced, said Antigua L. Bowmer, professor of dramatics here today in discussing "As You Like It," which is being directed for showings at Southern Oregon Normal auditorium Friday and Saturday, December 2 and 3.

Bowmer points out that this production would differ from the ordinary type of professional show in that every scene which Shakespeare wrote into his comedy would be shown, in stead of following the usual practice of cutting many of the short scenes. This innovation is accomplished by a true working adaptation of the Elizabethan stage using the forestage as a generalized setting.

The huge cast, which includes 27 faculty members and students, went through the last dress rehearsal last night as final alterations were made for the staging of the clever, highly entertaining comedy hit. Many Medford students, headed by George Bennett, who has the masculine lead, are to be seen in important roles in the play.

One of the outstanding features of the production will be members of the cast will appear throughout the play in modern dress. The lines spoken by the players are the same as written by Shakespeare as the play is not a satire upon the work of the great English poet.

Advance ticket sales are being held at the Toggery in Medford and Elkhart in Ashland. As these two places tickets may be reserved for either Friday or Saturday night's performance.

Mrs. Wurts Hostess at Bridge Tea. Mrs. Jack Wurts was hostess at her home yesterday afternoon at an informal bridge tea. There were two tables of cards in play during the afternoon and prize for high score awarded Mrs. Max Peire.

Mrs. Brewer Invites Guests to Luncheon. Mrs. C. M. Brewer will be hostess at luncheon and bridge at her home on Siskiyou Heights Saturday. She has invited eight guests for the occasion.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 1.—(AP)—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Show—"Texas Special"—went to the slaughter block today at a price of $1.25 a pound.

The purchaser was John P. Bowles, representing a packing company of Chicago. The price represented an advance of 5 cents a pound over that brought by last year's grand champion at the exposition.

It compared with 8 cents a pound for prime steers on the Chicago livestock market. "Texas Special" will be transformed into steaks and roasts to grace Chicago's dinner tables.

Cattlemen said today's price was better than they had expected. "Texas Special" is a 1200-pound Hereford.

Canning Champion

Waneta Guthrie, 15, of Fulton, Kan., was chosen as the national canning achievement champion in 4-H club competition. In six years she has canned 3,004 pints of meats, vegetables and fruits. (Associated Press Photo)

By way of comparison in regard to advertising for tourists, Tom Cunningham, field secretary for the Wonderland, pointed out that in the report of Californians Incorporated for 1931, it is shown that in northern and central California there were 397,718 automobile tourists, 70,188 camping tourists and 250,308 tourists that entered the section by other means of transportation. The total money expended in the section during the stay of these tourists, all three classes included, was:

Food $25,057,873.05 Lodging 17,475,255.87 Car expense (including long runs and local trips) 6,394,239.25 Local transportation (other transportation only) 3,235,016.77 Clothing 3,471,380.63 Recreation 2,315,520.21 Personal expenditures 2,919,334.61 Camera supplies 1,608,156.78 Souvenirs, postcards, etc. 1,948,901.40

Total expenditures for 718,231 tourists—$62,323,878.75 An astounding fact is that this furnished full time employment for 11,216 individuals for one year, assuming 312 working days to a year.

The Shasta-Cascade Wonderland association plans, according to Wonderland officials, to get as much of this money into the Wonderland area as possible.

This report, Cunningham said, is copyrighted by the Californians Incorporated, so the figures must be authentic.

TOURIST DOLLARS FOR WONDERLAND ASSOCIATION AIM

The annual report of the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland association shows that in the year 1932 the association was placed nationally before the public millions of times. This was done in connection with the numerous activities of the various counties of the Wonderland, Jackson county being one of the counties in the Wonderland. The name was printed so that it appeared over 2,000,000 times; another tourist publication distributed nationwide, used the name 1,000,000 times. It was also used millions of times in coast, state and local publications. The name has been tied into publicity on national parks, national forests and state forests and parks.

By way of comparison in regard to advertising for tourists, Tom Cunningham, field secretary for the Wonderland, pointed out that in the report of Californians Incorporated for 1931, it is shown that in northern and central California there were 397,718 automobile tourists, 70,188 camping tourists and 250,308 tourists that entered the section by other means of transportation. My Beauty Hint

ELEANOR HOLM. A healthy tanned skin needs little or no makeup, so the outdoor girl's beauty problem is easily solved. In my own case I use cream only in removing screen make-up at the study.

Because I use no rouge and only a light dusting of face powder, it is simple to remove the make-up without even using soap.

Washing first in warm water, then in cold and rubbing briskly is sufficient—even to remove the bright, medium heavy lipstick which is my principal makeup accessory.

LANE SCHOOLS FACE CLOSURE

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Drinking Lane county tax receipts may result in closing 25 per cent of the rural schools in this county next year, Superintendent-elect Laurence C. Moffitt said today.

Many school districts are now unable to cash their warrants and this condition may result in the closing next year. One district may be compelled to close this midseason, he said. The county school superintendent's office does not favor districts getting so far behind in their warrants they cannot hope to reach a cash base.

Delinquent taxes over a period of the past few years has brought about the condition leading to the closing of the schools, Moffitt said. Many of the grade school districts are supported wholly by taxes from timber companies which have not paid their taxes recently.
