

HERRIOT COMING WITH OFFER FOR FRENCH PAYMENT

Lump Sum Will Be Offered United States In Settlement Of Outstanding Debt When Ex-Premier Visits.

LE HAVRE, France, April 18.—(AP)—Former Premier Edouard Herriot left for Washington today to lay the ground-work for an eventual French proposal to pay a lump sum for the outstanding war debt owed to the United States.

He was aboard the Ile de France which sailed today for New York. His instructions are to be an observer, instead of a negotiator, as the French representative in the international conference with President Roosevelt on world problems.

But he will lose no opportunity to present the French case and pave the way for later negotiations through Andre Le Laboulaye, the new French ambassador.

Debt's Major Factor
Debt, although admittedly only a part of the world recovery plan, looms large in the French parliamentary and press discussions.

"Premier Daladier," a spokesman for the foreign office said, "had two alternatives: first, to send M. Herriot to Washington with last December's debt installment in a satchel, which he could not do because of the opposition in the chamber of deputies; and, second, to send him as an unofficial observer of the type America has been sending abroad since the war."

The second alternative was chosen.

Aboard the Ile de France, M. Herriot was handed a personal letter from President Albert Lebrun.

"This note is to convey my greetings and good wishes at the moment you start across the ocean," the president wrote. "A pleasant journey, a successful mission, and a happy return."

Pell Unable To Come
Robert L. Pell, attache at the U. S. embassy in Paris, whom the foreign office had strongly hoped would be able to accompany M. Herriot, was unable to go because the American department of state felt he was needed in Europe by Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large.

France's debt in the United States stands at $3,921,847,000, with $10,281,000 in default. The defaulted portion, consisting of interest, was due last December 15.

For some time there have been indications that the government would ask the Roosevelt administration to consider a lump sum payment on the basis of the Lausanne agreement last July, which virtually put an end to German reparations.

The Lausanne agreement reduced Germany's reparations debt to the allied powers by nine-tenths.

Government officials and economic experts have asserted that unless the Lausanne accord is taken into account by the American government the whole reparations question may have to be reheated, and in such a process they have seen grave political and financial consequences.

miles from the center of the city of Klamath Falls, when I visited this community, I found the public school of over 400 children, and about 45 families, who did not attend church or Sunday school anywhere. They now have over 100 in attendance at Sunday school, and an active Christian Endeavor society which meets every Sunday night with over fifty in attendance.

"As a result of the work, your missionary has organized six new Sunday schools, reorganized three others with a total of 84 teachers and officers, with 290 pupils. Seventy-nine other Sunday schools have been visited and aided. Your missionary has been busy exploring new communities. Two thousand, one hundred eighteen families visited, 281 sermons and addresses were delivered, 36 conversions have been reported, 19,354 miles traveled, 8,373 pages of good literature have been distributed. 144 Bibles sold or given to needy ones. 82 conferences have been held and planned for the work. Three evangelistic meetings held; 10 Sunday school institutes were conducted. Eight home departments started, and four teachers' training classes have been conducted. This is a very needy part of our program."

"Two Christian Endeavor societies organized, and three Cradle Roll. Nineteen daily vacation Bible schools were held during the past year with an average attendance of 928. We are hoping every church and Sunday school will have one this coming summer. Fifty-two public school teachers have used the Manual Bible lessons."

"The attendance at the Young People's Summer Conference was much larger than any previous year. This is a good promise for the future, as our aim must be with the growing generation who by and by must take the lead."

"We are thankful for the splendid cooperation of the superintendents and Sunday school workers in the Presbytery."

"Yours in His Service,

VETERINARY GIVES CAT HEALTH HINTS IN KINDNESS WEEK

Is your cat healthy and happy? Is he frivolous and playful? Is his hair glossy and his appetite good?

"The answer to all these questions will be 'yes,' if instructions from Dr. W. A. Young are followed. Dr. Young, veterinarian of the Animal Rescue League of Boston, has a world-wide reputation as a cat expert. As his contribution to 'Be Kind to Animals Anniversary' he prepared a pamphlet for the American Humane association, which should add much happiness to cat life in the future.

Here are some of the things this authority recommends: Cats like a warm bed. It is astonishing how much heat they can stand. A bed of some kind should be provided in a clean basket, chair or box. Newspapers make good summer beds. Puss is careful about herself and she likes cleanliness.

Generally speaking cats are not bathed, but when it is necessary it should be done with lukewarm water and the cat should be rubbed thoroughly dry before having a chance to chill. After drying the fur should be straightened with a comb and brush. Long haired cats should be groomed regularly, with daily combing and brushing.

When a light colored cat grows grimy it can be dry cleaned by rubbing cornmeal into the hair coat and then combing and brushing it out.

When cats lap the loose hair from their bodies they are apt to swallow it, causing hair balls. A little oil given occasionally, as needed, will correct this trouble.

Beef should be fed, both raw and cooked. It should be given finely minced or in large pieces that a cat can masticate. Fish properly cooked, is second in importance. Milk is good in small amounts. About ten percent of the food total should be green. Bits of grass and oat sprouts may be given in the winter. Catnip, fresh or dried, aids digestion.

Feed vegetables such as carrots, spinach, celery, asparagus, green beans, barley, cooked as a stew with beef and then ground and mixed thoroughly to prevent the animal getting lumps of food or eating only the meat and leaving the vegetables. Many cats relish milk and raw eggs beaten together. Table scraps form an economical and nourishing menu. For a mature cat, two meals a day are sufficient, with the larger meal in the evening.

Such things as liver, kidney and hearts should be fed seldom. Fresh, clean water should always be available.

Raising kittens: you should begin when they are two or three weeks old to feed first milk, then small quantities of beef, fish, etc., until at weaning time they are on a diet independent of the mother. They should be fed three or four times daily at first; then meals should be spaced at longer intervals until at six or eight months, they are eating with mature cats.

Tiny kittens may be raised by hand, feeding whole milk with a pinch of sugar. The first week they should have a few drops from a pen filler every thirty minutes to an hour. In the second week only half as often. Then they may be taught to lap from a dish.

CAPT. BOWN GIVES KIWANIS TALK ON DUTIES OF POLICE

Capt. Lee M. Bown of the state police was chief speaker Monday noon at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Hotel Medford. He described the organization and work of the state police, telling how carefully evidence is obtained and preserved in all cases.

Because of this very secure system, he stated, most of the persons apprehended by the state police, enter guilty pleas. That the state police organization is strictly non-political, was another point stressed by the speaker, who told of the appointments within the organization and the release of unsatisfactory members of the staff. All persons are tried out in the districts and if their work is found unsatisfactory by the respective captains they are returned to Salem.

The music for Monday's program was furnished by the Gleemen quartet, which entertained with several numbers, enthusiastically received.

Oregon Weather.
Cloudy with occasional rain north-west portion late tonight or Wednesday; freezing temperature east portion tonight; moderate changeable winds offshore.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Longstreth, Mrs. Stenrud, Mrs. Homer Moore and Mrs. W. L. Moore.

The May meeting will be guest day, especially honoring mothers. Messdame Pankey, Kincaid, Hash, Andrews and Talbot will be the hostesses. With the many varieties of plan's and bulbs sent out by Mrs. Sam McNeil and the ones brought by the members, the exchange was a decided success.

MRS. TRUE RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF UPPER VALLEY WOMENS CLUB

BELLEVUE, April 18.—(Sp.)—Upper Valley Community club met at the club house Wednesday afternoon with about thirty members and guests present. Roll call was answered by recipes for a good club. The one given by Mrs. F. L. Clark received first prize. The president read a letter from the orphan's home near Portland asking for donations, and it was decided that each member should give one article for the home at the next meeting. The slogan, "Service, Fellowship and Cheer," was chosen. The members accepted reluctantly the resignation of Mrs. Cora True as president. This office will be filled at the next meeting. Mrs. Robert Bell announced the following program: Two folk dances by Kathleen Spence, Betty Wimer, Olive Clapp, Beryl King, Dorothy Huff, Marjorie Bell, Bonnie Teague, Juanita Reed, Louise Martin, Velma Athanas, Hazel Hinch and Fay Davis.

A skit, Mrs. Wallis and Mrs. True, and a piano solo by Frieda Ernestine Bratezol of Ashland.

MISSIONARY FINDS TRYING DAYS FOR COUNTY CHURCH

The following report, covering the period from April 1, 1932 to April 1, 1933, has been given out by Rev. Engvald Iverson, field worker for the Presbytery church in southern Oregon:

"These are trying days for the church. Some have even gone so far as considering the fact whether or not they should close the work until things adjust themselves."

"Many pastors and Christian workers are wondering just what to do, but God has proven himself a steadfast and unchangeable friend, and we find the gospel still has power. Your missionary is happy in having a part in keeping the gospel light burning these days."

"I have found many making this statement, 'There is no longer a need for Sunday school work.' Lectures have been given, books written, and even sermons preached, setting forth new and better policies of reaching the children. Whatever might have been said, it is certainly true there is a need for some agencies by which the gospel of our Lord may be brought to the very doors of our people."

"Many are poor, but there is a desire for religious work in their community. Unless some religious work is maintained, the rural problem will be greater ten years from now than it is today. A personal investigation in some of the counties in our Presbytery reveals a great need for missionary work."

"Josephine county has a population of 11,482 people, and a Sunday school membership of all the churches, of only 2,518. In the seven mission schools in the county, we have a membership of 265."

"In Douglas county, a population of 21,973 has a Sunday school membership of 6,211. In the nine mission Sunday schools in the county, we have a membership of 325. This reveals some of the great need in the counties of our Presbytery."

"We can all see that there is a great army of children out of touch with any Sunday school."

"In a number of communities where we have mission schools, great change has taken place and interest has kept up. In other places, some of the best workers have moved away and it is hard to find others who will take their place."

"In one of our schools, only four
