Senate Committee Told That Thousands of Circulars Sent Farmers and Buyers Urging Protest On Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A senate committee was told today that the Institute of American Meat Packers had sent out between two and three hundred thousand circular letters asking hog producers and commission men to protest against the domestic allotment plan.

G. F. Swift, president of Swift and company and head of the public relations committee of the institute, was questioned about the circular after he had told the agriculture committee the plan if applied to hogs would cause a 100 per cent increase in the cost of ham and bacon and harm the farmer.

Protest Urged. Swift said the letter asked growers and commission men to protest to their congressmen or the chairmen of the house and senate agriculture committees.

He said he saw no hope for a better price for the hog producer until the buying power was restored to city residents.

At about the same time, Paul Beator, farm loan commissioner, was putting before the senate finance committee opposition, expressed by Secretary Mills in a letter to the Federal Reserve Bank.

The letter said the plan proposed by the measure would disrupt the farm land bank and federal reserve systems and have harmful results on the nation's currency system.

Would Ruin Market. Destruction of the daily cash market for hogs if the bill should pass, was predicted by Swift.

"You can get a fixed price for a portion of the hog supply," he said, "but you simply make the balance of the supply unmarketable."

"Inasmuch as fresh pork is highly perishable, the packer is always in the position of having to sell, and sell promptly; but the consumer is never in the position of having to buy other foods."

"I hope you realize what the effect of artificially advancing the cost of hogs to the packing industry by law would be. The packing industry would necessarily be obliged to reduce materially its purchase of hogs."

Public Would Walk. "It would be absolutely impossible to buy all of the hogs at the highest price and sell the product at the higher price because the public would not buy it and would go to substitute, and it would be absolutely impossible to get more for pork without materially decreasing volume, simply because legislation required the packer to pay more for hogs."

"Pork prices now selling wholesale from 6 to 8 cents a pound would probably sell at twice the current figure or more, and the same would doubtless be true of hams and bacon and the more expensive cuts."

"A law of this kind would not only
