

LEGION AUXILIARY POPPY WEEK OPEN BEFORE MEMORIAL

(Contributed)

The American Legion Auxiliary will observe Poppy Week this year the week preceding Memorial day.

The American Legion poppy was worn in America in honor of the war dead even before the close of the war. In 1919 scattered poppy sales were held by the American Legion and the following year, in national convention at Cleveland, Ohio, the organization adopted the poppy as its memorial flower. When the Auxiliary was organized in Kansas City in 1921, one of its first acts was the adoption of the poppy as the memorial flower.

The nation-wide sale of poppies to be worn on Memorial day was begun by the Legion and Auxiliary in 1921. As first silk poppies made in France by French widows and orphans were used, but soon the manufacture of paper poppies by American disabled veterans was begun. The paper poppy made by American disabled in government hospitals and poppy work shops became the standard American Legion and Auxiliary flower.

By 1924 it was seen that the poppy program lent itself more naturally to the work of women than of men and the American Legion gave to the Auxiliary complete charge of the national program. This was a heavy responsibility. The poppy was sacred to the war dead and needed to be guarded against selling commercialism. A large percentage of the welfare and relief funds of the two organizations came from the poppy sale. Scarcely has such a gigantic enterprise been placed solely in the hands of women.

How well the Auxiliary measured up to the responsibility placed in its hands is shown by the development in the sale of the red paper flower. All contributions and poppy work shops are used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families and the needy families of Medford.

WILLIAM VAWTER IS REALTY AGENT

William I. Vawter, one of Medford's native sons, who has great faith in the future of the Rogue River valley, because he knows it so well, has entered the real estate and insurance business in room 16, Jackson County bank building, he announced yesterday. The numerous relief measures now being passed, he believes, will mean restoration of the farming industry and increased sales of property and, in anticipation of this rise in the property market, he has entered the real estate business.

Mr. Vawter was associated with the Jackson County bank here for 15 years and developed the Glen Oak subdivision, one of Medford's most beautiful residential sections, a few years ago. In his present business he will specialize in home selling, suburban homes, acreage, farms, rentals, property management, investments and insurance.

Remember you can buy all of this printing at home cheaper than out of town, and help maintain a home payroll. Don't buy any printing from traveling men—you always pay their expenses, plus the price of the printing. Phoen 73 and have a local man call and see you.

HOT LUNCH AIDS RURAL CHILDREN RETAIN HEALTH

Wonderful results accomplished in advancement of health among rural school children, through the serving of hot lunches, were reported at the last meeting of the Allied Welfare association by Mrs. Una B. Inch, county school supervisor. A few outlying districts have not yet adopted the hot lunch habit, she stated, but expect to next year.

Miss Lillian Roberts, Red Cross secretary, reported that 136 families had been given flour and 50 families clothing during the last month. She also announced receipt of 59 inquiries regarding the old age pension and reported 43 groups of women working on materials furnished by the Red Cross. Subscriptions here to the earth quake fund totaled $86.50.

Mrs. Jack Heyland reported the Parent-Teacher association and adequate to enable the continuance of hot lunches. Mrs. Edwina Weishaar, representing the Business and Professional Women's club, announced that the group is cooperating with the Y. W. C. A. in supporting the noon luncheon program adopted.

Mrs. Volney Dixon, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution, reported financial help given several projects by that group. As a Lady Rotarian she also reported aid given some of the high school graduates.

Mrs. I. E. Schuler of the Jackson County Health association and representative of the Y. W. C. A. announced splendid work carried on by both groups, urging support of the Health association membership drive.

Mrs. R. E. Green announced that Girl Scouts are having to give up their camp on the Applegate because of mining activities. Camp will be held at Lake of the Woods this year.

JACK HUESTON VOTED EAGLE LODGE LEADER AT ANNUAL ELECTION

Jack Hueston was elected president of the Medford lodge of Eagles last night and George Cona vice-president. Other officers selected for the coming year include: Parks Shelby, chaplain; V. O. Gillette, secretary; Phil Gearhardt, treasurer; Lee Humphrey, conductor; J. R. Lillie, inside guard; Frank Barbour, trustee; Dr. A. F. W. Kress, physician.

Installation will be held the first meeting in June, when something out of the ordinary is scheduled to entertain the fast growing membership of Medford aerie.

According to reports of last night's election meeting, there was an attempt to "steal" the ballots. "John Doe" warrants have been issued and a trial of the culprits will be held next Friday night at the lodge meeting. It is expected that a definite clue led investigators to Bear creek, where some of the missing ballots were found. A defense fund is being raised and if the accused are found not guilty it is said the fund will be used to buy refreshments for the Eagles who attend Friday night.

THE OLD ADAGE.
I'm just a BLOOMER and I can't talk, but perhaps actions do speak louder than words. The elastic around my waist is guaranteed to outlast the garment itself. Wear me. If you like me tell others who also want real BLOOMER pleasure.
