

PICTURESQUE RITE RESTORED BY PIUS FOR SACRED DAYS

Pope Carries Blessed Sacrament From Tabernacle to Pauline Chapel for First Time in Over Thirty Years

By JOHN LLOYD VATICAN CITY, April 14.—(AP)—A pope carried the blessed sacrament from the tabernacle in the Sistine chapel to the Pauline chapel for the first time since 1870 yesterday.

Thus Pope Pius XI, on the 1900th anniversary of Christ's institution of the eucharist, restored to the Roman Catholic world one of its most picturesque and traditional ceremonies.

Open Sacred Days The ritual inaugurated the three most sacred days of holy week. It was one of several symbolic acts abandoned by Pius' predecessors through the past 63 years.

Surrounded by high dignitaries of the church and a few invited guests, he first said mass in the Sistine chapel. Then, followed by members of the sacred college of cardinals and a uniformed company of noble and Swiss guards, he carried the sacrament slowly in procession to the Pauline chapel, where it was ceremoniously uncovered.

Late today he will take it back to the Sistine chapel, where he again will say a special mass.

The bells of Rome's 400 churches greeted Holy Thursday yesterday morning, but stopped ringing after a few minutes to remain silent until Saturday noon. The Catholic world is now mourning Christ's passion and death.

Thousands of pilgrims, including many Americans, attended services in St. Peter's, where Cardinal Pacelli, high priest, officiated.

Saints' Skulls Seen Other thousands went to the cathedral of St. John Lateran, in Rome, to venerate the table which, it is said, was used at the Last Supper.

They also saw two skulls reputed to be those of Saints Peter and Paul, a part of the sponge said to have been lifted to Christ's lips when he suffered thirst, and other prized relics.

Priests in many churches repeated Christ's washing of the apostles' feet. They selected 12 poor men for the purpose and after bathing their feet gave them food and money. Thirteen priests from foreign countries were chosen for the ceremony in St. Peter's, the thirteenth representing St. Paul.

IDEAL GIRL DOESN'T DRINK OR USE FAGS

DENVER, Colo., April 14.—(AP)—Students in a high school course, dealing with what makes a girl popular, agreed their ideal must be slender, moderately quiet, and not addicted to bright red nail polish.

"She doesn't drink nor does she smoke," the students said. "If she must do one or the other, then let her smoke. An intoxicated woman is worse than a drunk man."

MORMON APOSTLE WILL SPEAK HERE

Dr. Richard R. Lyman, consulting engineer for the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, and for the sanitary district of Chicago and for the Columbia Basin Reclamation project, and one of the apostles of the "Mormon" church will speak in Medford Wednesday night at the Seventh Day Adventist church.

Dr. Lyman, whose home is in Salt Lake City, the headquarters of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly known as "Mormons," will go first to Portland, Oregon, where he will meet President William R. Sloan of the Northwestern States mission and the two together will tour the mission, visiting most of the states in the northwest.

In addition to being widely known for his accomplishments in the field of engineering and sanitation, this visiting apostle is one of the best known educators in the west. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and from Cornell University received the degrees, master of Civil Engineering and Doctor of Philosophy, as well as being elected to membership in the honorary scientific society, Sigma XI.

SLASH IN POSTAL RATES NEXT AIMP

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley today recommended immediate enactment of legislation empowering President Roosevelt to lower or increase postage rates "as increasing business or the demands of the postal service may make necessary."

Farley said restoration of the two-cent rate on all local first class mail—instead of the present three-cent rate—would be the first step recommended to the president if the legislation were enacted.

If the reduction results in increased revenue to the department, Farley said the president "will then have ample ground upon which to direct the restoration of the two-cent postage rate for all first class mail."

The president's authority would expire July 1, 1934—the time when the three-cent rate, which went into effect last July 6, is to end.

Hen Alarm Clock Also Lays Eggs

ROYAL OAK, Mich., April 14.—(AP)—Fred Burton thinks his pet hen, Aurora, is the only combination alarm clock and breakfast provider existing.

Each morning at dawn the hen flaps through a window into Burton's bedroom and pecks at the covers until he is awakened. Then Aurora often clambers onto a dresser and lays a breakfast egg.

CITY-BRED SOLON HOLDS KEY PLACE IN FARM AID PLAN

By HERBERT PLUMMER WASHINGTON.—A man whose entire life has been spent not far from the sidewalks of New York has been given an important task in connection with bringing the latest form of relief to the farmer.

Senator Robert F. Wagner heads the subcommittee of the banking currency committee which will look into President Roosevelt's proposal for easing up on the farm mortgage situation.

Days before the president's message reached the senate Wagner had been wrestling with the question of farm mortgages.

Born in Germany, Wagner came to this country with his parents when he was 8 years old. He sold papers on the streets of New York to help pay his way through school and also worked his way through the college of the City of New York.

Despite the fact that he isn't a farmer and knows little or nothing about the farm, handling relief legislation of this nature is nothing new to him.

He has been at it ever since he has been in the senate. Back in the days before hardly anyone had begun to think about unemployment in this country Wagner's voice was heard in warning. The very conditions that he urged congress and the administration to guard against now exist.

He worked his proposals into legislation that was passed by congress which sought to set up a federal organization to co-operate with the states on unemployment. The measure received a presidential veto.

Wagner's political career has been marked by his efforts on behalf of the laboring classes of the country. It's nothing new in congress to see a city man fighting for the cause of the farmer. Some of agriculture's best friends on capitol hill have been those men who have spent most of their lives in urban centers.

STATE LIQUOR LAW REPEAL NOT ISSUE IN JULY ELECTION

SALEM, April 14.—(AP)—Voters of Oregon will not express themselves on repeal of state constitutional liquor laws at the July 21 election, Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle has ruled.

Shortly after adjournment of the 37th legislative assembly, petitions calling for a plebiscite on state prohibition were filed with more than 40,000 names attached.

The attorney general ruled that the legislative enactment calling for the special election of July 21 made no provision for voting on initiative measures, merely calling for an expression on measures referred by the legislature or placed on the ballot by referendum petitions. Only the title of the enactment mentioned initiative petitions.

"Clearly the language of the act does not contain anything which can be construed as including measures which were not enacted by the legislative assembly," the opinion read.

The title of the act contained provision for referring the initiative measures, but such provision was not included in the body of the bill.

The fate of the general sales tax will be decided at the July 21 election.

Also delegates will be elected at that time to attend a constitutional convention and vote on repeal of the 18th amendment. Both of these measures were referred by the legislature.

Referendum petitions are now out to place on the ballot the oleo margarine four-cent tax measure and the so-called initiative and recall reform bill both passed by the last legislature.
