

Burgher Combs Tiger Timber for Cage Talent Replace Graduates

TWO FORWARDS AND GUARD ARE PRINCIPAL NEED

Absence of White and Delt- rick, Tall Athletes, and Little Harrington Clouds Hopes of Basketball Title

By Arthur Schoenl. Faced with the task of unearthing two forwards and a guard, Coach Darwin Burgher held first basketball practice at the high school this afternoon. Graduation robbed him of the services of his two six-foot basketballers, Wilton White and Bob Delt- rick, and fast little George Harrington, so Burgher's hopes of sending another team to the state tournament are all dimmer. His team this winter will be built around his mainstay of last year, Red Scheel, whose consistent ringing of 16 points a game at the Salem meet earned him an all-state guard selection. Besides Scheel, Burgher's only veterans back are Lindsey, bulky, aggressive center, and Tom White, forward. Hammock and Knips have seen service, as has Gillinsky, but none of the trio is in the class with White and Delt- rick. Both are excellent shots, tall and rangy.

Forty Yard Pass Brings Trojan Touchdown

TROJANS PREPARE FOR BATTLE WITH PITTSBURG SQUAD

Coach Jones Forgets Victory Over Notre Dame in Efforts for Rose Bowl Affair — Coaches Laud Him

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—(AP)— Football's man of the hour, Coach Howard Jones turned his attention today to the rose tournament game at Pasadena, January 2, with Pittsburg. He was inclined to abate the 13 to 0 victory over Notre Dame Saturday and started laying plans for revision of his offense as well as a revamped defense in preparation for the grid business, which must be transacted, come the New Year. Not so the more than 100,000 spectators who sat in on the spectacular struggle two days ago. Discussion continued apace with much laudatory comment from visiting coaches in behalf of Troy's head man. Rehearse High Points. All the high points of the drama were rehearsed from the point where little Irvine Warburton returned a punt 30 yards in the second period to make the first Trojan touchdown possible to the goal line stand of Southern California in the final quarter before the Ramblers' desperate passing attack. It was generally agreed that the great line-play and spectacular quick kicks of the Southern California team plus the inefficient blocking of the Notre Dame backs were responsible for the outcome. The amazing run of tow-headed Warburton drew much comment. He outran the rushing Ramblers, who went down under the punt, reversed his field and behind a fast-forming

GRID TEAMS MEET AT TUCSON DEPOT

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 12.—(AP)—This city, home of the University of Arizona, was all "football minded" today, with squads of three major universities here. WINNING TEAMS ENJOYED BOOM IN GATE RECEIPTS

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Despite a general decline of approximately 15 per cent for the 1932 season, college football attendance recorded an exceptional and unexpected number of gains, due to the attraction supplied by teams combining the winning habit with colorful performances. A survey by the Associated Press among representative colleges reveals substantial gains in attendance by 14 out of a total of 40. These ranged from a fractional increase to a high mark of 300 per cent, reported by George Washington university (Washington, D. C.) in playing this season before 92,500 fans in seven home games. The undefeated or championship teams enjoyed good business, although the reduction of ticket prices scaled down the year's profits. Purdue showed an increase of 40 per cent in attendance. The "big three" on the Pacific coast all showed declines at the "gate," but they were better than the average. Southern California played before an estimated 475,000 in nine games as against 537,000 in 10 games last year. California and Stanford also showed losses, but the University of California at Los Angeles turned up with a tremendous increase, thanks to a successful team.

M'DONALD SEEKS BERTH ON QUINT

CORVALLIS, Ore., Dec. 12.—(AP)—The 1932-33 edition of Oregon State college's hoop quintet was hard at work today in preparation for the opening home game of the season. Willamette university comes to the campus Friday night for the first clash. The Orange hoopers opened at Independence Saturday, downing the Oregon Normal five, 96 to 24. Indications point to a team at least as strong as the aggregation that finished third in the conference last season. Fred Hill of Pendleton, Fred McDonald of Medford, Clarence James, Tillamook, and George Hibbard of Molalla are outstanding candidates for positions on the regular squad.

BOUNTY HUNTERS REAPING HARVEST

Numerous bounties for coyotes and bob cats have been issued during the past several days at the county clerk's office, and Saturday a check for $39 was paid Vernon Hopkins for 12 coyotes and one bob cat. Other amounts issued were $6 to J. F. Maxfield of Brownsboro for two coyotes, $3 to R. W. Dusenberry of Gold Hill for one bob cat, $3 to C. E. Morrison of Butte Falls for one coyote, $3 to Raymond Tresham of Sams Valley for one coyote, $3 to Jack Sims of Central Point for one coyote, and $9 to Ed Beery of Medford for three bob cats.

TEXACO STARS TO MEET TEACHERS

Presenting a lineup of former Medford high stars, the Texaco All-Star basketball quintet will open its second season against Southern Oregon Normal school at the Ashland junior high tonight at 8 o'clock. To score a victory over the strong Normal team would be a feather in the cap of the Oilers, as Coach Howard Hobson's teachers are hoped to put out their strongest team this winter. Lyle Reader and Ward Howell, two ex-Ashland high basketballers, are expected to give the Texaco five plenty of trouble. Ashland high plays the Normal second team in a preliminary.

MORGAN BEST TO FACE BRUIN TEAM

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Four members of the St. Mary's college football team are honored by the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins in their selection of an all-opponents team. The Bruins' all-opponents team follows: Bill Beasley, quarterback, St. Mary's; Mike Steponovich, guard, St. Mary's; Emory Rubel, center, St. Mary's; Jorges, tackle, St. Mary's; Smith, end, Washington; Bill Doub, end, Stanford; Bill Morgan, Oregon, tackle; George Sander, Washington State and Ken Afflerbaugh, Stanford, halfbacks; Sulkosky, Washington, fullback. Angel Brovelli, St. Mary's fullback, was a close second to Sulkosky in the balloting.

SONS-OREGON TO CLASH DEC. 19TH

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 12.—(AP)—The signing of a game with St. Mary's college, to be played at Oakland, December 29, has assured a southern trip during the Christmas holiday for the University of Oregon basketball squad. Seven games will be played by the university basketballers, with the opening set to set for Ashland, against the Southern Oregon Normal quintet, December 19.

GRID CONFERENCE MAY OUST RADIO

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Possibility was strong that the Pacific coast conference would appoint a commissioner today with duties confined mostly to appointment of football officials. Faculty representatives and graduate managers of the group of 10 institutions voted yesterday for a commissioner who will be employed only part time at a small salary. Non-conference schools will be given the benefit of this individual for the selection of their grid officials also, if they so desire. After a protracted discussion the question of prohibiting radio broadcasts of football games was tabled until the spring session, probably at Seattle, with the sentiment strong against continuing to permit broadcast rights. The framing of 1934 grid schedules was postponed until the next meeting in June.

MEDFORD GRIDMEN GIVEN MENTION IN ALL-STAR SQUADS

Big Bill Morgan, Medford high school's most illustrious football product, was awarded honorable mention on the 1932 All-American eleven selected Sunday by four outstanding coaches of the nation. His selection follows on the heels of other honors accorded him by coast sports writers. Practically all scribes placed him alongside Ernie Smith of Southern California at first string tackle on their all-coast teams. Besides playing aggressive football for Medford high, Morgan was a good enough basketball player to win an all-state guard selection. The combination of quick-footedness and strength made him one of the greatest tackles Oregon ever had. Bernie Hughes, another Medford man, was selected as all-coast center on the United Press eleven. L. H. Gregory, Oregonian sports editor, declared Hughes was the best center on the coast, but was hampered by his team's showing against Southern California. Hughes was a "forty-minute center" and tough enough to hold his own with any opposing ball snapper. Yost, first string Trojan center, lasted just four plays against Hughes.

Bill Bowerman, third of the Medford triumvirate of gridsters playing on Callison's Oregon team, was given honorable mention on one selection. His blocking ability helped Temple
