

ACTIVIANS TOLD G-C PLANS FOR COMMUNITY'S AID

A. H. Banwell, secretary of the Medford Chamber of Commerce described the Greater Medford program to the Activians at their regular meeting at the Holland hotel last night.

Second: To increase tourist travel to Medford by conducting a militant publicity campaign throughout the year by emphasizing Medford as an ideal vacation city.

Third: To foster the agricultural development of the rural districts of southern Oregon by promoting better team work between farmers and businessmen.

Fourth: To render aid to all times such aid as is necessary to industries established here, in order to protect Medford's industrial payroll and to endeavor to bring here those outside industries which are needed.

Fifth: To encourage, foster and promote the retail business of Medford and to increase the prestige of the city as a commercial center.

Mrs. Lloyd Williamson entertained the members with several humorous Scandinavian stories.

Herbert Brown, Stanley Boggs and A. H. Banwell were guests at the meeting.

INNER CIRCLE OF BANKS OUTFIT IN JAIL OR ON BAIL

It became known today that E. A. Fleming, Jacksonville orchardist, held with L. A. Banks and his wife, on an information charging first degree murder, is one of the six "John Does" named in the secret indictment returned a week ago in the courthouse ballroom.

Practically all the men named in the indictment have been jailed or are at liberty on bonds. The authorities say two or three minor figures in the brazen and bungled crime are still at large.

Claude Ward, a brother-in-law of Banks, and mentioned for a county job last January, is still sick at his home. He will be arrested as soon as his health permits.

A complete round-up of all the main evidence in the ballot thefts was reported.

Fleming was at the Banks home in conference when Constable Prescott was killed last Thursday. He was arrested by state police, who were guarding the back door.

Fleming was an active worker in the "Good Government Congress" over the objections of his kin, according to the authorities. He was also a frequent conferee with Banks at his home.

Two years ago during the Klan rumpus, Fleming was a leader in the Jacksonville district, and was accused by then Sheriff Terrill of "playing horse around the courthouse nights."

MRS. CARLEY IS CONTEST WINNER

Mrs. R. E. Carley, who resides on the Pacific highway north of Medford, was the winner of the Nopoo XX free feed test, according to an announcement from the Brown-Jeklin and Company of Portland, distributors for Nopoo in Oregon.

Mrs. Carley will receive 1000 pounds, or 10 sacks, of laying mash in recognition for the fine record her flock made on feeds with Nopoo XX. Mrs. Carley secured her Nopoo feed from the P. E. Samson Company of this city.

C. H. Schmitt, also of this city, secured another prize with Samson feeds, using Nopoo XX, according to word received this week from Leo Cook of the Brown-Jeklin company. A complete list of winners will be published in the near future.

The novel contest, calculated to improve upon poultrymen the increased profits realized through Nopoo XX feeding, has been conducted since November, with many southern Oregon poultry raisers submitting their results through using this remarkable product which adds vitamins to feeds.

Memorial For Prescott Gets Council's Okeh. A resolution in esteem and respect to Officer Prescott, expressing sympathy for his family and the city's debt to him for giving his life to uphold the constituted authority of this community was also passed at last night's council session.

The resolution reads: "Whereas, on March 16, while in the performance of official duty as a law enforcement officer of the city of Medford and for Jackson county, our esteemed fellow citizen and department official, George J. Prescott, gave his life, a supreme sacrifice, in upholding constituted authority through the laws of our land, and

"Whereas, in the death of Officer Prescott the city has lost a faithful servant, the people of the community and country suffer the loss of a true friend and associate of outstanding personality, and the family has been deprived of the care and support and companionship of a loving and considerate husband and father. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, that in this sacrifice of life we believe there will dawn a new day to restore to our people a deep respect for the welfare of one another, and for the harmonious development of the community in which we live. And be it further

"Resolved, that an expression of sympathy be thus conveyed to the widow and family with the hope that their grief may be lessened by the thought that through greatest sorrow often come inspiration and achievements of untold benefit to the community and to those who follow us in years to come. And be it further

"Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the council and a copy thereof be presented to the bereaved widow and family."

Beer Regulation Is Objective In Council Meeting

The present need, as cited by the mayor, is to keep the sale of alcoholic beverages within the provisions of the federal laws and to establish protection against unscrupulous dealers and old-time "bootleggers." The ordinance will provide control of distribution by authorized agencies in sealed containers for consumption of such premises; control of distribution in cafes and other places, where consumed on the premises where sold; and "preserve due restraint and observance of all measures to guarantee high standing of our social life and at the same time to not unduly interfere with personal privileges claimed by a portion of our citizenship."

Mayor Wilson stated. A committee from the Parents-Teachers council, headed by Mrs. G. D'Albini, appeared before the city council, and announced that the Parents-Teacher organization had gone on record approving the proposed meat ordinance and its rigid and impartial enforcement.

The ordinance, up to the suggestion of Councilman S. A. Kroschel, was held over until the next meeting of the council for definite action. A letter from the relief committee, asking that the city recommend projects to be accomplished here through the use of relief work was read. For the work now needed the city is lacking in materials Mayor Wilson stated in response, pointing out that it will be necessary to vote a bond issue to carry on street work or the installation of the greatly needed sewage disposal plant. If a small amount of money could be raised by bond issue, work would start immediately and the cost to the city would be minor, as 80 per cent would be represented in labor, Mayor Wilson stated.

The Sewage Need Impressed. The need for immediate action to correct Medford's sewage problem was more fully realized last night, when action was taken by the council to allow payment of the suit lost to Axel Benson for damages resulting from the sewage plant. The decision yesterday, upheld the decision of Judge H. D. Norton against the city, awarding $500 to the Bensons. An ordinance authorizing the city to enter into an agreement with the national hospital association was passed by the council last night and several property matters settled.

Mayor Wilson announced that anytime he is unable to meet with the council he has appointed Councilman W. M. Clemenson to act as mayor. Firemen Committed. A letter from C. T. Steward, commanding highly the work of the fire department in handling the recent fire in his home and in caring for the property in the house, was read by Mayor Wilson.

Adrienne's Revue and Warner Baxter On Craterian Bill. Adrienne's style showing, with 20 charming mannequins, will be a feature of tonight's program at the Fox Craterian. As an added feature, James Stevens will sing and Sebastian Apollo will offer special organ numbers, according to Mrs. Steward.

In the screen attraction on the same bill, Warner Baxter is at his usual and romantic best in "Dangerously Yours." In the role of charming society jewel thief, Baxter makes it seem almost a pleasure to be robbed.

Miriam Jordan, who made her screen debut opposite Baxter in "Six Hours to Live," is again his leading lady in this picture, and has the role of a girl detective who sets out to trap the fascinating Robin Hood, only to discover that she herself has been ensnared by her affections.

Herbert Mundin, popular comedian, who has come rapidly to the front in a number of Fox pictures during the past year, also has a prominent role.

Bond Forfeiture On Horizon For Fugitive Mayor

Last Saturday his counsel told the circuit court that he would surrender Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Then he was reported in a Portland hospital, and yesterday he was reported "at the home of a friend."

Due notice must be given bondsmen of the intention to cancel Thomas, reputed well-to-do, has been listed as bondman on several cases arising from the Bankersian turmoil. He is also asserted to have furnished funds for payment of delinquent taxes owed by Banks on his newspaper plant, and to have loaned the now incarcerated agitator $2000 to pay pressing wage claims.
