

The Weather
Forecast: Unsettled with showers to-night and Friday. Normal temperature.
Highest yesterday 52
Lowest this morning 43

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

MEDFORD, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1933.

Paid-Up Circulation
People who pay for their newspapers are the best prospects for the advertiser. A. B. C. circulation is paid up circulation. This newspaper is A. B. C.

Twenty-eighth Year

No. 7.

JOB RELIEF FUND PASSES SENATE

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS.

PLANS for the state fair, we read, are under consideration, but as yet no definite and positive decision has been made as to whether it will be held.

There are too many deficits as it is. SPEAKING of taxes, when we pay more justice to the law than at first appears, and the state isn't keeping a Shylock as it seems to be. Keeping the credit of the counties, the cities and the various districts good depends upon keeping the credit of the state good, for if the state's credit is bad the credit of all the state's political subdivisions will be bad. That is why it is necessary to be sure that the state gets its money.

AMONG the stories of business distress that fill the papers, there is an exception—the hop industry. Read again these paragraphs from yesterday's news: "The hop growers have no worries about over-production. The only care they have is how to increase their crops to the maximum the land will yield.

"No trouble to find buyers—and no difficulty in getting a profit-paying price. Supplies are short and buyers are eager, and the price of 30 cents a pound gives the grower an ample profit margin over the average cost of production of around 14 cents."

WHY this rosy situation? It is our old friend, the law of supply and demand, that is responsible. Beer, which is the principal user of hops, has been banished for 13 years, but now is coming back. It is supposed to be coming back with a rush, as we may guess from the published statement the other day to the effect that Chicago is expected to consume four million dollars worth of it the first day.

With beer coming back with a rush, there are more buyers than sellers of hops, and when there are more buyers than sellers of ANYTHING the price goes up.

It always works that way. CHICAGO by the way, is evidently planning to drink a lot of beer the first day, if there is anything to this $4,000,000 estimate.

HALF BILLION FOR PUBLIC WORKS IS ROOSEVELT'S PLAN

Measure Is Second on President's List for Providing Employment — Forest Conservation Gets Oked

Hugh B. Rankin, supervisor of Rogue River national forest, said this morning that he was unable to announce any plans that might have been formulated for the reforestation work in this region. He stated, however, that a conference to discuss such information is being held in Portland, and he is leaving today for that meeting.

E. C. Sollinsky, superintendent of Crater National park, today said it is quite likely that some work will be carried out in the Crater park, but that most of the men on the project will probably be under the supervision of the forest department. Reforestation, clearing the forest and roads, and fire prevention will probably be carried out under the system, according to Mr. Sollinsky.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—The administration bill to set up a $500,000,000 fund for unemployment relief grants to states was passed today by the senate.

The vote on passage of the relief bill was 85 to 17. The measure, which now goes to the house, was the second in the administration program for jobs and distress relief, the first—to put 250,000 men to work on the nation's forests—having been sent to the White House earlier in the day.

The proposal, yet to be agreed upon in detail, centers around a huge public works project to be financed by a federal bond issue.

The reconstruction finance corporation would utilize the borrowing powers to raise the half billion for direct relief and a federal emergency relief administrator would be appointed to supervise the expenditures including the balance of $300,000,000 originally given the R. F. C. for this work.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Railroad labor today came out unqualifiedly against any plan for appointing a coordinator or dictator to operate the railroads of the country.

U. S. to Have War in Pacific—Mitchell

MODERN BEER AS HIGH HAT DRINK IS BREWER'S PLAN

Medford Ordinance Will Be Ready With Arrival of First Supply for April 7—Early Drought Is Seen

By Eva Nealon Hamilton
A new beverage with a new deal—that's the outlook promised beer upon its return to Medford some time after April 7. The once "moon" drink, best known as "suds," is "going into society" is the forecast. It will foam in better surroundings, where once only champagne was poured, and with its company those who have investigated the new drink predict "there will be a great turnover of home brew" (into the gutter).

It is the idea of the brewers, and all manufacturers maintain, they are going to keep beer in "good company" out of "dives" and "chisel joints."

Regulations to control the local flow of beer have not been announced. But Medford, the beer committee has stated, will be ready for her beer when it pours in. The committee is expected to consider the 3.2 per cent beer as a new beverage when the report is outlined.

Next Friday, April 7, sale of beer will be legalized by the federal government, but unless something unforeseen happens, pessimists announce today, barrels won't be rolling into Medford for several weeks hence. The brewers are not ready to furnish the supply, and considerable time will be required to produce the new product in quantities demanded.

There is a chance, it was stated yesterday, that San Francisco will sell 3.2 beer April 7.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Brewers were reported today by the department of commerce to be making contributions of millions of dollars to industry as they prepare to sell 3.2 beer April 7.

Jews Turn to Hitler in Last Desperate Effort To Avert Boycott Plan

Premature Outbreaks Continue Thru-out Germany With Heavy Damage to Jewish Business Houses

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—A resolution urging President Roosevelt to take such action as is possible to halt attacks by the Hitler government on Jews was left at the White House today by a delegation representing the Jewish War Veterans of the United States.

Berlin, March 30.—(AP)—Jews turned today to the very man they hold most responsible for anti-semitic feeling in Germany, Chancellor Hitler himself, and to President von Hindenburg, who created the present government, in a last desperate attempt to prevent the nation-wide boycott scheduled to start Saturday.

Premature outbreaks continued in various cities, resulting in widespread damage to Jewish business establishments. The national socialist party, which is sponsoring the organized ban on Jewish business and professional activity ordered to begin at 10 a. m. Saturday, disapproved of these acts of vandalism. In some cities, its storm troops were able to suppress the outbreaks.

Radicals Triumph
The radical element of the Nazi party was seen as still triumphant as the boycott proclamation was sent to all parts of the country last night. The hopes of the Jews rested in the conservative branch in which Hitler and Dr. Wilhelm Frick are now identified.

Rules to Be Ready
Regulations to control the local flow of beer have not been announced. But Medford, the beer committee has stated, will be ready for her beer when it pours in.

Next Friday, April 7, sale of beer will be legalized by the federal government, but unless something unforeseen happens, pessimists announce today, barrels won't be rolling into Medford for several weeks hence.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Brewers were reported today by the department of commerce to be making contributions of millions of dollars to industry as they prepare to sell 3.2 beer April 7.

Ambassador

Josephus Daniels, President Wilson's navy secretary, is the new ambassador to Mexico. (Associated Press Photo)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—A remodeled national defense system to "increase efficiency and save $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year" was recommended to the house military affairs committee today by William Mitchell, former brigadier general, who served as assistant chief of the army air corps.

Mitchell proposed that the land, sea and air forces of the United States be merged into a department of national defense with only one head. Assistants would be charged with supervising activities of the army, navy and aviation.

A bill to accomplish that has just been introduced by Chairman McSwain of the military affairs committee, and it was that proposal, among others, which the committee was considering today.

New Policy Needed
Mitchell testified that because of the development in the world war, "we are going to have to develop an entirely new policy." Defense, he said, should center around submarines and airplanes and Zeppelins.

"In the world war," Mitchell said, "submarines reduced Great Britain to starvation. They almost won the war by themselves. Much of the data showing that has been kept secret and still are. Germany never had a fleet of more than 30 submarines on the sea at any one time. They could not travel far. Now, submarines can be so constructed that they can go any place in the world and back again without refueling."

To emphasize his arguments for additional aerial strength, Mitchell pointed to the recent record breaking non-stop flight from England to Cape Town.

AERIAL STRENGTH NEEDED FOR TIME WHEN GUNS OPEN

Former Air Corps Aide Tells Military Affairs Committee Remodeled National Defense Would Save

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—A remodeled national defense system to "increase efficiency and save $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year" was recommended to the house military affairs committee today by William Mitchell, former brigadier general, who served as assistant chief of the army air corps.

Mitchell proposed that the land, sea and air forces of the United States be merged into a department of national defense with only one head. Assistants would be charged with supervising activities of the army, navy and aviation.

A bill to accomplish that has just been introduced by Chairman McSwain of the military affairs committee, and it was that proposal, among others, which the committee was considering today.

New Policy Needed
Mitchell testified that because of the development in the world war, "we are going to have to develop an entirely new policy." Defense, he said, should center around submarines and airplanes and Zeppelins.

"In the world war," Mitchell said, "submarines reduced Great Britain to starvation. They almost won the war by themselves. Much of the data showing that has been kept secret and still are. Germany never had a fleet of more than 30 submarines on the sea at any one time. They could not travel far. Now, submarines can be so constructed that they can go any place in the world and back again without refueling."

To emphasize his arguments for additional aerial strength, Mitchell pointed to the recent record breaking non-stop flight from England to Cape Town.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—A remodeled national defense system to "increase efficiency and save $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year" was recommended to the house military affairs committee today by William Mitchell, former brigadier general, who served as assistant chief of the army air corps.

ROOSEVELT PLAYS SHREWD GAME ON WAR DEBT HOPES

Attitude Gives Edge in Negotiations — Inner Cabinet Split Seen On Abolishing of Trade Commission

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30.—(AP)—Certain congressmen have been writing job applicants, stating: "I can't get the job for you, but Senator So-and-so can." That, just doubled the pressure on senators. They investigated and found some of the congressmen involved. They are not speaking to each other now.

The White House announcement that time is war debt payments are expected is part of the shrewd game Mr. Roosevelt is playing.

All advice from abroad, confidential and otherwise, show no intention to pay. Negotiations with the British and others probably cannot be concluded within the time. Mr. Roosevelt knows all that. Nevertheless, he will cling to the payment attitude. It gives him an edge in negotiations. It puts responsibility on the debtors. If they want something done they will have to ask for it.

Meanwhile, Mr. Roosevelt can maintain an air of blissful innocence. An inner cabinet split has developed over the move to abolish the federal trade commission. It is nothing serious.

During recent confidential White House discussions, Secretaries Ickes, Dern, Perkins and Wallace are supposed to have protested against abolishing the trade commission.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30.—(AP)—A bullet would below the heart ended the life of George P. Jester, 70, city treasurer and vice-president of the Grants Pass and Josephine bank here, last yesterday.

A few moments before the bullet was fired the telephone rang in Sheriff Lister's office. Jester had called him. "I'm through and I'm going to shoot myself," the banker stated. "Wait a minute—I'll be right up." The sheriff answered, and hurried to the Jester residence.

(Continued on Page Six)

(Continued on Page Six)

(Continued on Page Seven)

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Six)

(Continued on Page Six)

(Continued on Page Six)

(Continued on Page Seven)

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Three)

(Continued on Page Six)