

COUNCIL MOVES FOR REGULATION IN MEAT SUPPLY

Ordinance to Provide Purity Passes First Reading — Sanitary Conditions at Abattoirs Is Requirement

Definite action to insure the people of Medford a meat supply which complies with all requirements of the pure food laws, was taken by the city council last night in regular meeting at the city hall when an ordinance concerning the slaughtering of animals and the preparation of the meat thereof passed the first reading.

The ordinance presented is intended to regulate consumption in the city of Medford, "providing a penalty for violation of the specifications, and repealing all ordinances and regulations in conflict therewith and declaring an emergency."

Regulations listed.

The ordinance will deal with the care of cattle, calves, sheep, swine and goats, and contains a list of regulations for both slaughter houses and meat markets, which will prevent the sale of any diseased or otherwise impure meat foods.

The location and plans for altering old slaughter houses or buildings, or building new slaughter houses shall be approved in writing by the city health officer and meat inspector, under the ordinance. Establishments and premises, on or in which, any meat or product is prepared or handled shall be maintained in a sanitary condition. There shall be abundant light, both natural and artificial, and sufficient ventilation for all rooms and compartments to insure sanitary conditions.

There shall be efficient drainage and plumbing system for the establishments and premises and all drains and gutters shall be properly installed, with approved traps and vents.

Farmers Unaffected.

Many other requirements are listed but the ordinance states that there is nothing contained within it deemed to prevent bona fide farmers slaughtering on farms in Jackson county, from marketing meat in the city of Medford when given cold inspection within the city.

A complete copy of the ordinance will be published in the Mail Tribune in the near future to thoroughly acquaint the public with its provisions.

The meeting of the council last night was the last regular session to be attended by the outgoing body. At the next meeting the retiring members will come to turn the chairs over to their successors. Much handshaking and reminiscing followed the close of the meeting last night.

J. O. Gray, P. M. Kershaw and C. A. Meaker completed their work for the city.

EX-FILM ACTOR NOW PANS GOLD FOR 40 CTS. DAY

High in the Skikyoua, far above where the winds of dawn change the creeping fogs to frost, lives Cheever Ticholl, seeker of gold.

It is not a pleasant story, nor a new one—this yarn of the lure of gold that Ticholl has told in the lobby of a Grants Pass hotel. But it has a moral and a warning.

Back in the days before the talkies raked the ranks of the actors club for talent. One of the requirements was a clear voice.

It was not necessary for Ticholl to say why he never made the grade in the talkies. His voice, made husky by a thousand grunting goldballs, pointed to the downward turn, blazed before by hundreds of others.

In San Francisco Ticholl read a lure-lending story about how "down and outers" like himself were making as high as $12 a day in northern California and southern Oregon, panning gold. So he came to Grants Pass and located in the Jacksonville district because he read in a book it was famous once for its gold and gate.

That was last August.

Ticholl confesses he is a tenderfoot of the most ignorant type, but he says his partner knows the racket. Between the two of them they have panned out a daily average of 40 cents. He is not kidding. He says he would have been hitting the flop houses in California long before now. A cabin, long deserted, at the mouth of a mine, is better than a flop.

The former actor thinks a little publicity of the poor tenderfoot whose best days never reach a dollar in panning, ought to be a sort of warning to those who tramp highways, forgotten men. He thinks it might be a good thing for Grants Pass and Josephine county if the $12 a day stuff could be soft pedaled.

There are businessmen in Grants Pass who think Ticholl is right. That is the reason this story has been written. — D. L. Whitehurst, in the Grants Pass Courier.

ODDFELLOW LODGE TO GIVE PROGRAM, TREAT FOR CITY'S CHILDREN

A committee from Medford Lodge No. 83, and Olive Rebekah Lodge No. 28, I. O. O. F., has been working for the past two weeks in the preparation of a program to be given at I. O. O. F. hall in connection with the annual Christmas tree, and all members are expected to be at the hall Thursday evening, December 22, at 8 o'clock to participate in the affair. Members having knowledge of children, whether their parents are members of the order or not, and who are not in a financial position to afford the Christmas treat for them, are requested to bring them to the hall that they may not be left out of the Christmas festivities.

Lady members of the committee have decorated a large tree for the occasion, and a program in keeping with the Christmas spirit will be presented. The committee urges that all of the little folk attend.

SCOTT CRITICIZED FOR ATTITUDE ON TILLAMOOK ROADS

TILLAMOOK, Ore., Dec. 21.—(AP)—Criticism of the stand taken by Leslie M. Scott, chairman of the highway commission, was expressed at a mass meeting here last night at which residents of the county were outspoken in their denunciation of a letter from Scott in which the chairman suggested that letting of the Wilson river road contract be considered further "and very seriously."

Scott's letter said that, because of reduced highway funds, the advisability of further consideration of the Wilson river project seemed apparent. He suggested more money might be spent on existing Tillamook county roads.

H. T. Botta, A. T. Beal, H. H. Rosenberg and R. H. Miller of Tillamook issued a joint statement in which it was said that Scott's "claim of there being much opposition to the Wilson river road was felt to be the same opposition that cropped out and successfully blocked this road whenever favorable action seemed to be imminent."

SISKIYOU HORSES HIT BY GLANDERS; ORDERED KILLED

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 21.—(AP) The Department of Agriculture announced today that an outbreak of glanders, a serious horse and mule disease which can be contracted by humans, has occurred in Siskiyou county and that as a result 15 horses in the Klamath river district have been ordered destroyed.

Dr. Roy H. Mills, department veterinarian, has been sent to the affected area where four ranches have been placed under quarantine.

Department officials said this is the second outbreak of glanders in California this year, the first occurring in the southern end of San Joaquin county last March. Glanders is considered one of the worst of communicable animal diseases.

No trace of glanders in this district was reported this morning by Dr. C. A. Glitzen, veterinarian, who stated that Oregon has been very fortunate in eradicating this disease. "I have not known of a case in this state for 20 years," Dr. Glitzen stated, adding that frequent outbreaks have been reported in California for many years.
