SEIZED NEWSPRINT LEGALLY HELD IS RULE OF JUSTICE

In an opinion handed down this morning by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman, the seizure under an attachment filed by Eugene Wright, for back salary upon newspaper in the Medford News Publishing company, is upheld. The "third party" claim of J. A. LaDieu, manager, and other News employees, that the newspaper belonged to them, under a profit-sharing plan, is held "not sufficiently proven," and that the News failed to establish facts affecting the validity of the attachment.

The suit was instituted to test the validity of the attachment, following the filing of the writ, and the seizure of the paper by Constable George Prescott. It was contended by the "third party claimants" that the newspaper was their property, and not the property of the publishing company, under an agreement signed last December by a number, but not all, of the employees. Wright was not a signatory. Neither was the agreement, introduced as evidence, signed by L. A. Banks, editor and publisher, as "party of the first part." It was held that discrepancy made the agreement not binding.

LaDieu testified that under the cooperative agreement, he had the right to "hire and fire." Paul Luy testified that he had been discharged by a letter signed by L. A. Banks, for the publishing concern. The letter was produced in evidence. A bill of sale of newspaper to Electa Fehl, after the attachment service, also figured in the testimony. Justice Coleman mailed copies of the decision to Attorney Allison Motion for Wright, and Attorney W. E. Phipps, appearing for the News employees.

A group gathered in the justice court, in the belief that the decision would be oral. They were informed of the findings. The records of the justice court show that from 12 to 15 attachments have been filed in the past six weeks, in the regular course of business, and none but the Wright attachment created any public interest.

MEDFORD DEBATE TEAMS WIN TWICE OVER ASHLANDERS

Medford high school's debate teams yesterday won the judge's decision in both contests with Ashland high school on the subject, "Resolved: That at least 50 per cent of all state and local revenues should be collected from sources other than tangible property." Professor Waldred Dahlberg of the department of English, University of Oregon, acted as critic judge.

The local high school, with Ralph R. Bailey as debate coach, was represented in Ashland yesterday afternoon by Dolph James and Winifred Roseborough, who upheld the affirmative of the question. They debated against the Ashland negative team, George Smith and Florence Cummings, who are coached by Miss Frances Tomlinson.

About two hundred Medford and Ashland people were in attendance at the debate held here last night, when the Medford negative team, Frances Perry and Cleo Hicks, met the Ashland affirmative, Rachel Forsythe and Elmo Andrews.

The next debates in the southern Oregon conference in which Medford participates, are scheduled for Thursday, with Grants Pass. Medford will be represented on the affirmative team by Elizabeth Perry and Dolph James, who will debate the Grants Pass negative at the senior high school at two o'clock. Medford negative and Grants Pass affirmative meet in the Climate City at that evening.

New York is not so sure that Premier Bennett of Canada will be able to get away with his sound money policy. Pressure for inflation from both raw material and manufacturing interests is very strong. The plight of the raw material producers will hamper Canada's recovery considerably. Neither wheat nor copper has a chance of coming back for a long time. The gold mines will help but not enough to turn the tide.

SAYS FEHL SHOULD TELL GRAND JURY HOW HANDS TIED

To the Editor: The Good Government Campaign should be composed of good citizens, and Jackson county has as good citizens as the sun ever shone on. I have seen in the audiences at the Good Government meeting, people of Christian character, who can be classified as intelligent, refined, and law-abiding citizens, and as good as any in Jackson county, but they take for granted any statement that is made, and I believe they are misled and misinformed by an epidemic of rotten politics.

While I am writing this I want to make it plain that I do not belong to any organization, as there are too many organizations now that want to wash out their dirty linen of personal grievance at public expense. Why not organize and go in a body as church members, and state to our officers that we are here to give you moral support, to make this community safe to live in and end the fussing which has hurt us all, and protect our children and government.

I want to state to the good people of the Good Government Campaign, that I have attended every one of your meetings, and have heard the seditious, inflammatory and inciteous remarks, that I call ignorant remarks, which would convict you under the syndicalism law, and if anything should happen you will be accessories. I am not trying to influence you against your Good Government Campaign. Don't go to attorneys. Go to the law library in the courthouse, and see and read the law yourself, and see how you are jeopardizing your liberty by your remarks.

Another thing, when an officer is given a warrant to carry out the court's order, he should not be made a target for threats. He is not the judge and jury. His duty is to protect you and your children and homes, and obey the legal processes as established under the Stars and Stripes.

I want to say this to Judge Earl Fehl: I read and hear that your hands are tied by Billings and Nealon. Go before the grand jury and have them untied if illegal. If not, shut up and don't keep up this contention because they don't think as you do.

For they have as much right as you in that court. I think if you get balanced up you may make a good county judge. This contention is not helping Jackson county. Recall elections cost money and would feed a great many people. Let's forget all this turmoil and put our shoulders to the wheel, for the betterment of all. If there is a crooked official, indict him the same as anybody else. I believe law and order has broken down in Jackson county. It has become a disgrace to be in any official capacity, and the officers are cursed from dog-catcher to president. Let's quit wrangling.

I am like the lady in the meeting who rose up and demanded action. I think the general public wants action to stop the noise that is keeping people up at work. Many worthy people cannot get work, because capital does not care to send its money where there is so much fussing all the time. The Good Government leaders have not created any jobs, but they have some belittled over the county, inflaming the minds of good people, and urging them to come to Medford to wash their political linen and personal grudges, and throw the dirty suds on good people. Fifteen dollars was collected to send a telegram to Washington, D. C., but no collection was taken up for any hungry people at the meeting, if any.

In conclusion, I want to say, "Go to it, Good Government," reveal every law that has been broken and tell it to the grand jury, and indict everyone who has broken the law, and send them to jail, regardless of their station, for the safety and protection of the people who want an end to political rows for a while.

JUDGE SKIPWORTH HERE NEXT WEEK IN RECOUNT CASE

If matters in his own district will permit, Circuit Judge G. F. Skipworth of Eugene, will be here next week to hear arguments and motions in the election contest proceedings of former Sheriff Ralph G. Jennings against Sheriff Gordon L. Schermerhorn. Judge Skipworth expected to be here this week, but was delayed by trials in his own court.

The recount matter has been pending, in one way and another, since early in the year. There are a number of constitutional points of law involved, including "the intent of the voter." One contention is that the "write-in" vote without an "X" before it is invalid. The counter-claim is that when the voter wrote in the name of Jennings, he showed emphatically who he desired to vote for, even if the "X" was omitted. The legality of Jennings' candidacy, inasmuch as he was a defeated candidate at the spring primary, may also be argued.

Judge L. G. Lewelling of Linn county, assigned to hear the receivership suit of the News Publishing Co., L. B. Tuttle, president, against the Medford News Publishing Company, L. A. Banks, president, has advised that owing to pressure of business in his own court, he will be unable to come here before the last of the month. The old News company seeks possession and $11,000 allegedly due on promissory notes issued for purchase.

In the recount contest, Jennings claims that he was elected to the sheriff's office by not less than 97 votes, and that 99 votes cast for him were discarded on "technical errors" by election boards.
