

KINGFISH FLAYS BOURBON DELAY ON FARM RELIEF

Louisiana Solon Follows Chairman Smith Of Agriculture Committee In Rap At Administration Plan.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(AP)—Chairman Smith of the senate agriculture committee late yesterday renewed his opposition to the administration farm bill with an open declaration in the senate that it dealt only with "symptoms" and failed to deal with inflation which he believed necessary.

Smith's remarks were prompted by Senator Long (D., La.), who interpreted Smith's references to the measure as not holding out much hope for accomplishment through the bill advocated by President Roosevelt.

Trailing Symptoms
Long asked Smith why he did not lay aside the farm bill and let the senate pass on the Black five-day week measure, on which a motion to reconsider was pending.

"Here we are treating with symptoms," Smith replied. "Here we are attempting to raise the prices of farm commodities when it is notorious the people who consume farm products haven't enough money to buy at the present low prices."

Smith added the congress should have addressed itself at the outset of the present session to a "cheapening of the purchasing power of the dollar and an increase in the purchasing power of the farmers."

Duty To Find Relief
"It's our duty," he asserted, "before this congress shall have adjourned, to find relief from this terrible money stringency that is throttling commerce and destroying the hope of the American people."

Long said Smith's demand for inflation was expressing "a feeling of 119,000,000 Americans."

Referring to Mondell Ezekiel, economic advisor to Secretary Wallace, Long said he was obtained "from the Republicans" and added:

"Everytime we come up here to try to unravel an orgy of misery we are presented with something by someone whom we promised 120,000,000 people to kick out. That's the kind of bill the senator from South Carolina has to support. I feel the same superstition he feels."

Plays New York Bankers
Long renewed his attacks on New York bankers and the federal reserve board headed by Eugene Meyer. He said he had been informed on authority that "inspired me to confidence" that the board would be reorganized along liberal lines, but that has not been brought about.

Instead of improved conditions as a result of the economy and other bills, Long said he had been informed by the American Federation of Labor today that 200,000 more men have been thrown out of work since the Democrats came into power.

INSANITY PLEA HINT IN TRIAL OF RILEY

BURNS, Ore., April 12.—(AP)—Attorneys for both sides said they expected to complete the jury today in the first degree murder trial of Harry Riley of Portland, charged with slaying his wife, Hilda Thornburg Riley, here last fall. He also faces another murder charge, that of fatally shooting Mrs. Riley's father.

Prospective jurors as to how they would react to testimony of alienists led to the belief an insanity plea would be offered for Riley.

Winnie Ruth Judd Calm as Execution Nears; Slayer's Serenity Unshaken as Hopes Wane

Changing Moods in the Shadow of the Gallows

STATE PRISON, Florence, Ariz.—(AP)—Thirteen months in the shadow of the gallows have passed for Winnie Ruth Judd—a period of alternating hope and despair, resignation and hysterical fury—and have brought her closer to the fourth date set for her execution.

Three times a date has been set for her to pay with her life for the murder of Agnes Ann LeRoi. Three times she has seen the noose pushed aside.

Warden Her Only Hope
Under sentence now to be hanged at dawn, Friday, April 21, only a request by the warden for an insanity hearing could save her. The blasting of virtually her last hope of life—commutation of sentence—has left her smiling, but matrons working in six-hour, sleepless shifts watch her constantly.

An attempt to cut her way to freedom by use of a smuggled saw failed. She then threatened to commit suicide, but the watchful guards have prevented this. As the end approaches she remains so serene as to mystify prison authorities. Now she seems destined to become the second woman to be executed by the state of Arizona. The other was Mrs. Eva Dugan in 1930.

Tried On One Charge
The blue-eyed, slim young woman who entered the prison soon after her 27th birthday was tried only for the slaying of Mrs. LeRoi. The jury did not believe her plea of insanity.

An attempt to place herself on trial for killing Hedvig Samuelson, for the expressed purpose of relating her self-defense story before a jury, failed the day before the pardon and parole board decreed she must die.

Superior Court Judge Howard C. Speakman dismissed the second murder information, holding it would be a waste of money to try her again.

Three days after the women were slain, their bodies—Miss Samuelson's having been dismembered—were found, packed as baggage, in the Los Angeles railway station. A week later Mrs. Judd was arrested in a mortuary block from the Los Angeles Hall of Justice. She had not been out of the city since bringing the bodies there from Phoenix.

Convicted in Phoenix
She went to trial in Phoenix in January, 1932, and three weeks later, at 9:30 p. m. of Feb. 8, a jury which had deliberated less than two hours found her guilty of murder in the first degree and named the death penalty.

Placed in one of the iron-barred death cages adjacent to the little gallow room, she became violent, and shortly was removed to the women's quarters. There she was allowed more freedom and grew calmer for a time.

Occasionally, dressed in the dark blue frock she wore when the sentence of death was pronounced in the Phoenix court, she attended the prison chapel. Her prayers there, she declared, were only for her aged parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, who came to Arizona from Darlington, Ind., to aid their daughter.

The condemned woman's first real bitterness was displayed when the Arizona supreme court denied her a new trial.

"I'm not a murderer!" she cried. "I fought for my life when Miss Samuelson came at me with a gun!"

Three months later, with accompaniment of tears, she told the board of pardons and paroles the same thing, but to no avail.

CITY'S TERRORS TOO MUCH FOR YOUNG HILLMEN

First Ride On Train Leaves Trio Terrorized—Get First Sight Inside Of Barber Shop—Autos Strange.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 12.—(AP)—Three young hillmen who came over the mountains to help the new president with his forestry program found a strange world of trains, streetcars and noise too much for their nerves last night. So they are going home.

The trio, obviously frightened and bewildered by unaccustomed surroundings, was found huddled in the shadows of a downtown alley by a startled patrolman who took them to police headquarters. Officers listened to their story with amazement.

Heard of New President
Jesse Richman, 20, the leader of the expedition, said he and his companions lived near Black Fork, 40 miles back in the hills near the Oklahoma border.

"We heard they had a new president," Richman continued, "and as how he was puttin' folks to work in the woods. We 'lowed we'd help out some." So the three started for the "city."

Walking all day through forests and over the Ouachita mountains, they came late yesterday to DeQueen, Ark., where, Richman said, they saw their first train. They boarded the "cars" and came on to Fort Smith. The train and street cars, Richman confessed, "skared us to death." They wanted to go back to their

Unusual Offer Is Made by Vicks on New Mouth-Wash

Just arrived for Easter — and are we excited! Fresh, bright new dresses . . . with new "old-fashioned" trimmings, — crisp white touches. Jackets or capelets or rough crepes—in appetizing new shades: blue, grey, rose, aqua, navy, beige. We've a huge assortment, one smarter than the other. You'll agree 2.95 is no money at all for dresses like these!

The makers of Vicks VapoRin have put on a new antiseptic mouth-wash and gargle. It will do everything that any mouth antiseptic can and should do . . . and at half the usual cost.

The proof is actual use in your own home. To furnish this proof, 5 million bottles in a special trial size were supplied to druggists, below cost — a 25c value for only 10c.

But the demand has been enormous. If your druggist is already out of the trial size, the regular 10-ounce size of Vicks Antiseptic is an even bigger bargain—a 75c value for only 35c. And, after using it a week, if you are not delighted with its quality, and amazing economy, you can return the unused portion and get your money back.
