THOMAS VOICES NEED FOR CURB UPON UTILITIES

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., April 12.—(AP)—Denouncing the "destruction" of the public utilities regulatory act which he proposed at the state public utilities commission, indicated here last night he will seek through an initiative measure at the next general election such regulatory powers as were eliminated from the Thomas bill by amendment by the legislature. Nearly a thousand persons from Klamath Falls, Medford, Grants Pass, Roseburg, Bend, Redmond and Lakeview heard the address by Commissioner Thomas here. "The only recognizable feature remaining after final action" on the power bill which bore his name, he said, "were the words 'senate bill No. 19.'" As a remedy, he declared, the voters will be asked to approve broader powers of administration at the next general election. "I am telling you frankly," he said, "that notwithstanding all that has been said in regard to the czar-like powers of the Oregon commissioner, that the problem before us can never be conquered under the authority given by present laws, and that unless the people of Oregon give increased powers and adequate funds, satisfactory results can never be obtained."

Some utility transactions were described as "piracy," and he added that no relief can be expected under existing statutes. First, he declared, a law must be passed covering the subjects set forth in senate bill 19 as it was introduced. Second, publicity must be given all public utility affairs. Third, the private utilities must not charge more than the public can serve itself for, and there must be no more than a fair return on the investment. "At present," he continued, "you have placed your own agent in the position where, armed only with a sling, he is instructed to defeat Goliath; to prevail against fully armed and accoutered opponents (for money is the life-blood of court procedure) and then permitted to use nothing more serious than a peashooter."

ROAD DISPUTES BUSY ENGINEER

Disputes over roads and boundaries are demanding the attention of the county court this afternoon. Paul Rynning, county engineer, C. R. Bowman, county school superintendent, and members of the county court are visiting the Upper Trail region to act as a boundary board in settling a school dispute. The court will continue to the Indian Creek section, where a road dispute, which concerns Ford Potter, has caused great arguments and considerable discomfort to several persons.

WAVES AND WIND BAR SEARCH FOR BODIES

U. S. S. PORTLAND AT SEA, April 12.—(AP)—High seas and a howling gale off the Jersey coast where the alek Akron cracked eight days ago hindered the search today for the bodies of the 67 members of the crew still unrecovered. The storm kept the planes which have been taking part in the search out of the air and small boats of the salvage fleet had to stay in port. The work of the largercraft, like this cruiser, was hampered.

Sally Eilers Star Craterian Picture

Sally Eilers and Ralph Bellamy who scored a dual triumph in "Disorderly Conduct," are reunited in "Second Hand Wife," at the Craterian today and tomorrow. "Second Hand Wife" is the story of a big business man who finds himself in an emotional crisis when, neglected by his fashionable wife, he falls in love with his secretary. His home has been held together only by their child. Eventually, the wife divorces him and he marries the office girl. And all goes well until he discovers that his wife's divorce is not legal. As an added feature attraction a laughable picture, "New Western Front" filmed at the legion convention in Portland will be shown.

MONMOUTH April 12.—(AP)—

Filtered bases and a fourth inning rally netted the Williamette University Beacrats a 5 to 3 win over the Oregon Normal baseball team here yesterday.

BEER SCARCITY GRIPS MEDFORD

Although numerous reports about the city today announced arrival of a carload of beer, investigation this afternoon found Medford still in a state of drought, with exception of a few individual shipments in by private dispensers. Several cafes were serving beer late yesterday and today, having brought the beverage in from California in small amounts. Distributors were still unable to obtain a supply of the product from breweries to the north and south. Eastern beer will be arriving not later than next week.

REGISTERED SHOOT AT TRAPS SUNDAY

Registered trap shoot will be held at the local grounds, Easter Sunday, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. It was announced today. It will last about three or four hours to enable people plenty of time to return home to Easter dinners. Anyone, regardless of membership in the Medford Gun club, will be allowed to shoot. Last year the Mall Tribune trophy was brought back to Medford from Klamath Falls by Bill Bates and it is hoped that this season's honors will again fall to Medford.

DOGS RAISE GAIN IN CITY GARDENS

"Everything's going to the bow-wow," is the complaint coming into the Medford police station these days. And this is the reason why—The gardening season has arrived and the dogs are making the most of it. Blacks, browns and spotted dogs were reported in several flower beds yesterday and today and the police this afternoon issued a warning to all dog owners to observe the gardening season, in keeping with restrictions of the city ordinance. The ordinance states that all dogs within the city should be kept at home or on leash during the months of April, May and June.
