DAY GIVES REVIEW LEGISLATIVE WORK AT KIWANIS MEET

A resume of the accomplishments of the last session of the Oregon legislature was given today noon at the meeting of the Kiwanis club by Representative E. B. Day at the Hotel Medford. Special stress was laid upon the sales tax bill passed, and Mr. Day explained that the bill carries with it a personal tax exemption which will benefit merchants, farmers and stockmen. It will also return to the counties 50 per cent of the money taken out.

Failure of the Barnes sales tax to meet with passage he credited to its unconstitutionality, discovered by following extensive study of the bill by himself and other members of the Jackson county delegation, who referred the bill to the attorney general.

Investigation of the bill, he explained, showed that the two ideas expressed would have to be separated into companion bills before passage could be possible. In so doing it was feared that one bill might pass, the other lose and leave the state in a trying situation.

Necessity of adoption of a sales tax was emphasized by Mr. Day in listing the deficits realized in tax collection especially in counties of east Oregon. Although the increased revenue was realized and provided for, he stated, the last session of the legislature was a very economic one, $30,000 being saved in expenses of the house of representatives alone.

The last session, Mr. Day also pointed out, established an all time record considering the number of bills presented, killed and passed. Radical measures were presented in unbelievable numbers he pointed out and the members of the legislature were forced to be ever on guard to prevent their passage, as pernicious influences were constantly on the job.

The state deficit is not an imaginary or theoretical thing, Mr. Day declared, but an absolute fact that has to be faced.

The world was a veritable department store, he described, as in deplorable condition. He also lamented the failure of passage of the beer bill by the senate, stating that the house of representatives realized fully the need of the bill and that the particular measure up for consideration was very carefully considered.

Measure from the folks at home who cited several instances where telegrams from here made it possible for the southern Oregon delegation to prevent passage of objectionable bills. He also stated that Governor Meier was worthy of much praise in action he has taken, probably without knowledge of the majority of the people, to clear up the political strife here. Mr. Day stated that for two weeks he had a conference with the governor, practically every day, and that it was Governor Meier who sent extra state police aides into this region and was prepared to send out increased forces at any time they were needed. Without his cooperation, he explained, the situation here might have spread beyond control with the tragedy of last Thursday.

"Red" McDonald, Oregon State college student, and athletic star, was a speaker at today's luncheon, as guest of J. C. Mann, Cochise Darwin, B. B. Burcher also addressed the luncheon crowd. Other guests were Judge Johnny Reed of Gold Hill and Walter E. Potter, district governor of Kiwanis, here from Portland.
