ASHLAND'S QUINT HUMBLER G. PASS

Ashland high school's basketballers downed the sturdy Grants Pass five Friday night by the score of 35-13, which puts Ashland decidedly in the running, according to Donald Faber, coach of the Ashland team.

Ashland's team is composed almost entirely of sophomores who have had little real basketball experience. Willie Durham and a substitute, Smeed, are the only two upperclassmen on the entire squad, and the way the sophomores are traveling this year, Faber said, it looks like a few championship teams for future years.

Howard Hobson, coach of the Ashland normal school, refereed the game against Grants Pass. The Ashland starting lineup was Willie Durham and Billie Hoole, forwards; Robert Hardy center and Hjalmer Kanasto and Hedrick Baughman, guards. Gearhart was substituted for Durham, and Smeed for Kanasto.

Lincoln grade school defeated the Roosevelt school 24-9, and Jackson defeated Washington 22-16 in the opening rounds of the grade school basketball conference played Friday, according to Ray Henderson, who is in charge of grade school athletics.

Washington school won the pennant last year, and despite the defeat of Friday is still in the running for another pennant. The pennant is given on a percentage basis, and one defeat, more or less, doesn't matter so much, Henderson said.

High point players of the first round were Campbell, Reynolds and Malkemus, of Jackson; Bennett, of Washington; Newland, of Lincoln and Montleith, of Roosevelt.

Lincoln's squad, all of whom saw action Friday, consisted of Newland, Shaw, Clark, Ludwig and Perry, with Church, Newton and McManus, subs. Roosevelt's squad was Montleith, Todd, Nelson, Thorburn and Hoots, on the starting lineup, and Kressee, Stanuley, Dever and Boslein, subs.

Jackson's starting lineup was Campbell, Moore, Eads, Scripser and Reynolds, with Rice, Foster, Jennings, Malkemus, Worden, Barber and Dooms as subs, and Washington's starting lineup was Dougherty, Smeed, Bennett, Miner and Rhodes, with Finch, Stewart, Henselman, Prentice and Younger, as subs.

Monday night Gatchell plays Thayer and Tuesday night Pifer plays Brown.

One of the interesting features to be presented in Medford high school this year, is the production of a comic opera by the Glee clubs and the members of the band.

The operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," will be held in the auditorium of the high school, February 23 and 24, under the supervision of Miss Marriet Baldwin and Wilson Wait.

The presentation is a satire on the English navy by Gilbert and Sullivan, who gained fame by their many satires on English habits and customs and on their policy of class distinction.

The chief character of the play is the First Lord of Admiralty, Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, who gained such a high rank in the navy because of his ability to polish brass work in the office in which he formerly received employment.

Tryouts for the farce are now under way and an excellent evening of entertainment is promised.

TEXACO HOOPSTERS TRIM G. P. PLAYERS

The Texaco basketball quintet remains as one of southern Oregon's best independent outfits by virtue of its victory over the Grants Pass all-star team in Grants Pass Friday night.

The Texaco won 35-25, after trailing the Cavemen until the final quarter, when Swanson, Newland and Deltrich ran wild to gather in the 13 extra points.

Sam Colton, manager of the Texaco, now claims his team is far better than the Jacksonville quintet which lost Friday to the Medford Tigers, and wants a game soon.

The Grants Pass all-stars, Colton said, want a return game here this week. The Texaco lineup was Lang, Newland, Swanson, Deltrich, and Williams, with Green, Clancy and Anderson subbing throughout the game.

Grants Pass was represented by Creal, Bennett, McCarthy, Johnson, Smith, Pruitt and Bennett. Deal, of Grants Pass, refereed.

The first big ski jumping tournament to be put on by the Mount Shasta Snowmen this winter is scheduled to take place at Snowman hill today.

Washington school won the pennant last year, and despite the defeat of Friday is still in the running for another pennant. The pennant is given on a percentage basis, and one defeat, more or less, doesn't matter so much, Henderson said.
