MASONS TO HOLD SYMBOLIC RITES

The impressive observance of "The Last Supper" as handed down thru the Scottish Rite ritual, will be held tonight at the Masonic temple under the auspices of Skiskiyou Chapter Rose Croix. This service traces its origin to the Feast of the Passover, attaining its present form largely from the Last Supper of Jesus of Galilee with his disciples, since which occasion the day has been known as Maundy Thursday.

Immediately following the observance of "The Last Supper" the Rose Croix Masonic ceremony of extinguishing the seven symbolic lights takes place and the chapter remains closed and in darkness until the dawn of the third day when the Easter morning service and ceremony or relighting the symbolic lights takes place and the chapter again re-opens its life.

These services are obligatory upon all Scottish Rite Masons who have attained the Eighteenth degree and are being conducted for members of any jurisdiction who may be in this vicinity on these days. Non-affiliated Scottish Rite members are especially urged to join in these services and get acquainted with Skiskiyou chapter.

Members from Grants Pass and Ashland will attend the services here in Medford. The services at Klamath Falls Masonic temple will also be held under the auspices of Skiskiyou Chapter and conducted by officers especially appointed for the occasion.

Walter H. Jones is the present Wise Master of Skiskiyou Chapter and will conduct tonight's observance of Maundy Thursday.
