Two proposals are definitely in the administration program: Repeal of the recapture clause requiring the roads to turn over to the government all income above six per cent, and federal regulation of holding companies.

EDMISTON FORMS PORTLAND FIRM FOR BIG BREWERY

PORTLAND, Ore., April 11.—(Spl.) Organization of the Oregon Breweries and Hop Farms Affiliated, with the intention of immediately constructing a $350,000 brewery in Portland, is announced through the Portland Chamber of Commerce by James E. Edmiston, president of the new concern.

The plant, Edmiston said, will have a capacity of 100,000 barrels a year and will be so built and laid out as to lend to doubling of capacity without great additional expense. The plant itself, he explained, will employ 50 persons at the start, and there will be salesmen, delivery workers and others in addition. The company expects to do a national and export business, as well as serve dealers of the Pacific Northwest.

Other officers of the company are C. H. Eismann, Grants Pass, secretary-treasurer; Dane J. Purvine, vice-president; Fredrick Glatz, Frank R. Watkins, directors. Glatz will be brewmaster.

The plant, machinery of which has been ordered from German manufacturers, will be new from top to bottom and along the latest lines of European breweries, according to its officers.

Edmiston explained that the concern actually owns 300 acres of hops in the state and has under option acreage that will bring the total to 1000 shortly.

"We intend to carry on an educational campaign to convince people that beer is not booze," commented Edmiston, "but that it is a food. Beer of 3.2 per cent alcohol should contain 3 to 4 per cent bread values."

Frederick Glatz, who has served as brewmaster at several large eastern breweries, is a director of the new company and will be brewmaster, it was announced.

James E Edmiston, well known local fruit man, left Medford some time ago for Portland.

Mr. Edmiston owns considerable property in southern Oregon and was for a number of years active in the pear industry, recently associated with the C. and E. plant.

SHABBY CLOTHES NO REASON FOR STAYING HOME FROM CHURCH

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—Lack of go-to-meeting clothes or of money for the collection box should keep No one from attending church.

So says the Rev. Paul Lindemann, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran church and editor of the "American Lutheran," in appealing to his pariah to "permit no unjustified feeling of pride and personal dignity to bring about a cleavage between you and God."

"We cannot construe the tendency to remain away from church because of financial stress," he says, "as anything else but an insinuation of Satan."

"After all," he says, a "a Christian church is not a business institution in which a church member is entitled to just so many of the benefits as he or she can pay for, but a church is a depository of the means of grace to which all the needy souls of men are invited and to which all have unlimited access, irrespective of their financial conditions."
