Proper Food Important Factor in Child Health

By the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Each year of the depression has emphasized the importance of our new kind of May Day, now set apart by presidential proclamation as Child Health Day. Many people believe that by constantly calling attention to child health, through this and other means, the government has prevented some of the worst of the permanent harm the depression might otherwise have caused.

So the child's food nowadays is everybody's concern. Parents must see to it and the community must not neglect it; for upon the child's food and other controllable conditions of his life very largely depends his health.

Cornstarch Pudding. Supper. Shoestring Carrots in Milk. Buttered Toast. Canned Fruit or Stewed Dried Apricots. Milk for All. RECIPES. Liver and Bacon. 1/2 pound sliced bacon. 1 pound sliced liver. Salt. Pepper. Flour. Parsley. Cook the bacon slowly in a skillet. As soon as it is delicately browned and crisp, drain on paper and keep warm. Wipe the liver, and if it is hog or lamb liver acid for a few minutes in hot water. Beef and calf liver does not need scalding. Sprinkle the pieces of liver with salt and pepper, dip in flour, and cook in the bacon fat at moderate heat until the liver is lightly browned. Serve surrounded by the crisp bacon on a hot platter and garnish with parsley. If gravy is desired, reserve 2 tablespoons of the fat, add 2 tablespoons of flour, and 1 1/2 cups of milk or cold water, and stir constantly until thickened. Season with salt, pepper, and a little minced onion. Serve hot with the liver and bacon.
