D. A. R. News

The next three lectures on governmental economies, sponsored by local patriotic societies, will complete the schedule for Grater Lake Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. They will be delivered by former regents of the chapter, Mrs. B. G. Harding, Mrs. G. Q. D'Albini and Mrs. M. J. Norris, on the Saturdays, January 28, February 4 and February 11, at 1 o'clock.

In these addresses, many questions relative to our form of government and the management of public affairs are answered and their purpose is to give to the American people a clearer understanding of American ideals and policies.

The series of lectures will continue through the courtesy and co-operation of KEMED, throughout the spring and early summer.

MANN'S LAUNCH DOLLAR EVENT

Mann's Department Store will launch a sensational three-day event tomorrow, featuring hundreds of dollar bargains throughout the big store. The extension of the usual Mann's Dollar Day sale over three shopping days is being made for the convenience of southern Oregon people who may not have an opportunity to come to this city Saturday. The same bargain prices will be effective Monday and Tuesday, according to John Moffatt.

"Current prices have intensified the purchasing power of the dollar," according to Mann's advertisement in today's advertisement in this paper. There is an exceptionally outstanding group of specials being featured during this three-day event which will make it well worth while for shoppers to investigate when they make their initial shopping visit to Medford since the big snow storm.

BUTTER MARKET HOLDING STEADY; EGGS UNCHANGED

PORTLAND, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Market for butter reflected a generally steady tone today. Since the normal differential between extras and standards was replaced on the Portland produce exchange, there has been a better undertone in the trade. Attempt of interests closely allied with 92-score butter to maintain a differential of 1c above standard cube stock, has failed because the general public prefers the standard at the difference. Butterfat values were firm.

Trading in the egg market continues generally unchanged as to price with more or less confusion still shown, although there appears a tendency on the part of distributors to get together.

Market for live chickens continues to show a well maintained tone with most operators paying practically the same price as last week. Light hens and broilers continue in chief shortage.

Fractional advance in the price of country-killed calves. Sales were being made fractionally above the previous extreme.

In the country-killed meat trade practically no change in price was shown for recent days for either hogs or lambs. There was a favorable tone for all mutton, too.

Demand for dressed turkeys was holding well locally although extreme prices were not always realized. Most sales of top hens were around 14-15c with some 13-14c. Less lower grade stuff was arriving.

Delightful Cruise for "Miss Medford"

That's the way "Miss Medford" and her traveling companions will feel every morning aboard ship on her Hawaiian cruise. When the silvery bugles tones float through the air, it starts the day off right—and what a day it will be!

The meals themselves are delectable, served in the finest manner by the most skilled of servants and prepared by experienced chefs who order themselves to give the most appetizing menus. And how one can eat aboard ship! The sports on deck, and the fine, clear sea breeze air certainly put a keen edge on the appetite.

There are all those exciting deck mase to play! And deck promenading is always delightful for the sea is so entrancing, mysterious and fascinating.

The house cleared its calendar during the forenoon session, but Speaker Snell announced an afternoon meeting to permit further introduction of bills and to permit committees to report out more bills for the Monday calendar.

Four Bills Passed.
 Four bills were passed in addition to the senate resolution calling for a committee trip to Olympia to confer with Washington legislators to put into effect uniform regulation for fishing in the Columbia river.

The measures receiving house approval included provisions for the state highway commission to acquisition of rights of way, an amendatory measure, a bill further defining adulterated food; a bill providing for disposal of obsolete merchandise carried by state institutions on inventories and the amendatory act providing payment of fees for filing of trade marks. The house defeated the bill providing a period of time chattle mortgage liens may be placed on crops.
