ASK OUSTER OF SENATE OFFICER

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS. "MAN THROWS SELF UNDER TRAIN." So reads a headline in the news of the day.

HERE is another headline: "Roosevelt Off on Sea Cruise to Get Rest." He will need it.

EDOUARD DELADIER, we read, is APPOINTED premier of France. The premier of France is much more important than the president of France.

NO ODDIOUS comparison is intended. The French like their system best. We like ours best.

HERE is a question that is occupying a lot of attention in the newspapers: "Shall we employ married teachers whose husbands have jobs?"

THE HOUSE and senate of the Oregon legislature adopt a joint resolution urging the highway commission to build wooden bridges in Oregon.

THE HOUSE and senate of the Oregon legislature adopt a joint resolution urging the highway commission to build wooden bridges in Oregon.

WHY NOT insist on the use of lumber for bridges in Oregon? Lumber is Oregon's most important manufactured product.

WHY IS lumber not generally used for bridges in all places where wooden bridges are more economical and equally good?

THE lumbermen of the country have been overlooking a bet there. The house of representatives of the congress of the United States, by a vote of 161 to 2, REJECTS a bill to reduce the salaries of its members from $10,000 a year to $5000.

THE Oregon legislature, at its opening session, rejected a proposal to cut the costs of the session by failing to provide for the members such conveniences as law books, pencils, clerk hire, etc.

BRIBE CLAIMS IN MAGAZINE STORY TO COST POSITION

Senate Judiciary Committee Recommends Immediate Removal of David Barry—Professor Denies Story

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Immediate removal of David S. Barry as senate sergeant at arms for writing a magazine article that some members of congress accept bribes was recommended today by the senate judiciary committee.

The case comes up in the senate automatically late this afternoon for final determination.

It was generally conceded the committee's recommendation would be adopted, Barry already being under suspension.

A motion by Senator Robinson (R., Ind.), to recommend permitting the 73-year old officer to resign was rejected by a vote of 11 to 4.

Immediately prior to the drastic committee action, Professor William C. Johnston, of George Washington university here, had denied reports that he had taught his political science students there was corruption among the national legislators.

"I have never made a statement reflecting on the integrity of congress," he told the committee, and was not questioned.

Barry had testified he was defending congress in the article against a widespread belief it was corrupt, and had cited Johnston's teachings.

SYNDICALISM LAW STAYS IN STATUTE BY SENATE'S VOTE

Solons Vote, 22 to 8, to Retain Measure After Two Hours' Debate—Medical Bill Stays On Calendar

SALEM, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Oregon criminal syndicalism law will remain on the statute books. By a vote of 22 to 8, members of the state senate late yesterday decided to retain the act, following a three-hour debate over a divided report.

In the house, meanwhile, the so-called medical fundamentals bill was assured its place on the calendar after a debate was held on a divided report. The majority report that the bill pass was approved by an overwhelming vote, but no vote was taken on the measure itself.

SALEM, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The house and senate today, following the debates of yesterday, settled down to and by the noon recess had disposed of a score of measures.

Senator Jay Upton made a valiant fight today against an adverse report of the education committee on his bill which would change the legal school ages of pupils from 4 to 20 inclusive, to 6 and 18 inclusive, with the result that the senate vote was a tie and the bill goes on the calendar for third reading. The bill was bitterly debated.

The bill was a proposed amendment to the existing law whereby the county levies a school tax and distributes it to the districts on the basis of the number of persons of school age. Upton claimed that to change the age limits to 6 and 18 years would save the taxpayers $575,000 a year.

Establishment of a central clearing house for finger prints at the state penitentiary, in co-operation with the state police, would be authorized in a bill passed by the house.

Under plans for the reorganization of the World War Veterans' State Aid commission, the house passed a bill eliminating the cash loan refund, making 1938 the final date on which loans are available instead of 1945 and providing that for the next two years all loans made by the commission would be at the rate of 4 instead of 4 per cent. The measure received the endorsement of the American Legion and other veterans' organizations.

SILLY

The Daily News declares in a front page box today that: "Over the long distance telephone on Saturday, February 4, a representative of the Medford Mail Tribune made the statement, 'If George Coddling is removed we are broke.'"

No representative of the Mail Tribune made any such statement and the publication of such a claim is a silly falsehood.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTENED MATERIALLY TODAY FOR THE SECURING OF FEDERAL FUNDS FOR THE PRODUCTION OF THE 1933 PEAR CROP IN THE ROGUE RIVER VALLEY.

A telegram was received this morning by J. C. Thompson, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, from Senator Frederick Steiwer at Washington, D. C., as follows:

"In conference this morning with Director McCarthy and other officers of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, it was advised that loans would be made on crop security alone. Final action has not been taken on loan values, but action will be taken on apples within a few days, and pears soon thereafter."

A similar telegram was received by B. E. Harder, president of the First National bank.

The advice that the federal loans would be made on crop security alone was held by chairman Thompson to be cheering, and what the agricultural committee has been striving for.

It means that the loans will be made on the crop, if waivers be secured on other obligations, and that the federal money will be protected by the crop, and not the land, etc., etc. This will be beneficial to growers whose orchards are encumbered. The amount sought is $750,000, and

MORTGAGE RELIEF FOR FARMER WILL BE PUSHED AHEAD

Emergency Measure to Be Drawn, Hurried to Enactment This Session Is Decision Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A decision to draw up and push forward enactment this session an emergency measure for farm mortgage relief was made today by a senate banking sub-committee considering the problem.

The sub-committee, headed by Senator Fletcher (D., Fla.), decided it would be useless to seek enactment this session of any of the huge permanent proposals for revising the whole agricultural credit structure.

The group decided to meet tomorrow and formulate a bill designed to give a breathing space for the farm owner that have brought disorder in the farm belt.

"If we can't get the bill drafted and out this week it will be no use to try to get it through this session," said Senator Steiwer (R., Ore.), a member of the group.

To this end, Steiwer indicated, the committee might combine some features of emergency bills introduced by Senators Hull (D., Tenn.), Harrison (D., Miss.), and possibly others.

The Hull bill would permit from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 loans by the Reconstruction corporation to holders of farm mortgages to pay on delinquent taxes and installments on condition there be no foreclosure for two years.

BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR FEDERAL AID IN FRUIT HARVEST

Prospects brightened materially today for the securing of federal funds for the production of the 1933 pear crop in the Rogue River valley.

LARGE AUDIENCE GREET SPEAKER ON WONDERLAND

The dining room of the Hotel Medford basement was filled to capacity today noon for the chamber of commerce forum program, devoted to the Shasta Cascade Wonderland.

Members of the Rotary club, members of the chamber of commerce and guests eager to hear more about their own section of the country, listened attentively to the story brought to them by T. L. Stanley, secretary-manager of the wonderland.

"Our job is to get the tourists here and to get them to linger here," he declared, "not to speed them through the territory in the old manner. In Jackson county they should spend at least five days; one at historic Jacksonville, a day fishing the Rogue, two days at Crater lake, a day in Ashland. The tourist problem is naturally related to this region, for we have everything to attract the visitor."

Important benefits to be derived by the region through tourist travel were emphasized by Mr. Stanley through the use of many maps and figures, showing the gain during the past year in tourist travel through the wonderland and the amount of money left by tourists.

The speaker was introduced by Prof. Irving Vining of Ashland, who also drew many inviting word pictures of the region, emphasizing the need for promotion of the Shasta Cascade Wonderland program.

Following the address, W. S. Bolger, president of the chamber of commerce, assured the speaker that the local chamber realizes the value of co-operation in such a program and will do everything possible to support the enterprise. He also urged chamber of commerce members to join the goodwill tour to the Eagle Point, Oregon, tonight, leaving through the chamber of commerce at 7:15 o'clock.

Today's meeting was opened by Dr. W. E. Lantis of the Rotary club. Announcement of the ham golf tournament at the local course Sunday morning was made by Hamilton Patton.

BRIDGE TIMBERS FROM SO. OREGON

Southern Oregon timber may help to span the Golden Gate, according to M. H. McVay of Crescent City, director in the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway district, who visited here yesterday. He is looking over the lumber situation, he stated, and is anxious to obtain some from this district for the mammoth construction.

The ground-breaking ceremony, preparatory to construction of the bridge, to be the greatest single span in the world, will be held in San Francisco, February 25 and 26. McVay stated, and a glorious celebration, fitting so great a bridge, will be held. The United States fleet will be out, the Akron will float over the bay district and the bay region and all of California is making the rest of the west to join the festivities.

BOISE CHAMBER SECURES LOCAL MAN'S SERVICES

Formal Resignation to Be Given Board of Directors Thursday Is Expectation—Means Better Position

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Mayor James P. Pope, senator-elect from Idaho, announced yesterday that W. T. Lockwood, secretary of the Boise chamber of commerce, would be his secretary in Washington.

Senator-elect Pope will leave here February 15 and Lockwood will leave March 1 after initiating his own successor into office. C. T. Baker, Medford, Ore., will become secretary of the Boise chamber.

Information was received here today confirming report of the appointment of C. T. Baker, secretary of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, as secretary of the Boise, Idaho, chamber. Wire from Mr. Baker was received last night by Mrs. Baker announcing that he would return to Medford Wednesday. His formal resignation to the Boise chamber.

A big public works program will be the inflationary step to grow out of the current Harrison hearings.

The boys have not decided definitely on it yet, but that is what they have in mind to offset all this currency inflation stuff. They think the might start it off with five billions, stepping it up higher later, if necessary.

Mr. Roosevelt is not wedded to the idea, but he has consented to let the boys explore it.

A trial balloon for the public works plan was put out in New York last week by Prof. Tugwell of the Roosevelt board of best minds. He worked it into a seven-point new deal program. You will hear more of it from here on.

Tugwell tried a trick in his scheme. His basic points included a balanced budget and sound currency, as well as five billions for public works. Those three things are hardly analogous.

The new deal so far includes the following promises:

An announcement for a balanced budget; 25 per cent economies; an increase in income taxes; prohibition repeal; the allotment bill; sound currency; a war debt arrangement which will bring economic improvements; Russian rapprochement.

Other ideas will be added before it

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 6.—Funny thing, in the same paper Saturday that told about the senate versus honesty, the Coolidge autobiography in that very day's installment said:

"If the senate has weakness it's because the people send men lacking in ability and character. But this is not the fault of the senate. It can't choose its members. It has to work with what is sent to it."

"When I was elected vice president I was going to learn the rules of the senate. Then I found that the senate had but one rule and that was that the senate would do anything it wanted to do whenever it wanted to do it."

Now there's the words of a man that listened to 'em for two years and argued with 'em for six.

Yours,

Will Rogers

FRANCE WILL PAY BEFORE MARCH 4 OFFICIAL BELIEF

War Debt Installment Manuevers Like Poker Game—Big Public Works Program May Be Inflation Aid

By PAUL MALLON (Copyrighted by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Britain and France found out belatedly about Mr. Stimson's little international poker game on war debts.

That explains the curious manuevers you have seen recently from Paris and London. Poker Dick was a forthright man compared with the writers of officially inspired dispatches lately from abroad. The inside on the thing is that Britain suspects the real purpose of Mr. Stimson's game, which is to make France pay. She cannot be a party to that trick because she has an agreement with France.

Considerably more bluffing will go on before anybody shows his hand.

The French were on the verge of paying last week when they awoke to what Stimson was doing. Bankers in close touch with them had information that the French leaders were working on an arrangement to push the chamber of deputies into line. She was afraid England was getting preferred sub-rosa treatment from us. Later she became wary.
