

SOLONS GUFFAW AS BUSINESSMEN BARE IGNORANCE

Aspects of the Insull mess. There was no favoritism as between the Republicans and Democrats. Both got off lightly.

The British flip-flop was responsible for the stronger action taken by the League of Nations against Japan. There are increasing indications in officialdom that Britain came around because the Chinese were threatening action against the large British holdings in China.

Some of our officials believe she also had in mind the coming war debt negotiations with us. That appears to be only partially true. The real reason was fear of what the Chinese would do to British investments.

Increasing quantities of irate mail are pouring in on the senators from out in the country. Most of it demands action to end filibusters. It is evident many of the scribblers do not know what filibusters are but they are bitterly opposed to them. That is why you have witnessed this recent agitation to change the senate rules and hectic efforts to restore congressional prestige.

Added to that is the fact that the Democrats realize they have too many wildmen like Huey Long on their hands. They can see they are not going to be able to get their program through next session unless they change the rules so they can handle these boys.

You will have an opportunity shortly to see how sincere the senators are about economy.

Mr. Hoover has called the usual special session of the senate at noon March 4. That must be done for confirmation of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet. But the law gives each senator mileage home and back for the special session. He may not even move out of his senate chair between the time the old session expires at noon and a moment later when the new session begins, but the law gives him mileage just the same.

A few days later when Mr. Roosevelt calls the special legislative session they will get mileage again.

That is what is known as gravy.

FRUITGROWERS MEET SATURDAY WILL POINT TO SAVINGS IN SPRAY

The meetings of fruitgrowers called for 1:30 p. m. Saturday, February 25, at the court house auditorium will be of great interest to all, according to L. P. Wilcox, county agent.

With finances at a low ebb, the question of an effective but economical spray program is of great importance. L. G. Gentner of the Southern Oregon Experiment station has been obtained as speaker to discuss certain orchard pests, such as blister mite, rust mite and codling moth, and how best to control these insects with the minimum amount of cost. Prof. F. O. Reimer, who has during the past season continued his investigations on the reaction of arsenite of lead with certain well waters, will report on his findings. Also, Professor Reimer has some new and interesting data to present on the question of soil fertility.

All growers are urged to be present at the auditorium by the specified time and to enter into the discussion of these important questions.

APPLIGATE GRANGERS GIVE PLAY SATURDAY IN COUNTY CONTEST

Applegate Grange is staging a one-act farce Saturday entitled "Pa's New Housekeeper," which will be their attempt to win honorable mention by the judges of Jackson County Recreational club.

The plays are being staged by the various Granges and clubs in the county, the three winners to compete at a later date in Medford for the prize, a trip to Corvallis for the winning cast.

Applegate is justly proud of their amateurs and feel sure of their success. In the past three years they have put on several plays which have been successful and the notice of another always fills the house.

Herbert Elmore, the director, has taken considerable pains and time with the following cast and as all of them have participated in previous plays, it is felt that it will not be long till the term amateur will be dropped.

The cast: Pa Jackson (widower, who has de-

HUGE SLIDE OF ROCK CRUSHES LIFE FROM SYKES CREEK MINER

LeRoy C. Brubaker, 33, was almost instantly killed Tuesday afternoon, while working under a 10-foot wall of rock and gravel on the Jackson property up Sykes creek.

Brubaker, with his brother-in-law, Clyde Ringer, was shoveling gravel in the Jackson property up Sykes creek. Brubaker, with his brother-in-law, Clyde Ringer, was shoveling gravel in the sluice boxes at the foot of the embankment and Ringer had just walked a few feet away to wash out a trial pan when he heard a crash and turned to see several tons of gravel and dirt lying where they had stood only a second or so before. The head and shoulders of the victim were not buried and indications were that Brubaker had probably been aware of the danger, only too late to escape.

He was thrown chest down across a ledge of rock. After working frantically for a half hour or more Ringer left to get help.

An immense rock rested across Brubaker's hips and a slightly smaller one on his back. He also had a bad skull fracture as well as extreme internal injury. After the victim was gotten out he was taken to the Wilmer store where friends and neighbors worked over him until Dr. Bailey of Grants Pass arrived and said he had been almost instantly killed.

Mr. Brubaker was unmarried, making his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Clyde Ringer of Wilmer. Two brothers and two sisters and his parents all reside at Pomona, Calif., to which place the body will be shipped. The body will be accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Ringer.

The deceased was born near Los Angeles. He was highly respected in the community in which he lived, and was master of Enterprise Grange and his death was a great shock to the community.

GOOD STYLE is never extreme. If you look around at the people who dress in good taste, you'll see that there's never anything "flashy" about what they wear.

Come to think of it . . .

it's very much the same with cigarettes.

No cigarette should ever be "strong." That means that they should never be too rich or over-seasoned—not harsh or "bity."

The taste of a Chesterfield is just as near right as we know how to make it.

Not tasteless or flat, not too highly flavored for steady smoking, but with just the right kinds of tobaccos blended the one right way to satisfy.

Chesterfields are mild. They taste better.
