

Brayton Bowlers Win Elks Tourney; 3 Ties Develop in Standings

ROLL-OFF WILL DETERMINE 2ND PLACE WINNER

Guenther-Rankin, Gill-Orr, Eads-Sherwood Teams Finish In Dead Heats — Roy Pruitt Best Individual

When Hugo Guenther's bowling team managed to take on game from Orr's aggregation in their final Elks tourney match last night, the team standings were left with three ties, including all but first and last places, claimed respectively by Everett Brayton's outfit and Joe Flegel's quintet.

The eight teams have changed places frequently throughout the tourney, showing the fairness with which the handicaps were established and the bowlers named to the various teams to even up the team strength.

Fruitt Best Bowler.
Roy Pruitt finished on top of the individual standings with an average of 184 pins acquired in 30 games. He was closely followed by George Eads in second place, with an average of 181 garnered in 30 games. Erickson, Rankin and Gill are next, closely bunched, with 174, 173, 173, respectively.

Playoff between the Guenther and Rankin teams for second place will be arranged soon and it is also expected that ties between the Gill and Orr, and Eads and Sherwood teams will be rolled off.

Prize to Braytons.
The weekly prize for largest team total went to Brayton's cohorts, who checked up 2740 pins in their final game of the tourney schedule.

Because of the keen interest shown and complete success of the Elks tourney, it is planned by Roy Pruitt, chairman, to inaugurate a short doubles tourney for the season's win-up.

PRUITT AND FIFER PLAY CUE FINAL

In the semi-final of the Elks' billiard championship contest, Roy Pruitt defeated Dave Woods to the tune of 100 to 110, at the Elks' club last night. The game was hotly contested and was well played, according to the spectators.

Fish Is Hoarder Anglers Discover

TILLAMOOK, Ore., March 21.—(AP)—The poor fish that tries to hoard these days must be a sucker. Ronald Saling and his son, Skeet, 7, co-operated in landing a 13-inch cutthroat trout from the Tillamook river. When they dressed it they found a 5-cent piece dated 1806.

WHITE SOX GET NEW LIFE FROM PLAYER TRADES

Addition of Simmons, Haas, Dykes and Others Gives Comiskey Clan Power to Point Past Recent Years

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer.)
PALESDENA, Cal., Mar. 21.—(AP)—The winter trade winds have breathed new life into the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Lew Fonseca classes the present Comiskey clan as the strongest aggregation of players to don the pale hose since 1920 when they made their last appearance in the first division of the American league race.

The addition of Al Simmons, George (Mule) Haas and Jimmy Dykes, all former members of the world championship Philadelphia Athletics, undoubtedly has strengthened the club along with several other acquisitions at the baseball mart.

Lack Reserve Power.
What the club seems to lack most is sufficient reserve power, especially in the infield and on the pitching staff. Should this prove adequate, then the White Sox' first division dream may come true.

The outfield holds forth as the strongest link in the Chicago club, made so by the hitting power amassed with the arrival of Simmons and Haas. Ralph Kress, who moved in from St. Louis late in the 1932 campaign, while an infielder by choice, is expected to complete the outer guard.

Fonseca is returning to active play in an effort to strengthen the infield. A long winter conditioning campaign brought his weight down to the 175 pounds he carried as the leading hitter of the league four seasons ago, making him once again an active first baseman. Dykes, of course, will patrol third with his usual enthusiasm.

Applying Has S. S. Call.
Present plans call for Luke Appling at shortstop and Minter Hayes at second, but Hal Rhyne constitutes the sole reserve unless Kress is pulled in from the outfield or Bill Sullivan, who joins the club in June, from proposed catching assignments.

In Charles Berry and Frank Grube, veteran catchers, the Sox have plenty of strength, both defensively and offensively, behind the plate. Their veteran advice will be necessary to help ahead the pitching staff, although Fonseca considers it essentially strengthened over last season. Two hurlers on whom he is depending for much assistance are Ted Lyons and Vic Frazier, both of whom were ailing last year and unable to give full account of themselves.

Gregory a Prospect.
Paul Gregory, the young right-hander who was the only member of the mound corps who won more games than he lost in 1932, is looked upon as the best prospect among the others. Ed Durham, formerly with the Boston Red Sox, is expected to show better form under a change of color, while Joe Heving, George Murray, a great young prospect from Dallas of the Texas league, and Ed Walsh are considered among the best of the new prospects.

Fonseca believes the new found hitting power of the club in the winter trades will help to build up confidence in the hurlers who got little offensive support last season.

TWO FAVORED IN GRAND NATIONAL

LONDON, March 21.—(AP)—With the grand national steeplechase at Aintree only three days away the big Irish jumper Gregalach and Dorothy Paget's Golden Miller today remained joint favorite for the classic at odds of 9 to 1 with the American owned horses ranked outsiders.

The only American-bred and owned entry in the race is Mrs. T. H. Somerville's Trouble Maker, who is quoted at 66 to 1.

Noel Laine, the American rider who will have the leg up on Trouble Maker, broke some sort of a record, as he admitted he didn't honestly know whether he could ride the American jumper to victory. Every other trainer and jockey seemed confident of the merits of his horse and its chances.

PEPPER MARTIN HAS EARLY SEASON FORM

BRADENTON, Fla., March 21.—(AP)—"Pepper" Martin shows signs of providing his usual quota of excitement for customers of the St. Louis Cardinals during the 1933 season.

When Schumacher pounded out a long drive to left center in the exhibition game between the Cardinals and the Boston Braves yesterday, it looked like a certain hit. But the "Wild Horse of the Osage" leaped high in the air, stopped the flight of the ball and caught it as it started to drop to the ground. Then—for full measure—he shot a speedy throw to first base for a second put-out.

Brownings won the lone fall that decides finish matches here with what is technically known as the pinch wheel scissor, in 59 minutes, 58 seconds. He swung the former title holder around in his powerful legs, to pin him flat on his back. Brownings defeated the Strangler here a few weeks ago.

POLICE OPEN SEARCH FOR YONCALLA MAN

PORTLAND, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Police here have been asked to look for Claude E. Wise, 40, who disappeared from his home at Yoncalla, Ore., March 6, and who has been the object of a thorough search by state police and groups of citizens in southern Oregon.

Wise was said to have been in a dazed condition when he left his home to walk to Roseburg. The entire section between Roseburg and Yoncalla has been searched diligently, but no trace of the man was found. He was wearing a light cap, corduroy trousers, high top shoes and a blue mackinaw.

Bill Carr's Injury Ends Running Days

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Bill Carr's flying feet, which carried him to the athletic heights, will pound around no more cinder and board tracks.

Injured in an automobile accident, the Olympic champion and 400-meter world record holder from Pine Bluff, Ark., philosophically accepted the dictum of physicians yesterday that he could not run again.

Canby Burns Last Debt Against City

CANBY, Ore., March 21.—(AP)—Financial independence was declared in Canby yesterday. Flags waved, bunting floated on the breeze and crowds cheered as Mayor H. A. Dedman and City Treasurer John Eld burned the last municipal bond. More than 500 persons from outlying communities participated in the celebration.

SUPPORTING CARD IN ELKS SMOKER PITS FAST LADS

White-Monroe Main Event Will Be Preceded by Galaxy of Clever Boxers Coming Thursday Evening

(By Roger Early.)

With the announcement of the supporting bouts on the fight card to be staged at the Elks' temple Thursday night, fans can expect to see some of the cleverest matches to be put on in Medford for some time to come. Boys in all weights have been matched, and real battles are predicted.

Herb White, pride of Butte Falls, will fight Frankie Monroe in the main event of the evening. White, one of the cleverest and one of the most popular fighters ever developed in the valley, always promises a battle for his opponent.

Monroe is one of the best of his weight in this part of the state. He has a great following in Klamath Falls for his clean fighting and ability to carry the battle to his opponent.

Four Prelims.
Four preliminaries will complete the card. These boys can give the fans some spills and thrills. There are no big names, but the lads are willing mixers, young and ambitious. Some of these bouts are for the championship of Klamath county at their weight.

In the 180-pound class, Billy Dale will meet Bob Irwin in a four-round bout. These two boys can be expected to give the fans a bout which they can go home and talk about.

Johnny "Kid" Bell will tangle with Ernie Daniels for four rounds in the 145-pound class. Kid Bell has fought in Medford before and some fans will remember his ability.

Grudge Battle Promised.
In another four-rounder, Stanley Reed will meet Sari Crapo in the 150-pound class. These two boys have fought before to a draw and this bout is expected to settle an old grudge. Reed, who has been fighting in Klamath county for about a year, has never been knocked out or knocked down.

Last, but not least, comes the 120-pound class. Tony Orits tangles with Jimmy Compagne in a four-round event. Plenty of action can be expected in this bout, as these boys are fighting for the championship of Klamath county. The two leather pushers have met twice before, each winning a fight.

As this is one of the best cards to be lined up this season, a large attendance of Elks and their friends is expected to be present at the smokes.

Committees in charge of the affair include Erickson, Jerome, Schade, Bill Young, P. C. Bigham, Ike Dunning, Rudie Slate, John Waite and Cole Holmes.

RADIO AMATEURS TELL OF QUEER CONDITIONS NIGHT OF EARTHQUAKE

Unusual reception conditions during the California earthquake were reported by southern Oregon amateur radio operators at a meeting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Z. Crowson in Ashland.

Several operators reported a decided shift in frequencies of transmitting stations in the quake-torn area. Others noted signals faded and stations went off the air abruptly. One disturbed young Californian topped his fear that his radio tower was about to fall on his "shack," and he was heard no more, a local "ham" stated.

A number of Medford and Ashland operators were active on the night of the quake in relaying messages of assurances and hope to worried friends all over the United States. Los Angeles amateurs experienced difficulty in contacting San Francisco stations for some time before telegraph wires were repaired, it was reported by local men who listened in.

Twenty-seven persons, all from Ashland, Medford and Central Point, excepting T. V. Wauchope of Klamath Falls and Ray Jones of Cottage Grove, attended the meeting. Mr. Wauchope is well known in radio circles as W7EAL and Mr. Jones as WTAIN.

A "D-X" or long distance contest between club members was announced to take place during the next two weeks. Contests must be on 80 meters, using no more than two small receiving tubes, it was stipulated.

For the purpose of selecting delegates to the "ham" convention in Marshfield April 7 and 8, a special meeting of southern Oregon operators will be held March 31 in the Medford city hall.
