Elks' Dance to Draw Large Crowd Saturday.

The leading event of the week-end in Medford, socially speaking, will be the charity ball of the Elks' club Saturday night at the temple. A festive evening is planned and all Elks and their friends urged to attend to swell the fund, which will be used to provide Christmas baskets to needy families in the county.

Each year the Elks play Santa Claus to many families and the need for their attention is even greater this year. Dancing at the Saturday party will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until midnight.

Presbyterian Women Complete Bazaar Plans.

The Women's association of the Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon with a very large attendance. Mrs. Walter Frazer Brown led the devotionals, which were in keeping with the Christmas season. With Mrs. Libby at the piano, all joined in singing "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear." Mrs. Brown then told in fascinating manner the legend of the magic music, which illustrated what can be accomplished through united effort.

Mrs. Frederick Johnson, president, presided during the business hour. All circles reported that plans have been completed for the Christmas bazaar and home cooked turkey dinner to be held in the church Friday afternoon, December 9, from the hours of 2:00 to 7:30.

The special feature of this bazaar is that nothing is to be sold at over 50 cents. The dinner will be served from 6:00 to 7:00 o'clock.

There are many attractive articles of fancy work to be offered as suitable gifts for Christmas, and at the cooked foods tables will be found home made pies, cakes, mincemeat, and a large assortment of home-made candies. A quilt display will offer an added attraction in the ladies' parlor, where tea will be served during the afternoon.

The program Tuesday afternoon was in charge of the Merit circle. Mrs. H. F. W. Spilver, circle chairman, presented Mrs. Wm. McAllister, who sang, "His Eye Is On the Sparrow." Miss Dorothy Reynolds accompanied her at the piano. Mrs. Albert gave a humorous reading, "Getting Ready for the Bazaar."

The Merit circle served delicious refreshments with Mrs. Spilver presiding at the tea table. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, January 3, at the church and will be homecoming for all circles with a covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock.

St. Mark's Bazaar Successful Affair.

A steady line of visitors haunted St. Mark's Guild hall yesterday from morning until evening, while the annual Christmas bazaar of the Guild was in session. A lovely Christmas setting greeted callers and hosts of suitable gifts for the holiday were purchased.

During the afternoon there were eight tables of bridge in play and prizes awarded Mrs. Van Gilbert in pivot, Mrs. Harry Hinman in progressive, and Mrs. Josephine Clark in contract.

Mrs. R. H. Paxson and Mrs. Charles Strang presided at the tea table, which was tastefully arranged with a bowl of yellow chrysanthemums as decoration.

Mrs. G. R. Satchwell was chairman of the white elephant table, Mrs. R. E. Swan arranged for cards and was assisted by Mrs. Gwendolyn Woodcock, Mrs. R. H. Paxson, Mrs. J. A. McDougall, Mrs. Charles Strang and Mrs. Hal Platt.

Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp, chairman of the fancy work booth, was assisted by Mrs. E. W. Gould, Mrs. John Barneburg and Mrs. R. C. Mulholland. Mrs. C. W. Ellis was chairman of the candy booth and Mrs. Wagner, chairman of cooked foods, was assisted by Mrs. H. W. Hamlin.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Christmas Frolic.

The entertainment committee of the American Legion Auxiliary is making extensive plans this week for the Christmas frolic to be held on Monday evening, December 12, at the club rooms in the Armory, according to a report yesterday. A Christmas tree will be the outstanding feature of the evening, accompanied by an exchange of gifts. Each person, planning to attend, is asked to bring a small gift for the tree, also a quart or pound of some non-perishable food for the Christmas baskets.

Following the program there will be an exchange of presents, grab bag style. All old and new members, with dues paid or unpaid, are asked to come to the Christmas party, which is always one of the happiest events on the auxiliary calendar.

St. Mark's Guild Meets Tomorrow.

Mrs. Henselman to Give Talk on Americanism.

All persons interested in Americanism and in upholding American ideals are invited by the American Legion Auxiliary to listen in Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock, when Mrs. George Henselman will speak from KMED, giving the 12th lecture composed by the National Coalation society. The lecture will include questions and answers to many leading problems of government and forms of government today.

Further information regarding the Legion and Auxiliary conferences to be held in Medford December 15 was also released today. The afternoon session will be held in the Armory club rooms at 2:00 o'clock. All members will be welcome and officers are urged to be present.

At 6:30 a banquet will be held at the Hotel Medford and those wishing to attend are asked to telephone Mrs. K. D. Ross, 640 or 1091-Y, for reservations. Dancing will begin at 9:00 o'clock at the Masonic hall.

Mrs. Belva Aiken, membership chairman of the Medford unit, urging a large enrollment this year, listed the requirements for eligibility in the Auxiliary yesterday.

"Honorable service to country in the armed forces during the World War by a member of the immediate family is the only basis for eligibility to the American Legion Auxiliary," she explained. "The right to be an Auxiliary member is a privilege purchased for the women of their families by the men who offered their lives in this country's defense. Individual application forms, giving proof of war service by a member of the family must be filed by all applicants for membership. Like the American Legion, the Auxiliary grants no honorary memberships."

The following classes of women are eligible for membership, Mrs. Aiken stated:

1. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of members of the American Legion.

2. Widows, mothers, sisters and daughters of men who lost their lives in the war or veterans who have died since discharge from war service.

3. Women who themselves were regularly enlisted in the army or navy during the war, such as army nurses and navy "yeomanettes."

Many Anticipate Marionette Show.

Many Medford people will gather at the Junior high school this evening for the marionette show, to be sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association to raise funds to provide hot soup to needy children in the local schools. The evening show will open at 7:30, and those who viewed the afternoon performances were loud in their praise of the Hollywood sculptored marionettes. Miss Monro Augur, who is the creater of the marionettes, and who directs the show, arrived early today with her corps of workers.

The evening show will be "The Lost Adam Diggin's". The afternoon performance, presented to a packed house, was "Cinderella." Anyone, who has not purchased tickets for the evening performance will be able to obtain them at the door.

Party Brings Funds To Aid Soup Kitchen.

The Ways and Means committee of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher association, with Mrs. Wm. Newland, chairman, entertained last evening with a benefit card party at the home of Mrs. Ethel Florey. There were seven tables of cards in play and a goodly sum added to the Lincoln school soup kitchen fund. Prizes at bridge were awarded Mrs. George W. Neilson, Miss Anna Detweiler and William Newland, and prizes at 500 went to Mrs. Walter Siever and Earl Smedley.

Following cards, refreshments were served. The party was considered so successful that plans were considered for holding a similar event next month.

WASHINGTON LEGION CHALLENGES OREGON IN MEMBERSHIP RACE

The American Legion departments, or states, of Washington and Oregon are involved in a membership contest that promises plenty of excitement and a test of the loyalty and support of the World war veterans of each of the states, according to L. O. Garlock, commander of Medford post.

The challenge was made by Department Commander Harry H. Lewis and Department Adjutant Jesse W. Drain of Washington, in writing at an open session at the recent annual conference of department officials held at national headquarters in Indianapolis, and was accepted by Department John B. Eakin and Department Adjutant Carl R. Moser of Oregon.

The terms of the contest read: "The department of Washington, having full confidence in the ability and patriotism of the Legionnaires therein, hereby challenges the department of Oregon to a membership contest based upon the 1932-33 quota as set by our national organization for these two departments. The conditions of this challenge are: That the department having at national headquarters the highest percentage of its quota in paid-up memberships on August 1, 1933, shall be deemed the winner. The one having the lesser number of memberships as of the same date shall be deemed the loser, and it is hereby agreed as between the two departments that the losers shall present to the winners a suitable loving cup, properly engraved and of not less than two-gallon capacity."

Harry Fuller and Frank Solinsky of Government Camp were up at the rim, giving an exhibition of plain and fancy skiing, and the spectators certainly did enjoy it.

Leading her nearest opponent, Miss Barbara Wall, by several hundred votes, the Junior class candidate for carnival queen, Miss Louise Elrod, was at the top of the list in the latest count of the votes at the high school, Wednesday evening.

The whole school is agog with excitement over the contest, which closes at noon today.

Results of the final count are to be announced at noon Friday.

The winning queen will be coronated tomorrow evening in conjunction with the vaudeville. The program, consisting of short snappy skits of four to six minutes in length, offers a variety of attractions, including "Julius Caesar Calls on Cleopatra," with modern touches; a demonstration of football fifty years from now; a romantic garden scene, and French and Japanese love songs sung in their original languages.

BAPTIST YOUNG HOLD BIG RALLY ASHLAND CHURCH

The Southern Oregon Baptist young people's rally, held at Ashland Sunday, December 4, was one of the largest attended meetings they have held. There were over 150 present from Klamath Falls, Ashland, Grants Pass, Medford and one from Selma.

The program was so unique that it held the attention of all present from the beginning to the very end.

The meeting was opened with singing and a devotional service.

After the business meeting Dr. Hagan gave a short talk.

The Klamath Falls group put on a three-act play entitled "Farmer Brown's Conversion." This portrayed Farmer Brown as once being a good Christian, but who now has backslidden. He does not believe that he should have to give any of his money to the church or its causes. But through some of the church's members, his wife, and especially through his wayward son, who has gone wrong because of his father's attitude, Farmer Brown sees his mistakes and quickly sets about to correct them, and especially to make right everything with his son.

Between the scenes the different groups gave musical numbers. The most outstanding of these was the male quartet from Ashland, singing a negro spiritual, "His Love Come A-Tricklin' Down."

Rev. Cutler, an evangelist, who recently held meetings in Grants Pass, gave the main address, "What Am I Worth?"

At 5:30 Ashland served dinner to the entire association during which a short program was enjoyed.

It was the general opinion of all who attended that this was the best rally the association has ever held.

REV. ROBERTSON TO LARGER FIELD

Harold H. Robertson, former newspaper man who came to Medford in August as assistant to Dr. Estelle M. Jones, pastor of the Four-Square Gospel church, has received a call to head the large church of the denomination at Watsonville, Cal., and will leave Friday for his new post.

Reverend Robertson, whose connection with the church began here, served in many important capacities in the newspaper field, including reportorial and editorial positions in New York and Chicago and as bureau manager of the United Press, before entering the ministry. Rev. Robertson declared he had enjoyed his stay in Medford and had formed many real friendships which he was loath to leave, but was delighted to receive the call to the larger field. He will preach a farewell sermon at the church tonight at 8 o'clock.
