Weekly Bible Class Studies Book of Deuteronomy.

The Weekly Bible class had a most instructive meeting Tuesday at the Y. W. C. A. The lesson covered the book of Deuteronomy and particularly the second giving of the law to the Israelites, who were about to enter the promised land, after their wilderness wanderings of 40 years. It also covered the Song of Moses, which the Lord commanded he should write and teach to the people, and which was to be read and sung at their services. The history of this song and the fact that it was lost for 500 years, had much to do with the dispersion of this people and their captivity. Moses' punishment for his unbelief at the Rock at Rephidim was his exclusion from the promised land. The entire book is a rehearsing to the children of Israel of their shortcomings and inability to keep all the law, and an exhortation to them to return to the Lord and an observance of the law.

The lesson for next Tuesday night, April 18, will be the books of Joshua, Judges and Ruth. Each member of the class is expected to have read these three books before the meeting.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

The High School Girl Scout Troop No. 1 has a very wide and interesting program to be carried out this spring.

One of the many things the girls are doing is visiting the different establishments of the city. On these visits the girls get a full idea of how the different bakeries, laundries, printing offices, and cleaning shops operate.

In the troop meetings the girls are doing work for the grade school troops or helping by painting tables and chairs and cleaning up the Girl Scout office.

In the field of community work the scouts have been making sponges for the County Health Unit which not only proved helpful but interesting.

The High School troop also gave one dollar to the Prescott Memorial Fund.

In the remaining two months we hope to accomplish more than we have in the past eight.

D. A. R. News

Mrs. R. G. Beach was hostess to Crater Lake chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, for the regular meeting on Saturday, April 15, with Mrs. C. B. Warren, Mrs. Snedicor, Mrs. Newman and Miss Clara Wood assisting.

Mrs. Dixon, the regent, presided and after the opening exercises and nomination of candidates for chapter officers for next year, reports of the recent state conference were given.

Among the outstanding achievements of the Oregon society during the past year are: Clearing the pioneer cabin at Champoeg of all indebtedness, one new chapter organized and four more in prospect and winning first place in the Pacific division in the work of conservation and thrift. Much of this work has been in relief and welfare projects.

Special guest speakers at the conference were Dr. Thomas Bibb, president of Albany College; Col. Wm. H. Patterson of the U. S. Army; Dean J. H. Gilbert of the University of Oregon and Lt. Commander Nelson W. Hibbs of the U. S. navy.

Among the resolutions passed were one for the non-recognition of Soviet Russia, support for the R. O. T. C. and the C. M. T. C. military programs and for the proper observance of Washington's birthday in our public schools.

Throughout the conference, the state regent, Mrs. John Y. Richardson used a beautiful myrtlewood gavel, a gift from the Eugene chamber of commerce.

Mrs. G. Q. D'Albini reported the conference of the Children of the American Revolution, which was a very successful one. It is a matter worthy of pride that one of the prizes in the Judge Tucker state-wide essay contest was won by Miss Ruth D'Albini, a member of the General Joseph Lane society, Children of the American Revolution.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting on May 20 at Mrs. Wilson Walt's home, 220 Vancouver avenue.

Missionary Society Has Fine Meeting

The Lenten spirit, together with the offering, characterized the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church, held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Koppen on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Gillings presided during the business session, opening with prayer in concert.

Miss Helen Carlton as leader of the afternoon's program chose the 53rd chapter of Isaiah for devotional period. This was suggested as a daily Bible lesson each day preceding Easter.

The study topic, "Bancroft Rest Home," a beautiful, spacious building and grounds, which had its inception in a small cottage, contributed by Miss Bancroft and her sister, Mrs. Robinson, was the subject for a helpful and instructive talk by Miss Carlton.

The Lenten offering is appropraited for women who devote their lives to work of this nature. During the social half hour, salad and wafers, with tea were served by the hostess and her assistants. The next meeting in May will be the annual mite box opening, at the home of Mrs. Bernard Roberts.

Humane Workers Observe Week Throughout World

Humane societies in all parts of the world are busy completing final arrangements for the observance of "Be Kind to Animals Anniversary," which this year is scheduled from April 17 to 23, inclusive. Mrs. H. D. McCaskey, president of the Jackson County Humane society, announces that close to 100,000 of the humane posters have been distributed nationally and that this year's ceremonies in all parts of America, despite the depression, will be more extensive than ever before.

"According to word from national headquarters," said Mrs. McCaskey, "there has never been such complete cooperation with the movement as this year. Civic leaders, fraternal organizations, women's clubs, churches and other organized bodies will display the posters and participate in the ceremonies that have been planned in practically every city and town in the United States." It is announced that radio stations from the largest to the smallest have volunteered generously of their time and that dignitaries from all walks of life will be heard on the air each day of the anniversary.

The past year has been the most trying in the history of humane societies since the first of the anti-cruelty organizations came into existence in 1866. Contributions have been fewer than ever before and memberships have dropped off at such an alarming rate that many of the societies have been compelled to curtail their activities or close their doors.

The attitude of the previously supporting public has been that animals are not entitled to consideration while so many humans are suffering through the depression. Unless there is a change in this feeling during the coming twelve months, it is said that hundreds of anti-cruelty societies will be compelled to suspend activities entirely. Despite adverse conditions during the past year much progress has been made by humane organizations in securing additional protection against animal cruelties.

Featuring the anniversary this year will be a daily plea to all drivers of automobiles to exert more care in avoiding mishaps to animals on the road. Complete statistics are not available, but it is said that millions of dogs, cats and other animals have been killed or maimed during the past year in accidents that could have been averted with a little more care.

Following the meeting the auxiliary and their state officers will be entertained by the members of Crater Lake Post No. 1833, at a banquet served by a committee of the post with Tom Foose as chairman. This assures a fine time for all, and a large attendance is expected.

SCHEDULE COUNTY SCHOOLS TESTS

Beginning Monday, April 17, the county superintendent's office, assisted by a crew of trained graduate students from the Southern Oregon Normal school, will conduct the annual achievement testing for the county schools. Due to the general policy of retrenchment made necessary by a reduced budget this year, this important testing work could not have been carried out except for the timely aid offered by the Normal school.

As their name indicates, achievement tests indicate the progress made by the pupil during the past year, and their results form the basis for one-third of the eighth grade graduates' final standing.

These tests have been conducted for the past three years, county-wide, and as a result, the records of the county superintendent's office are extremely valuable in checking general progress in our county school system. It is indeed fortunate that we could call to our aid such excellent help as will be afforded by the normal school this year.
