THREE LADS FACE SERIOUS CHARGES IN JUSTICE COURT

Alva (Sonny) Mansfield of Ashland and Joseph Dallaire and Richard Tilley, of this city, all beneficiaries of the parole in the juvenile and circuit courts, are detained in the county jail on new charges. Mansfield is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl, the other two with petty larceny. The records of the district attorney's office show that Mansfield has been in trouble before. Last June he was sentenced to serve six months for possession of liquor, but was paroled. Later he was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and the parole was revoked by Justice A. Roby. Mansfield is a brother of Emalee (Bobby) Mansfield, implicated in the robbery of the J. C. Penney store at Ashland last summer, and now in the State Industrial Home for Girls at Salem. In 1931 Mansfield was charged with driving an auto without a license and was fined $5.

The records show that Dallaire and Tilley were charged with burglary not in a dwelling, and were bound over to the grand jury. They were charged with entering DeVoe's one night in November 1931. When Tilley appeared before Circuit Judge H. D. Norton, friends made an appeal for leniency, and he was granted a six months suspension of sentence. The same mercy was extended Dallaire, who had previously made an appearance in juvenile court.

Dallaire and Tilley are alleged in the latest charge to have taken a 50-foot steel tape, a golf club, and a can of tobacco from the garage of Thomas Harver on Peach street. They were seen in the garage by Robert Walker son of Sergeant Walker of the state police, who called the authorities.

They are scheduled to appear in justice court today.

NURSERY, SUING BANKS ON TREES

The Carlton Nursery Co. today filed suit in circuit court against the Suncrest Orchards, Inc., L. A. Banks, president, and seven parties who have obtained judgments against the Suncrest Orchards, in the past six months. The nursery company asks for $25,000 for trees furnished and planted for the orchard company in 1930, for which it asserts it has not received payment.

The tangled financial affairs of Banks have resulted in a number of actions being filed against him, and his orchard company, most of them before he was placed in jail to answer to a first degree murder charge. Next Saturday a hearing is scheduled in circuit court, to make permanent the receivership of H. S. Duvel, who was named temporary receiver, following the filing of a suit for $15,000, by bondholders of the Suncrest Orchards, Inc. for money due. Last Saturday a portion of Banks' orchard holdings and his home on West Main street, where Constable George J. Prescott was slain, was sold on judgments for money loaned by the Medford National bank. It was reported that a move was afoot to file an involuntary petition for Banks in federal court at Portland, for the benefit of creditors, but his attorney reported he knew nothing of the plan.

Banks yesterday, following several sessions with attorneys for creditors, issued a request to the chief jailer, that in the future they be referred to his counsel. The request was granted.

PRESBYTERIANS CLOSE SESSION AT CENTRAL PT.

The annual spring meeting of the Presbytery of southwest Oregon in session at the Central Point Federated church since Monday evening, closed this noon with a Bible conference hour, led by Dr. F. W. Russell of Mt. Hermon and San Francisco. Dr. Russell was the guest speaker for this meeting and gave several interesting and inspiring addresses.

Commissioners or delegates to the national meeting at Columbus, Ohio, in May were chosen, the four being Revs. E. V. Ostrander of Myrtle Point and Alexander Muirhead and Elders H. F. W. Spitzer of Medford and George A. Martin of Medford. This Presbytery includes the counties of Jackson, Josephine, Douglas, Curry, Klamath and Lake, with 26 Presbyterian churches and 36 ministers enrolled, some of the latter being of age to retire and living elsewhere.

Except for financial stringency, the work of the year has been unusually encouraging in many ways and this was much the best meeting of the Presbytery and was the best attended for years. The Central Point church and pastor were splendid and most gracious hosts, and the church was filled last night with many people in attendance from Central Point and over the valley from Ashland to Grants Pass.

Rogue River was chosen again this year as the place for holding the young people's summer conference, which will be from June 24 to July 2, inclusive. With a registered attendance of over 90 at this conference last summer, the largest of the three held in Oregon, the outlook is for an even better one this year. At this meeting of the Presbytery Rev. Adolph Haberly was received from the Presbytery of Highland, Kansas, and Rev. J. L. Beatty was transferred to the Willamette Presbytery, Oregon.
