

MEDFORD RADIO STATION CHANGED FOR EFFICIENCY

Erection of a new radio range station by the federal government on property leased from Suncrest Orchards, a short distance southwest of the city is underway, it was learned late yesterday afternoon. Announcement was made through Frank P. Fischer, Jr., contractor.

The station will replace the one now located on the Crater Lake highway and will increase greatly the communication service offered pilots, enabling them to bring their planes through during all types of weather.

Completion of the project is anticipated about March 18. Mr. Fischer stated yesterday. His contract is just one of three to be carried out in the construction and installation of the station.

Fifty-seven such stations are being erected in the United States for airway communication service. Medford and Portland are the only points favored in Oregon. The system will enable the department of commerce, aeronautics branch, to locate the communication station with its personnel on the airport, handling the teletype service directly at the airport and operating the radio transmitters by means of remote control and microphone lines.

The delivery and installation of the control switches, relays and other electrical equipment required for the installation of distant control throughout the nation will take several months, according to notice from Frederick R. Neely, chief of aeronautics information division, but upon completion of the project there will be the advantage of receiving the maps and receiving and sending all other airway communications directly at the airport.

It is also planned to install an airways division bulletin board in the airport operations office where maps and other airway notices will be posted immediately upon receipt, and to provide supply of additional copies of the map sufficient to meet the requirements of everyone engaged in flying.

When Mr. Roosevelt was corresponding with Mr. Hoover about war debts there were two men in Washington he telephoned frequently. He read every announcement over the telephone to them before he made it public.

Those two are Byrnes and Representative Douglas of Arizona, the new budget director.

SPEAKER RAINEY TO GIVE POWER BACK TO PARTY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(AP)—The next speaker of the house—Representative Rainey of Illinois—today made plans for divesting that high office of much of its power and giving it to the Democratic majority.

A steering committee is to be formed, Rainey announced last night soon after his nomination in caucus, which henceforth will shape the policies of the house.

"Our failures in the 72nd congress, what few there have been, have been due entirely to the fact that the direction of policies has come entirely from the speaker's chair," he said. "From now on it will come from the Democratic party."

Rainey, white-haired, 73-year-old veteran in the house, will succeed John N. Garner, the vice president-elect. He was chosen over Representative McDuffie of Alabama, Rankin of Mississippi, Jones of Texas, and Bankhead of Alabama. Nomination is tantamount to election.
