Reames Chapter Has Double Initiation.
 Double initiation was the interesting feature of Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Reames chapter, O. U. S., in the Masonic hall. Seven candidates initiated were: Mrs. Leah Hutchison, Mrs. Leona Simmons, Mrs. Pearl Maguire, Mrs. Georgia Holloway, Mrs. Louise Chaves, Miss Nelle Bump-ton and Dr. S. Ralph Dippel.

Mrs. Cornelia Barnes, worthy matron, presided and refreshments were served following the lodge session by the Past Matrons in the banquet room, where poinsettias and candles were the central motif in the decorations.

Guests were present from several sections of the valley.

 Bernice Wilson was hostess Thursday at a covered dish luncheon at the reunion of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school class, which was conducted between 1917 and 1921, under the leadership of Mrs. H. A. Kennedy, who now makes her home in Roseburg.

While the guests were at the tables a telegram was received from Mrs. Kennedy, carrying greetings to her former Bible students.

 Many social groups are making plans to attend the dance to be sponsored by Oregon State college students from Ashland at the Bellview community house tonight. The next seven of the educational lectures that are being presented by a group of local patriotic societies, through the co-operation of KMED radio station, will be in charge of Crater Lake Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, under the general supervision of Mrs. M. J. Norris, national defense chairman and Mrs. A. M. Childers, chairman of radio.

These lectures on government economics are sponsored by the American Coalition of Patriotic Societies of New York city and are prepared in such a form as to make the affairs and problems of our government more easily understood and appreciated.

On Saturday, December 31, at one o'clock, the regent, Mrs. Volney Dixon, will present the 15th lecture of the series, to be followed by one each Saturday at one o'clock.

Appearing in the December number of the Daughters of the American Revolution magazine is a report of the service held a year ago, by Crater Lake Chapter, when a tablet, placed on the little M. E. church building in Jacksonville, was dedicated and presented to the M. E. denomination. This historic building was the home of the first church in the Rogue River valley, and is one of the oldest, most outstanding, west of the Rocky Mountains. For years, five Protestant denominations held their services in this building.

EARL FEHL ISSUES ORDERS COVERING CO. GOVERNMENT

Earl H. Fehl, county judge elect, who assumes office next Tuesday, yesterday issued a ukase containing 16 articles, covering all phases of county government, and calling for a general reorganization, establishment of a new bureau for county relief, and an audit of the books of the county. No county funds are provided for in the budget for either, it is said.

One of the outstanding proposals for control of county funds as follows:

"That all county funds now on deposit in Jackson county be made available and placed under control and direction of the county court for such re-deposit as may appear necessary."

The plan conflicts with the state law, which, it is pointed out, places the treasurer under heavy bonds, and requires that county money be kept in a duly authorized bank, and makes the treasurer the sole custodian, and responsible for county funds.

Fehl follows the recommendations of the recent grand jury, with the exception of that body's suggestion that the county judge and county commissioners be placed under bond. The county court at present under Oregon law, is under no bonds.

The program, as advanced by County Judge-elect Fehl also provides for divorce of the county health unit, and county relief work from associate organizations, an inventory of all county machinery, and suspension of work until it is completed, the refund of marriage fees to the general fund, change in the system of furnishing meals to county jail prisoners, control of tax title sales, competitive bids for county supplies, discontinuance of use of county autos save for county business, mileage fees save when fixed by law, suspension of the county engineer's office until services appear necessary, no appointment of a county agent until an investigation can be made into the needs of this department of county service, and the supervision of the county court of patients in the county poor farm and sanitariums.

County Judge-elect Fehl asks that his program be made a part of the minutes of the first meeting of the newly created county court. In explanation of the statement of policies, the following concluding statement is made:

"The ultimate purpose of the foregoing reorganization of the county affairs is to reduce operating expenses of the county government so as to relieve the tension on the taxpayer and to give the taxpayers a sound economic business administration, and with a firm resolve, God being my helper, I pledge unto the people of Jackson county, if aided by them and by my colleagues to make good every pledge I have made to my constituents."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

At the annual gathering tonight, at 8:30, members of the First Christian church will vote on nominees for vacant offices. A pot-luck dinner will precede the balloting.

Last year nearly 200 members attended the dinner, more came later for the program.

The meeting will include special numbers, readings and reports for the year by the different officers of the church.

Piano Company to Open Offices Here

A branch of the Cline Piano company, largest exclusive piano organization west of Chicago, is being established this week in the Sparta building at the corner of Main and Riverside. A wholesale and retail office will be located here, and a large number of pianos have already arrived at the display room.

The headquarters will be in charge of C. A. Remington, who announced that three new families will come to Medford to operate the store.

Meanest Robber Assaults Cripple And Takes Roll

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 30.—(AP) And yet another candidate for the dishonorable title of "the meanest robber." A bandit without a conscience slugged a man on crutches here last night and took $110 from him.

The victim was J. D. Lyman, suffering from a leg injury. The thief had been a passenger on the same bus with him. Apparently he saw the money in Lyman's billfold, and when Lyman alighted the bandit followed. A block from the bus station the man struck Lyman on the side of the head, robbed him and fled.

LOCAL ART WORK GIVEN PLACE IN SCHOOL MAGAZINE

A place of prominence in School Arts magazine has again been given to Medford in the December issue. Four full pages and one-half page have been devoted to illustrations of art work done by local pupils under the direction of Louise Hollenback, supervisor of art.

The first page shows crayon drawings of duck toys by grade pupils. The second shows torn paper pictures of a car and a dog. Crayon drawings of toys, made in the 9th, many grades of Lincoln school, are a third page in the magazine. Crayon pictures of the northland, drawn by second grade, here, make up the fourth page.

Torn paper monkeys made by primary pupils are illustrated and share a page with chignon designs by pupils of Jesse Todd, department of art education, University of Chicago.

The work of pupils under Miss Hollenback's direction here has been attracting much attention in the past several issues of the magazine. A copy of the December issue was mailed the Mail Tribune and arrived this morning. The magazine, edited by Pedro J. Lemos of Stanford University, is published in Worcester, Mass.

Winter Sown Grain Damaged In Valley

SAMS VALLEY, Dec. 30.—(Sp.)—Farmers here are deeply concerned over the condition of their fall sown wheat, fearing it is winter killed by the unusual cold snap this month. Six hundred acres was seeded down before the severe cold set in. Old-timers estimate it has been 45 years since grain was winter killed throughout the valley.
