Patton, Pasadena and E. J. Wyant, Los Angeles.

Leave Last of Week. The officials will make no announcement relative to the time of the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Banks to the Lane county jail, except that "it will be the last of the week." The pair will be in charge of the state police, under Captain Lee M. Brown, and the sheriffs of Lane and Jackson counties, with Banks in personal charge of Chief Jailer Fred W. Kelly. The authorities do not anticipate any "spectacular moves, but there is nothing like playing safe."

Mrs. Banks will be held in the women's ward of the Eugene city jail; Banks in the woman's ward of the county jail. A state police guard will be maintained over the jail. There have been several jail-breaks from it in the past. It is a rather ancient structure.

Say Wife Accomplish. Banks and his wife, Edith Robertine Banks, are charged with first degree murder, the extreme penalty for which is death on gallows, for the slaying of Constable George J. Prescott on the morning of March 16. Constable Prescott came to serve a warrant on Banks, on an indictment charging him with ballot-theft. Mrs. Banks opened the door through which Prescott fired with a rifle, killing Prescott instantly. Banks fired from a position behind his wife and from the middle of the room, and from the return fire.

The state will contend that Mrs. Banks acted as an accessory, knew of the threats of her mate, and that by opening the door she became an accomplice. Had Banks come to the door the officers would have been prepared for any armed resistance. Mrs. Banks' opening the door, the state contends, marked Banks' intention and momentarily threw the law off its guard. Among the exhibits at the trial will be the ominous array of firearms found in Banks' home after the killing.

Buster Crabbe Has Lead Craterian Hit. Excitement runs high in the new film which opened yesterday at the Fox Craterian theatre, for "King of the Jungle" is the story of a real wild man—a boy brought up from early childhood by a pack of lions. And although the story deals with the taming of the Lion Man, at the hands of a beautiful woman, it glorifies the jungle beasts in their native setting, and builds a narrative of primitive power.

The role of the Lion Man is in the hands of a newcomer, Buster Crabbe, swimming champion of international renown.

ASHLAND NORMAL SHOWS INCREASE KIWANIANS TOLD

Walter Redford, president of the Southern Oregon Normal school, was chief speaker today at the luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Hotel Medford. He reported an increased enrollment at the school in spite of the depression, the total for this term being 10 greater than last year's number. The Normal school now has the lowest cost per pupil of any institution of higher learning in the state. President Redford informed his audience, giving reasons why it has maintained a large attendance.

One-third of the students attending the normal are taking junior college work, which will qualify them to enter university or college as juniors at the completion of two years in Ashland.

There will be 1108 high school graduates in southern Oregon this year, he stated, from which number the normal school expects to draw a large enrollment for next term.

The city of Medford is well represented at the school, the number of students enrolled from this city at the present time totalling 300.

The music for today's program was furnished by the male quartet of the normal school, including Durward Geas, Robert Nelson, George Bennett and Arthur Cook with Mary Chambers as pianist.

Visiting Kiwanians were C. B. Math of Sacramento, and H. C. Galey of Ashland.

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP)—Heavy trading swept over the nation's financial markets today and prices generally posted higher, though stocks met late profit-taking after a rise of $1 to $3 a share. With grains, cotton, rubber, sugar, hides, silver and cocoa advancing as the dollar resumed its decline against foreign monies, stocks maintained a furious pace and turnover approximated 5,000,000 shares. The market went through frequent reactionary periods, but fresh buying was provided in large volume and even in the late trading the trend was kept irregularly higher.

Wheat, after almost cancelling a rise of more than a cent, took a vigorous spurt just at the close and finished with net gains of 1 to 2 cents a bushel.

On the Job every minute they've just got to be right

Each and every Chesterfield!

Each tray of CHESTERFIELDS from the cigarette-making machines passes under the watchful eyes of inspectors, trained by long practice to see flaws such as an end of torn paper, or a poorly filled cigarette. And there's still another safeguard... two "electric detectives" on each packaging machine. Electric fingers "feel" each end of every cigarette, and throw out every imperfect package. Open your pack of Chesterfields, and look at them. It's no accident that every cigarette is round, firm and full. Somebody's been on the job every minute to give you what you want... a cigarette that's made right in every way and that's milder and tastes better.

BT. FALLS LADS TRIM PROSPECT

Butte Falls took the lion's share of the boxing and wrestling events in the athletic program with Prospect at the latter town Saturday night. According to Prospect adherents some of the decisions were wide of the actual display of prowess. Prospect will meet Butte Falls in the lumber town in a return program next year, the ring and mat festival being an annual affair.

GRAPPLERS' FIGHT INTERESTS FANS

News Saturday that Ray Frisbie, Medford's wrestling fireman, had agreed to meet Pete Belcastro, Salsamento grappler, in a contest with the gloves on Promoter Mack Lillard's next Army smoker Wednesday evening drew much comment from fans who have watched the grudge develop between the pair of hearties. Frisbie's friends are a bit dubious as to his ability with the padded mittens, but declare Mr. Belcastro will know he has been in a brawl before the night is ended.

A fine card of fights is being arranged by Lillard for the forthcoming smoker, in addition to the feature battle between the two wrestlers.
