

28 REGISTER IN MINING SCHOOL ON OPENING DAY

The first class of the mining school, sponsored by the department of the state for vocational education, headed locally by Superintendent E. H. Hedrick, and being conducted by the Southern Oregon Mining Association began yesterday at 10 o'clock on the Southern Pacific lot near Main street.

Twenty-eight students were registered in the first class, more than can be handled to advantage with the present facilities, and many more are registered and ready to start with the next class, beginning Thursday at 9 a. m.

The enthusiasm for the work seems to be increasing rapidly. Ages of the students range from 17 to 75. All are welcome and just as much individual instruction as possible will be given to each student.

The first class got its instruction yesterday in the use and care of the gold pan, many of them trying out their first pan of dirt. One man was lucky and got 25 cents in gold from his first pan. Today they are out for field instruction in the actual process of roasting, panning and sluicing gold from the gravels of Forrest creek. They will also receive instructions in how to trace and locate quartz gold and how to make a valid location of mining property.

Wednesday will probably complete the instruction period for the first class, and will take up how to build and operate a sluice-box and rocker and the use of quicksilver in the amalgamation of gold.

McDonough brothers, who own a tract of land bordering the lower part of Forrest creek, and who own and operate the Sunset Service station, have very kindly consented to aid in the work of instructing the classes, by allowing the students to operate on their property.

This is an entirely new kind of work and a decidedly different occupation than many of these students have been used to, but they are all intensely interested and instructors Barton, Clark and Neff are enjoying the work of instruction as much as the students.

WRITERS LUNCHEON SET FOR THURSDAY

Mrs. Charles Hines of Forest Grove, who is visiting in the valley, announced this morning that arrangements are being made for a luncheon Thursday at 12 o'clock in the Hotel Holland for all writers who are interested in joining the National League of Western Writers.

All writers and creative artists residing in Medford and vicinity are requested to call at the hotel for reservations. Mrs. Hines said. Any writer is eligible to the organization, she pointed out, and while here she plans to form a local branch.
