

VETERAN DISABLED FEEL HEAVY BLOW IN SAVING ORDER

Four Hundred Million Slash In Benefits Hits All Lines—Non-Service Connected Illness Is Hard Luck

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—Instructions to field workers were prepared today by the veterans' administration to carry out President Roosevelt's order for a slashing of $400,000,000 in annual benefits paid to war veterans.

The chief executive's action hits all along the line, with officials indicating that new construction of veterans' hospitals will be held up unless the improvements are already under way. Some institutions may even be closed if conditions warrant.

Non-Service Hard Luck.

The biggest savings, about $100,000,000, will come through removing from the benefit lists all veterans whose injuries or sickness are non-service connected, unless the victims are totally or permanently disabled. Those totally or permanently disabled—even though not rendered so by service—will receive only $20 a month as compared with $40.

The new allowances, effective July 1, for service connected cases are cut a flat 20 per cent and a new system of five ratings of disability established. The new ratings and allowances:

- Ten per cent disability, $8 monthly;
- 25 per cent, $20; 50 per cent, $40;
- 75 per cent, $60; and 100 per cent, $80.

Between Ratings, Out.

In-between ratings such as 41 per cent disabled are discontinued, and all such cases will be reclassified. All payments for temporary disabilities of a non-service character and free hospitalization for such disabilities will be eliminated.

Under one regulation veterans of the Spanish-American war, Philippine insurrection and Boxer rebellion, and the widows and children of World War veterans will continue to receive present pensions, under a "presumption" that the pension is payable because of service-connected disability, but the government can challenge this "presumption."

Officials said that there also would be a cut of 10 per cent on July 1 in pensions for Civil and Indian war veterans and their widows under the new economy law.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—Frank T. Hines, the veterans' administrator, said today that under President Roosevelt's executive order, buildings and additions now being constructed for the veterans would be completed. Hines said new construction authorized would not be begun unless "urgently needed."

NATURALIZATION SYSTEM CHANGED

By virtue of an order issued yesterday in circuit court, naturalization hearings for aliens will be discontinued here, as soon as pending naturalization cases are completed.

In the future, all naturalization hearings will be held in the federal court, at its annual term for the southern Oregon district, which starts the first week in October.

The county clerk was directed to send all unused naturalization papers and other documents to the director of naturalization at Portland. Lack of applicants for naturalization was given as the reason for the court order.

BEST FOODS OPEN BIG AD CAMPAIGN

The Best Foods, Inc., makers of Best Foods mayonnaise, is showing its faith in Medford and in the Mail Tribune by ordering eight thousand agate lines to appear during the next six months in this newspaper.

Mr. Ballif of the Ballif Distributing company, Portland, Oregon, in announcing this campaign, said that it was the opinion of his company and of the Best Foods, Inc., that the Pacific northwest gave every indication of an upward trend in business.

In this campaign Best Foods is giving sound, scientific advice to the woman who wants to retain her youthful figure, and to the mother wanting advice on what to serve her children.

Housewives who are accustomed to using this nationally known brand of mayonnaise, sometimes do not appreciate the elaborate distribution facilities necessary to rush this product from the Best Foods kitchens, where it is made, to their grocery stores.

The Ballif Distributing company maintains an extensive fleet of trucks for this purpose. Since Best Foods mayonnaise is used by more homes than any other brand on the Pacific coast, it is seldom in the store more than a day or two. Bob Ellis represents the Ballif distributing company in this territory.

GUARD OFFICERS AT ASHLAND FETE

A group of National Guard officers from Medford last evening attended the annual banquet of Battery B, 240 Coast Artillery, at the Elks club in Ashland, at which General Geo. A. White was an honor guest.

Included among those from here were Captain Carl Y. Tengwald, Major Ralph P. Cowgill, Major W. H. Ellenburg, Major Walter Abbey, Lieutenant Weldon H. McBee, Lieutenant B. M. Baucorn, Lieutenant James W. Grigsby, District Attorney George Codding was Captain Tengwald's guest at the gathering. Lieutenant-Colonel Joseph V. Schur of Salem was also in attendance, as well as National Guard officers from Klamath Falls.

ENDEAVORS PLAN BIG ATTENDANCE AT STATE MEET

In preparing for the state Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Eugene April 27 to 30, the Crater Lake Union held a "pep" rally in the Ashland Christian church Sunday, with Norman Fraley, president, presiding.

Outstanding in the rally was a talk by Thelma Parrish on "What you will get at the state convention." Miss Parrish is regional vice president of the state Christian Endeavor Union and former president of the Klamath Lake Union. Miss Parrish will be in charge of one of the banquets at Eugene this year.

Harold Van Duker, present president of Klamath Lake Union, gave a talk on being able to visit Crater Lake Union. Miss Virginia Myers also came from Klamath Falls to visit the local union.

A Bible dramatization contest was held to see which society would represent the local union in the state dramatization contest at the convention. Phoenix Presbyterian inter-mediate won first place by presenting "Jacob Steals the Blessing." Second place was given to Rogue River Presbyterian who gave "Ruth and Naomi." The Phoenix group will be sent to the state convention with transportation free. The local union will also send a member to represent them in the oratorical contest.

It will be possible for Endeavors of this union to visit the convention for the small transportation fee of $1.25 for the round trip.

Reverend Iverson of Medford led the singing with Reverend H. T. Mitchellmore of Ashland in charge of the devotions. Reverend R. S. Peterson of Phoenix and George Williams of Ashland were also present. Jerry Latham gave a special edition of a paper to the convention.

A special and a pep song, "O. E. Will Shine," were given by Wilda Hewitte and Ray Clark of Medford. The song "In the Garden" was given as the second special of the rally, by Roberta Gaston of Grants Pass.

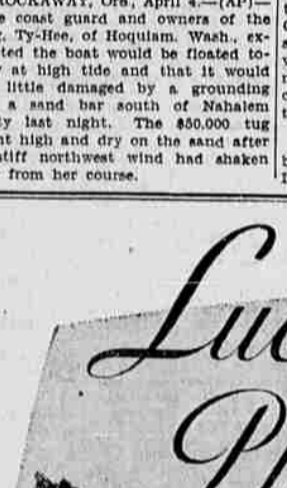

The local union has won two first places and a second in the flag races in state conventions, and this year they carried the honors for third place.

The following societies were represented: Grants Pass Presbyterian; Grants Pass Christian; Rogue River Presbyterian; Applegate; Medford Christian Intermediate; Medford Christian Young People; Medford Presbyterian Senior Intermediate; Phoenix Presbyterian Juniors; Phoenix Presbyterian Adult; Phoenix Presbyterian Senior Intermediate; Ashland Congregational Young People; Ashland Christian Young People; Ashland Presbyterian Young People.

Tug High and Dry On Nehalem Sand

ROCKAWAY, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—The coast guard and owners of the tug, Ty-Hee, of Hoquiam, Wash., expected the boat would be floated today at high tide and that it would be little damaged by a grounding on a sand bar south of Nahalem jetty last night. The $50,000 tug went high and dry on the sand after a stiff northwest wind had shaken her from her course.

BIG SHOT BANKERS WILL BE SUBJECT TO FEDERAL REIN

They realize they are up against the most conservative and the greatest private banking institution of the western world. They know also that no one ever investigated the Morgans before and came out on top. The only reason they dare to hope this time is that they have Mr. Roosevelt suddenly in the background patting them on the back.

The fact that Mr. Morgan has John W. Davis as attorney for the defense shows it will be no easy fight. Davis has been the best business lawyer in the United States since Charles Evans Hughes went to the supreme court. His record as democratic presidential candidate in 1924 might give him enough prestige with a Democratic administration to pull the fat out of the fire in ordinary times. These are not ordinary times.

There are two other subjects the investigators are toying with. They want to show the Morgan profits. They also want to check up on the data offered by Senator Norris charging that the Morgan house has its finger in 2,242 different corporations through its banking directorate.

According to Norris the Morgan directors sit on the boards of 219 other banks; 642 miscellaneous corporations; 215 insurance companies; 425 manufacturing and mining corporations; 423 transportation companies and 318 public utilities.

That will give you a broad hint as to what the investigators are up against.

A sad hidden yarn lies behind those brief hints you have read recently about young J. P. Morgan getting a second mortgage on the home of Charles Mitchell.

Some government investigators have traced the transaction back to March 1931. They say Morgan loaned Mitchell around six million dollars. The security offered declined rapidly in value. To bolster it Mitchell had to offer a first mortgage on his house. The security continued to depreciate until a second mortgage was recently filed. It carried no interest. This is because no additional money changed hands.

That left Mitchell with a shirt and a change of clothes.

Hull is trying to wheedle a reciprocal tariff agreement out of Great Britain.

That is the ally purpose behind all these tele-grams you have seen recently between the British ambassador and the state secretary. The ambassador calls to find out about war debts. The only answers Hull has given him so far have been about tariffs. That is Hull's way. If anyone drops into Hull's office to talk about Heaven or hell he will soon find himself up to his neck in tariffs.

So far the negotiations with the British have been very lopsided. But Hull has hopes.

The administration strategy seems to be that Hull wants at least a tentative tariff understanding with Britain before the World Economic Conference cloaks the real inner discussions on war debts and tariffs. Those last two subjects are taboo as long

GAS SALES CLIMB HIGH OVER SAME MONTH YEAR AGO

SALEM, April 4.—(AP)—Gasoline sales for the month of February in Oregon climbed almost two million gallons higher than the same month in 1932. Hal E. Hess, secretary of state announced today. The increased sales, due to the lower price of gasoline, it was said, resulted in an increase in the state tax for that month by $70,134.

February sales were 11,713,404 gallons, and with the 9773 gallons of distillate resulted in a tax of $486,878 for the month.

Motor vehicle licenses for the third quarter of the license year totaled 280,564 as against 253,573 for the same period a year ago.

This is a loss in license plates of 23,009 or 9.07 per cent.

Actual cash receipts from licenses, truck fees and other motor registration fees for the third quarter, however, dropped 14.02 per cent under a year ago. Receipts, exempting the gasoline tax, totaled $5,520,643, or a loss of $899,831.91.

Increases, however, were noted in various classification of fees. Seasonal truck licenses increased 21.5 per cent. Commercial trucks also showed a slight increase. The greatest decreases were noted in the number of commercial passengers, private passenger cars and miscellaneous motor registrations.
