AUTO SUSPECT TO LEARN HIS FATE

Arthur Rod, indicted by the grand jury for taking an auto belonging to another, will hear the decision in his case in the morning. The hearing before Circuit Judge H. D. Norton was completed yesterday, Rod waiving the right of a jury trial. At the same time, disposition will be made of the case of Otto Ruter, who entered a plea of guilty in the same case. Ruter is on parole from the court, which was granted three years ago. Rod and Ruter were charged with theft of the auto of Sanford Richardson of Central Point, from South Central avenue last December. They were arrested following a wild chase over the country lanes north of Central Point, by state police.
