MEDYNSKI PASSES AFTER 40 YEARS SERVICE TO CITY

F. V. Medynski, 52, one of Medford's most prominent citizens, a widely known engineer, and one who did much to shape the progress of Medford during the '90s and early 1900s, died yesterday at his home on North Central, following a brief illness. He had retired from active business for 31 years but continued until his death to work for the advancement of this city.

Mr. Medynski served for a period of years on the city council, was instrumental in obtaining Medford's first water supply, and from 1890, when he arrived at the old Nash hotel, the day after Christmas, until his death, continued to progress with the city, until his name was closely allied with the name of Medford throughout the state.

The son of a direct descendant of Polish nobility, Mr. Medynski was born February 6, 1851, in England. His grandfather, a Polish nobleman, and his family were exiled to Siberia during the war. His father having gone to England before the conflict, escaped this treatment, and finding the members of his family in exile upon return to Poland, went back to England to make his home. He became interpreter in the British parliament and was noted as an engineer and builder.

Mr. Medynski, coming to the United States as a youth, continued to Chicago, Ill., in 1871, and there entered his trade of engineering. He also owned and operated a tugboat on the Great Lakes. While in Chicago he met and married Ella Palmer, who survives him. They were married April 23, 1878, and on June 1, 1881, moved to Des Moines, Iowa, where Mr. Medynski was manager of the largest distillery in the world. Owned by Geo. W. Kidd, it paid into the United States treasury $22,000 a day and consumed products from 106,000 acres of land. The cologne spirits distilled were shipped to France for use in perfumes. While in Des Moines Mr. Medynski was colonel of the Tenth regiment, Select Knights, A. O. U. W., which was later blended with the Tenth regiment, U. S. A., and sent to Manila. Having started westward before the war, he had resigned his military position.

When the Medynskis arrived in Medford, their one daughter, Mrs. Ira T. Moss of Klamath Falls, recalled today, the tracks had just been laid for the Jacksonville railroad.

Mr. Medynski soon built and operated a distillery in which, through a partnership, his daughter stated today, he lost all he had. He then left for Alaska, as chief engineer on one of the 12 river boats of the Moran Bros. of Seattle. Stern wheelers, the boats were constructed to make the run on the Yukon river between St. Michael and Dawson, during the gold rush. As an engineer, Mr. Medynski played an important role in the development of Alaska. He received and treasured the first nugget found at St. Michael. He remained in Alaska until he recovered his fortune, enduring many hardships of the northland. Nine months out of the year the river boats stood in solid ice, which had to be sawed from the boats each morning to keep them from being crushed.

In 1902, Mr. Medynski returned to Medford and bought and improved the property at Main and South Central, where the Medynski building now stands.

During the more than 40 years he was known in Medford, he had cultivated many friends, being a man with very high ideals and sympathy, which extended to all his friends and associates.

Funeral services will be held from the Perl funeral parlors Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Walter Leverette, reader of the Christian Science church, delivering the sermon.

pallbearers will be Cole Holmes, Wm. F. Isaacs, B. E. Harder, Chas. Strang, C. W. Austin and Joe Brown.

Wants Relief Funds.

To the Editor: At the recommendation of B. E. Harder, W. H. Gore, F. B. Wahl, Mayor Wilson, Bert Thieroff, Gene Thorndike, A. C. Walker and the writer, backed by suggestion of the grand jury now in session, County Judge Earl H. Fehl today moved in open meeting of the county court that the state legislature be requested to authorize the transfer of $50,000 from

NEW PEAR RATE EAST PROMISED FOR THIS YEAR

An agreement by the Transcontinental Freight Bureau to establish a new freight rate on pears under a minimum load of 36,000 pounds, of $1.55 per cart, to points east of the Mississippi river, was announced today by the Rogue River Valley Traffic association, subject only to concurrence of eastern lines. Present rates in effect for the same services are $1.73 per cart.

Application for this rate was made four years ago, in the application of the northwestern fruit producing districts for general rate readjustments, but the establishment of this particular rate on the heavy loading of pears was made possible only after arguments had been presented to the originating carriers in the northwest and their recommendation made to the Transcontinental Freight Bureau favoring its establishment.

Growers and shippers of Rogue River Valley pears are particularly gratified at the request for the new rate, since a major portion of the crop may now be shipped at the lower rate, particularly the winter pears. Successful tests conducted during the past five years indicated that pre-cooled winter pears may safely be loaded 720 boxes to the car, instead of the generally accepted 320 boxes. The saving effected through the establishment of this rate will be nine cents per box.

The highway bond sinking funds of Jackson county to a special emergency relief fund forthwith. This can be done without injuring the rights of the bond holders. The relief fund created is to be expended only by order of the county court.

This was recommended in view of the fact that there are now outstanding about 480,000 of county warrants, with no funds to back them. Nearly every fund is overdrawn. In justice to their depositors, the banks of the county cannot indefinitely accept additional warrants, since there is at present a tax delinquency of about $1,500,000.

This motion was voted down by Commissioners Billings and Neslon. Having been requested by Judge Fehl to reorganize the unemployment and relief work in this county (without remuneration) to the end that it may bring a fair return to the taxpayers, I now call upon these two commissioners, as I did in open court, this morning, to IMMEDIATELY provide some other means to meet this emergency so that the unemployed may not be forced to accept payments in warrants that cannot much longer be honored at face value, if at all. HAMILTON PATTON.

All Winter Hats reduced to 50 cents, $1.42-43. ETHELWYN B. HOFFMANN.

Guest of Sisters—Mrs. H. D. Turner of Ashland is a guest here this week of her sisters, Miss Helen Minkler and Mrs. Kate Young.

MRS. JAMES STEWART PASSES FOLLOWING A SHORT ILLNESS

Sophenia Ida Stewart, 49, of 335 Plum street, passed away at the Community hospital early Sunday morning after a short illness. She was born in the Butte Creek country near Lake Creek, Oregon March 3, 1883, and was married to James Stewart in Medford June 10, 1901. To this union were born three daughters and one son. Mrs. Agnes E. Millers, Medford; Mrs. Fern Parlow, Lake Creek, Ore.; Mrs. Ruth Fortin, Medford and George A. Stewart, Medford. There remains also to mourn three grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Edith Jones, Lake Creek, Ore., and one half-sister, Mrs. Edna Van Dyke, Princeton, Idaho.

Mrs. Stewart was a former member of the Pythian Sisters.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Perl Funeral Home Wednesday at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. J. Howell officiating. Interment will take place in the Jacksonville Cemetery.

PERL APPOINTED TO GOLDEN RULE

The Perl Funeral Home of this city has just been appointed by the Order of the Golden Rule as the local member.

This order, we are informed, is composed of progressive funeral directors, who have as their motto, "Service measured not by GOLD but by the GOLDEN RULE." This motto is incorporated in the emblem of the order in a very attractive way.

The emblem itself consists of a knight in full armor, supporting with his right hand a shield upon which the motto is inscribed, and presenting athwart this shield, gripped in his left hand, a drawn and naked sword, as though to signify his readiness to defend the high principles of the order he represents.

Funeral directors who hold fellowship in the Order of the Golden Rule must express a belief in the principles of rendering complete and modern service, governing their conduct by the highest ethical standards developed within the profession, and rendering this service at a moderate price within the reach of all.

The Perl Funeral Home is one of the oldest established organizations of its kind in this part of the state. For over 22 years this firm has served southern Oregon people, being originally established by John A. Perl, who is active in civic and fraternal circles of this city. Frank Perl, his son, who was elected to the office of county coroner at the last general election, is now associated with his father in the management of the Perl Funeral Home. Frank has completed extensive studies in his line in the east, and is thoroughly capable to assume an important place in this old established Medford firm.

MARTIN HADDOCK RITES THURSDAY

Martin Zacharah Haddock, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Haddock, 1104 North Central, passed away near Roseburg, Oregon, January 7th, as the result of an automobile accident on the Pacific highway. Martin was a member of the local Junior High school, and would have entered senior high school this next semester. He was a fine chap, and held in high esteem by his fellow students, and instructors.

The family has made their home in Medford for the past two years, and their wide circle of friends will be grieved to learn of this misfortune.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Haddock of this city, one brother, Arlon Haddock and four sisters, Marjorie, Virginia, Juanita and Lola all at home and his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Jones of Dayton, Wash., and his grandfather, Zach Haddock of Weston, Iowa.

The body will be brought to Medford by the Perl Funeral Home, and funeral services will be conducted from the Perl Funeral Home Thursday at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. W. B. Baird of the Christian church will officiate. Interment will take place in the Siskiyou Memorial Park.

ROBERT SKINNER WILL REST HERE

Robert John Skinner, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Skinner passed away at Roseburg, Oregon, January 7, 1933 from effects of an automobile accident on the Pacific highway.

Robert was a member of the local Junior High school, and would have entered the Senior high school in a few days. He was an efficient scholar, and was held in high esteem by his fellow students and professors. The many friends of the family will also be grieved by his sudden and unexpected death.

He leaves his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Skinner, two brothers, Arlon and Harold aged six and three, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Skinner of this city and one half-brother, Bradford Moser of Portland.

Funeral services under direction of the Perl Funeral Home will be announced later.

DEADLY THRIFT (Time Magazine) This country is rich and it is sound. It can be prosperous for years in replacements and repairs alone. It does not need to wait for some big thing to happen or for some new invention. It can do the simple thing. Paint its homes, for example. I believe that every unemployed family head could have work for two months in painting the buildings now going to rack and ruin thru nature's ravage.

Do You Know THAT CANDY

Costs the Average Family More Than Electricity? dollar the average American family spends in the United States for electricity, $1.70 is expended for Candy. Also, while the electrical dollar is being spent to furnish light, do the cooking, wash, iron and clean, furnish refrigeration and entertainment (through the radio), the average American family spends $1.60 for ice cream and $3.33 for tobacco. There is nothing else you buy that gives you so much for so little as Electricity.

In comparison with other necessities, electricity is CHEAP... so cheap that no family can afford to do without its clean efficiency. Electricity is the cheapest thing you buy.

THE CALIFORNIA OREGON POWER COMPANY

Announcing the Affiliation of PERL FUNERAL HOME

With The Order of The Golden Rule An International Affiliation of Dependable Funeral Directors

In appointing the above firm as a member of the Order, it confers a distinction shared by other funeral directors of high professional standing throughout the United States, England and Canada.
