BRAYTON BOWLERS TAKE FIRST GAME IN ELKS' TOURNEY

First game of the Elks' bowling tournament was rolled Monday night between Everett Brayton's and Joe Flegel's teams. It was a close contest from the beginning to the end, and while Brayton's team won two out of three, their margin on the set of three games was only 27 points.

Roy Pruitt was high man, with Solsky only seven points under him. If the first game is any criterion of what is to follow, this tournament will be one of the best ever played on the Elks' bowling alley.

The Sherwood and Gill teams will roll tonight.

TEXACOS TO INVADe GRANTS PASS FRIDAY FOR OPENING CLASH

Seeking new women to conquer, the Texaco basketball quintet, under the management of Roy Shreve, will invade the territory of the Grants Pass All-Stars Friday night for the first game of the season between the two cities.

Shreve said that the Grants Pass all-star team was made up of the star players of the several industrial teams of that city, and were, all in all, a hot outfit. Referee Deal, who will handle the game, is a liberal referee. Shreve said, and some fast basketball is in store.

The Grants Pass All-Stars have lost but one game this year, Shreve said, and that to the Ashland normal. The Texaco outfit stands in the same position, and except for each having lost to the same team no other means of comparison of strength can be found.

Texaco's starting lineup Friday will be Swanson and G. Harrington, forwards; Laing, center and Deitrick and Williams guards. The starting lineup for the Grants Pass All-Stars has not been announced.

The Texacos are particularly anxious to play teams that will provide tough competition, as they are bringing their own team from Grants Pass, which will be a special attraction. The Jacksonville-Texaco game promises to be the highlight of the independent basketball play here this winter, followers of both teams say. Arrangements for a game in the near future are nearing completion.
