

'DIZZY' ONE MAY BE GREAT STAR OF BIG LEAGUES

Jerome Dean Looms As Sensation Says Scout After Viewing Young Flinger in Cardinal Camp

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
As the baseball season gets under way, it becomes quite apparent that young Master Jerome Herman Dean, barring some sudden break-down or fit of temperament, is destined to become one of the great right-hand flingers of the current major league array.

"Dean will be a sensation this year," writes one of my scouts who inspected the St. Louis Cardinals with an eagle eye. "He has everything, including a rubber arm that doesn't know the meaning of over-work."

"He has learned a lot in the past two seasons, since he first came up for a trial with the Cardinals. I should say he has gotten over his freshman habits and is ready to settle down to being the best right-hander in the National league, if not in baseball."

All of which explains why the Giants, among others, sought long and earnestly to pry Dean away from the Cardinals during the winter trading season. The only hitch was that Messrs. Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey happened to appreciate just as much as their fellow magnates the rare value of Dean, not only as a pitcher, but as a box-office attraction.

May Beat Matty's Mark.
Dean led the National league in strikeouts last year, his first full season in the majors, with a total of 191. He appeared in 46 games. This compared with the record of the king of American league pitchers, Robert Moses Grove, who fanned 188 in 44 games.

The National league still has a less lively ball than the American, using a thicker covering, and this contribution to the cause of the pitching craft may enable Dean to set a new National league record for strikeouts.

He still has quite a way to go before touching the modern league record for 207 strikeouts, made by Christy Mathewson in 1902, but it should be within the reach of the St. Louis youngster. Dazy Vance, who led the National league for seven successive years in strikeouts, threat-

Pulchritudinous Puncher

Roman Street, pulchritudinous puncher from Salt Lake, Utah, stands a chance of having his classic features somewhat marred in the main bout tomorrow night with Jack McCarthy, if the Irish lad's pre-battle statements mean anything. Street, who captured first prize in a beauty show for colored men in his home town, has an impressive ring record, including the heavyweight championship of Utah.

McCarthy has performed here several times and although not always on the winning end of the purse has put up battles which kept fans on the edge of their seats throughout. He carries the fight to his opponents ened Matty's record by fanning 202 batters in 1924.

Dean, like the great Grove, found the attempt to "throw 'em past" major leaguers a vastly different proposition from fooling the minor league stickers. Dean, with Houston in 1931, struck out 303 men in Texas league company.

Grove never had less than 200 strikeouts while doing his stuff as a regular pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles. The famous southpaw whiffed 300 in 1923 for his high mark. His best effort in the majors is 214 strikeouts, made in 1930.

SEVEN MANAGERS SEE CHANCE FOR WINNING PENNANT

Big League Pilots Full of Enthusiasm As Season Nears—Rivals Give Reasons for Rosy Outlook

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 11.—(AP)—The enthusiasm with which big-league pilots approach the start of the 1933 pennant races was reflected today by the fact that no less than seven managers, including four in the National league and three in the American league, figure they have a real chance to bring the flag winner home in front. It's a long rocky drive for most of the club, from the rattle of the first base hits this Wednesday until the October struggle for world championship honors, but the managers are optimistic, based on increased power, new talent and harmony.

Here's the way some of the rival managers size up the races in statements given to the Associated Press today:

American League:
Joe McCarthy, Yankees: "We have a strong club and face the season with plenty of confidence. However, when a club is on top every one of the others is trying to knock it down. The American league race will be anything but a joy ride. I think our toughest opposition will be the Senators."

Joe Cronin, Senators: "Washington, with its balance in all departments, is preparing to go into a more interesting season than we have had in years. Barring injury, I feel we shall be a contender for the flag."

Connie Mack, Athletics: "We have a good chance to win the pennant. I like this ball club and would not trade it for any other in the league. The team is young, fast, alert and loves to play ball."

National League:
Charley Grimm, Cubs: "We'll repeat. Our club is perfectly conditioned and Frank Demaree will give us a great replacement for Guyler. He can do everything well. The Pirates are good but not good enough to take the play away from the Cubs."

George Gibson, Pirates: "I dislike pennant talk but I am well satisfied. Our club has strength in every position and some of the boys have shown up even better than we hoped. I think we will go places."

Burt Shotton, Phillies: "My team has improved sufficiently to win the pennant. Our young players have gained valuable experience and have the stuff. The pitching staff has come along splendidly."
Gabby Street, Cardinals: "We do not concede any team in the league a better chance to win the pennant. Everybody concedes we have the greatest pitching staff in either league."
Bill Killefer, sagacious leader of the St. Louis Browns, is the only one willing to name the winner. He picks the Yankees to repeat in the American league. Even if they don't say so, the others probably share his view but the veteran Connie Mack thinks his Athletics have a "good chance to win," and there is no doubt of the confidence of Joe Cronin in the Washington club. In fact, he has an authority than Joe McCarthy, the Yankee chief, picks the Senators to furnish the toughest opposition.

Over on the National league side of the fence, strident tones of confidence can be heard from Charley Grimm of the Cubs, who says, "We'll repeat"; Gabby Street, who concedes no team a better chance to win than the Cardinals; Burt Shotton, who thinks his Phillies can win, and Geo. Gibson, "well satisfied," even though he doesn't especially acknowledge the quite general vote in favor of his Pirates.

BURKE IGNORED IN RYDER SELECTION

NEW YORK, April 11.—(AP)—Bill Burke doesn't think he should have been left off the Ryder cup golf team, either.

Commenting on Gene Sarazen's criticism of the Professional Golf association Ryder cup selections because Burke, 1931 American open champion, was not included, Burke himself had this to say:

"If records mean anything that Ryder cup team surely was poorly picked. There's nothing I can do about it now but I agree with Gene in every point of his protest. Excluding Sarazen, I'm willing to match my record since the last Ryder cup matches against any golfer in the country."

Albert R. Gist had said that the P. G. A. couldn't ignore other golfers who had a far better winter season than Burke did.

YAQUI DEFEATS FOE WITH LEGS

PORTLAND, Ore., April 11.—(AP)—Winning two falls out of three in a match that went more than an hour, Yaqui Joe, Sonora, Mexico, Indian, defeated Rex Mobley of Birmingham, Ala., in the main event of last night's wrestling card here. Joe weighed 180 and Mobley 165.

The Indian won the first fall in 44 minutes with a flying double toe hold. Mobley took the second in 7 minutes with an airplane spin, but Joe came back to win the deciding fall in 10 minutes with a flying body scissors.
Flash Kelly, 160, Los Angeles, and Joe Reno, 158, New Orleans, went 45 minutes to a draw in the semi-wind-up. Each won a fall. Tony Moreno, 150, Argentine, won the opening from Herb Burgeson, 145, Portland, with one fall.
