G. Bernard Shaw

G. BERNARD SHAW is, and always has been, a "shilling G. shocker." He refuses, and always has refused, to say anything in either a direct or a simple way. He doesn't use words to inform, or to persuade, but to startle and amuse. Great a master of prose as he is, he is a greater poseur; amazing as his gift of expression, his virtuosity as a verbal prestigitator, has exceeded it.

As a result Mr. Shaw has not been the force for good that he should have been,—and had he desired,—could have been. He has always been a great Liberal,—genuinely devoted to human betterment—he has always been at heart a courageous crusader for the truth,—and might have accomplished a great deal in that direction—in economic, industrial and social betterment. But evangelism bored him. Reforms bored him. Everything bored him but the shocked laughter and applause of the discriminating world.

So he played up to that world,—made millions out of it,—and now in his declining years, continues in his chosen role as a sort of cosmic clown,—the 20th century's great "farceur."

A T HEART, he has been interested in the masses, but the masses have not heard him. He has been interested in making this a better world, but in any REAL sense, the world has passed him by.

He has preferred to be clever, brilliant, paradoxical—a sort of gigantic set of literary fireworks—to make the people "Oh!" and "Ah!"—to being anything else.

And in that direction he has been a supreme success. But in every other direction he has been a failure.

"A wit's a feather, a chief's a rod, an honest man is the noblest work of God."

G. B. S. with all his brilliance, his cleverness, his astounding verbal virtuosity has always been and still is a "FEATHER". Essentially,—not as an individual,—not as Mr. Shaw the man, but as Mr. Shaw the ARTIST—G. B. S. has not been honest,—he has not been interested in what he said, but the way he said it.

That's why the people laugh at him, marvel at him, and then forget him,—and why in another generation both he and his works will be forgotten.

A Paradox Himself

MR. SHAW in his New York speech paid his tribute to President Roosevelt and Wm. Randolph Hearst, because they are doing their best to do away with the United States constitution—that great political humbug.

No one takes such a statement seriously.

He also took a lousy swipe at Hollywood, the "most immoral place in the world",—not because the men drink and play around—but because they punch people they don't like in the nose,—take the law in their own hands—in short are anarchists. No one takes THAT seriously.

YET undoubtedly G. B. S. was perfectly serious in both statements,—when he made them.

The truth is Shaw doesn't like laws,—is himself a philosophical anarchist,—so he disapproves of the constitution and welcomes attacks on it. The more President Roosevelt puts himself above the constitution and makes himself a dictator the better G. B. S. likes it.

For the same reason he likes a pirate like Hearst, and a racketeer like Stalin. On the other hand, while he TALKS like a wild man George B. ISN'T. He is a vegetarian and a pacifist. While he has said many shocking things as an author and dramatist, he has done few shocking things as a man. In fact at heart he is a Puritan, if not a prude.

So he honestly detests bloodshed—even if it is nothing more than a nose bleed,—and abhors violence—as a monkey abhors water.

Which is only another way of saying George Bernard Shaw, master of paradox, is a paradox himself.

He is one thing on paper, he is another thing inside his red flannel underwear.

In fact if one REALLY wants to understand the baffling G. B. S., they have only to read Messrs. Jung and Freud.

He would have made a typical case for their clinical observation.

Communications

"Bit of Philosophy" Drivel.
 To the Editor:
 I have just been reading in the columns of the Mail Tribune an essay called "A Bit of Philosophy."

In view of conditions as they have existed in Jackson county for several months past, and which conditions have finally led to the cold blooded murder of one of our best citizens, such drivel seems wholly out of place. Let us quote a paragraph from this schoolgirl essay:

The ideal of tomorrow will float like a mirage before our eyes—but unlike a mirage, it will not mock, but will guide us ever onward to yet higher goals.

So far this "ideal of tomorrow" has failed to guide the writer of this essay on to "higher goals."

If the writer of all this whangdoodle would come down to earth and learn to distinguish between right and wrong, it would certainly be a step in the right direction.

It seems that a copy of "A Bit of Philosophy" has been given Banks and his wife. I very much doubt if the "flowery bits of fancy" contained in this essay would appeal to anyone who would deliberately and in cold blood murder an innocent man.

To Prevent Ballot Theft
 To the Editor:
 Jackson county should be sufficiently sick and tired of election frauds, ballot stealing, contests and shootings to give serious consideration to taking advantage of the state law which allows the use of voting machines. Seattle, Tacoma, San Francisco and thousands of other cities and towns in the United States have used voting machines for over twenty years without one single finger of suspicion being pointed toward the ballot box. They are free from election frauds, incriminations, contests and shootings. Those cities get immediate returns as well as save the taxpayers thousands of dollars annually by the use of voting machines. Why not Medford and Jackson county?

 Portland has some voting machines in storage which the county authorities might obtain for use in our elections in this county. Portland has not used these machines because they have first, second and third choice voting there. They will fill every requirement of the voters of this county and can be purchased so as to pay for themselves out of their savings.

The citizens of Pennsylvania installed and by their vote installed voting machines after their scandals. It is time for the citizens of Jackson county to act, install voting machines and forever eliminate election contests and disgrace which this community has gone through during the last few years.

lowed to buy as cheaply as possible, whether American labor has any employment or not. Another argument has been made that we shouldn't close our markets to the poor Europeans, who NEED them.

Meanwhile unemployment goes on increasing, because American factories can't provide jobs for American workers unless they can sell what they make.

 If all this is true—and it sounds exceedingly plausible as Mr. Garrett tells it—we surely have come to us all the ridicule that G. B. Shaw, or anybody else, can pile on us.

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M.D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady in care of The Mail Tribune.

THE BEST WAY TO BREATHE.

In a talk about good posture I said: "Never try to throw out your chest on top in your... you fill in the missing word, but be careful. It must be the right word, the word I used, not a some word you think would express the idea well enough. Anterior or front wall of the great body cavity is a bit too awkward. A b o m e n is a silly euphemism and misleading. Stomach is a barbarous word for it. Belly is the only English word that signifies precisely what we are talking about. The essential meaning of the term belly is belows. Every one should learn to use the hollows in breathing. I call it Belly Breathing because that is what it is. A dozen belly breaths in the natural manner once or twice a day will bring a lot of relief to a lot of troubles that people without much knowledge of physiology—that is to say pretty nearly all laymen—seldom associate with breathing.

A gentleman who gives, or perhaps sells, service to organizations, clubs, business, corporations, asserts that success is a matter of pushing out your third vest button. For instance, if you push out your third vest button your sales will surely increase. If you let it sag you're bound to be a failure. If you go into conference with an executive just keep your third vest button pushed out as far as you can and you'll dominate your man and gain your objective. Of course, if by ill luck he, too, knows the secret of success well, so be it, one or the other of you is bound to win or bust.

Within limitations I think the gentleman is right in a way, tho he assures me I am wrong. Oh, yes, his vast experience in teaching the great secrets of success to great business corporations such as (he names some great insurance companies and the like) has proved that the old army game is right—you must draw your belly in and up when you stand erect. That is reminiscent of the comical attitude soldiers in the United States army and other armies were required to assume at attention. But even the United States army authorities know better now.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
 Smoking Mothers.
 My friend, an expectant mother, smokes three or four cigarettes a day. I try to tell her that it will affect the child, but she says she gets so nervous if she can't have her smokes... I think she has not told her doctor she smokes. What effect will it have on the baby?—Mrs. L. M. L.
 Answer—Probably no serious effect, tho the mother's neurotic weakness or want of self-discipline will be a contribution to the make-up of the child. She is cheating herself by concealing such things from her physician's knowledge.

Tonsil Diathery.
 Are you willing to explain just the method used in the diathery extraction of infected tonsils.—Mrs. D. L. A.
 Answer—The treatment consists of a series of perhaps half a dozen applications of a high frequency current, which causes electro-coagulation or desiccation of a portion of the tonsil tissue, and later this shriveled portion comes away by minute particles. Treatments are as painless as ordinary dental treatments are. Bloodless. Safe. No interruption of usual occupation. No hospitalization. No interference with regular meals. It is the modern way and the sensible way to have infected tonsils removed. (Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

Phoenix
 PHOENIX, April 11.—(Spl.)—Phoenix Grange met Tuesday with a large attendance. The lecture hour consisted of a short play and songs by the North Phoenix school before the Grange meeting. Drill team put on some work which everyone enjoyed. A committee, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Maus and T. V. Williams, served refreshments in the Grange dining room. Pep songs were led by Vaughn Quackenbush, with everyone participating. A good time was enjoyed by all.
 Rev. R. B. Peterson and wife accompanied Rev. Mitchelmore and wife of Ashland to Central Point Tuesday for a special presbytery.
 April 12 a large group of ladies met to clean the church for the special Easter services. The ladies met early in the morning with each woman bringing a covered dish for the noon meal.
 Mrs. George Drake and Elva Caster enjoyed a hike to the Black Bear coal mine Tuesday afternoon. They reported the lambstongue in full bloom.

AKRON SURVIVORS REACH HAVEN AFTER TRAGEDY

Associated Press telephoto taken at the Brooklyn, N. Y., navy yard with three survivors of the dirigible Akron's sea crash off the New Jersey shore being taken ashore. Richard Diet, enlisted man, is being carried down the gangplank from the U.S.S. Tucker. In the rear can be seen M. E. Erwin (2) and Lt. Comdr. P. V. Wiley, (1) second in command of the ill-fated dirigible. A fourth member of the crew, Robert Copeland, died after being picked up from the sea.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND GOING TO TOURNEY

Tomorrow morning, Medford high school's band will journey to Eugene with Class A schools in the state annual high school band contest. The local group will journey north in private cars, and will be accompanied by Director F. Wilson Wait and Principal and Mrs. C. G. Smith.

Medford high school's band will play Saturday evening at MacArthur court, according to arrangements of the program.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR TO GIVE PROGRAM

Mt.za Commandry, Nok 4, Knights Templar, will observe Easter in this city Sunday afternoon, with a program opening at one o'clock. It was announced today by Harvey J. Field, eminent commander and W. H. Day, recorder.

Assemblage to obtain dinner tickets, will be held at the Masonic temple at 8 o'clock, and at 1:30, a turkey dinner is to be served at the Hotel Medford. The traditional templar service is scheduled for three o'clock at the Masonic temple, conducted by officers and the drill team. Vocal solos will be given by Elsie Carlton Strang with the address by Rev. W. J. Howell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here.

The notices being sent to the members state that "equipment implies regulation uniform, minus baldric and sword. Resident Sir Knights and visiting fraters are courteously invited to attend, accompanied by their ladies." The committee in charge of arrangements is E. L. Lanox, R. W. Lee, G. B. Alden, Medford; J. H. Hardy, Ashland; Earl Newberry, Talent.

Growing at Luck Means Bad Score

By JOHNNY FARRELL.
 (As Told to Artie McGovern)
 "Why do I get an 80 one day, and the very next a 98?" This kind of question is easy to answer.
 Bad putting alone may cost 18 strokes in a round. Moreover, if you're out there, you are sure to bungle your next tee shot after a 3-putt green and it's here that Old Kid Temperament comes in.
 Once played—forget the last hole. Golf evens up. Every golfer has sliced a tee shot into the woods, only to have the ball bounce off a tree back onto the fairway. Or again, a perfect drive right down the middle fairway may settle in a bad divot hole.
 These trials and tribulations go to make up the game. If we played with approximately the same score for every round, we would soon tire of it. Variety and diversification constitute golf's great fascination.
