

NET TIGHTENS ON ACCUSED PAIR AS TESTIMONY GIVEN

By Arthur Perry
EUGENE, May 8.—The first week of the trial here of L. A. Banks, and his wife, Edith, on the charge of the slaying of Constable George J. Prescott, saw eleven of the 25 witnesses the state has subpoenaed, interrogated. One of the lot, Clyde A. Warren, state police detective, was still on the stand under the hot cross-examination, as the second week started Monday morning.

Warren is the second witness to testify that Mrs. Banks immediately after the killing said, when asked about the crime, "We did it." T. E. (Tommy) Williams, Medford oil company employee testified Friday, that the grey-haired woman defendant made the same reply. The state has started to forge a chain of evidence around Mrs. Banks.

From the note-book of Sergeant Warren, Eugene, Oregon, for the Grand Jury, these words: "Took Chuck Davis to G. Fess jail. Davis said: 'Banks with his paper caused all these I. W. W.'s'. The date in the note book was February 26. It gave the jury and the audience a glimpse of the turmoil that led up to the tragedy. Davis had been arrested for the first time, and was housed in the Josephine county jail. Later he entered a plea of guilty. He is now a county jail trusty."

Warren further testified on direct examination, that he and Sergeant Lumsden were on guard at the back door of the Banks home, that they had arrested E. A. Fleming, Jacksonville orchardist, as he appeared, shortly after the report of the shot. Fleming was searched. They thought at first he was Banks, and did not know his true identity. When Sergeant O'Brien came with the word, that "George is killed."

Warren testified, that after the crime, with Lieut. Alex. Dunn of the state police, he searched the Banks home, and secured a voluntary statement from Mrs. Banks. She gave the officers a slip of paper, upon which "George is killed."

Mr. Prescott tried to break in, and we had to shoot him," was the key-note of the interview.

Soon after the departure of Banks, in custody of officers, for the Grants Pass jail, Charlotte E. Ford, of Tillamook, a visitor to a Medford home, arrived. The state police requested she search Mrs. Banks, which she did, and was present during most of the statement. The court rule that the evidence was admissible, as related to Mrs. Banks, but not to the testimony upon Banks, as he was not present.

Sergeant Warren testified to a search of the Banks home, and finding a note in a coat pocket. The note was presented for identification yesterday by the state, and will be offered as evidence, and its contents, hints as significantly, will be revealed when read to the jury.

Warren also identified a large suitcase found in the Banks home. It contained a large amount of ammunition—pistol and rifle—two woven shirts, a pair of boots, a can of solvent powder, used in foundation guns, two bars of soap. The cartridge in the high-powered game rifle, and the revolver found in the Banks home, beside the suitcase lay a hunting coat, and hat.

The state contends this shows Banks was planning flight. The defense contends, and so stated in their opening statement, that Banks, on that mid-March day of the murder, was preparing for a hunting trip "to get away from it all."

The prosecution the first week of the trial, cleared the deck of preliminary, and laid the foundation for its strongest witnesses, including Chief of Police Clatsop McCredie and Capt. Lee M. Brown. The state is evidently reserving its most damning and damaging blows for the close of its direct case. Banks' statement and interview, following the killing are also to be told the jury.

Specialists On Bible Schools Will Hold Local Conferences

Miss Hazel Lewis of Indianapolis, a specialist in Bible school work, will be a the Christian church tomorrow for a number of conferences with all Bible school workers. Miss Lewis is one of the outstanding specialists in this line in the nation. She has just finished a number of conferences in Portland. Bible school workers from all churches attended and were very enthusiastic over her work.

Her schedule tomorrow calls for an afternoon conference with children's workers—nursery, beginner, primary and junior, together with preachers. Anybody is welcome, but these are the ones she particularly desires in the afternoon. This conference will begin at 2 o'clock. At 4:30 there will be covered dish luncheon. This will be followed by a conference for all church school workers, church officials, and any one interested in the educational work of the church.

Miss Lewis is making a tour of the western states, and is spending ten days in Oregon.

Don't extend credit to Mr. New Customer until you find out from the Southern Oregon Credit Bureau how he paid the other fellows.

LEGION BLOWOUT SLATED TONIGHT AT JACKSONVILLE

"Coming to the Bye" is the theme song announced for tonight's big "Dutch" lunch and dance at the old U. S. Grant hotel in Jacksonville, being arranged for Medford's American Legion post and Auxiliary by the Jacksonville chamber of commerce. This is the annual meeting held in the old dining city, as there are numerous Legionnaires in Jacksonville, who are members of the Medford post.

A brief business meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, to be followed by the lunch and dancing, a special orchestra having been engaged for the evening.

Clint Dunnington of Jacksonville, a member of the city council, is in charge of arrangements, and according to word about town today, he and his kitchen crew expect to give the Medford delegations ideas as to how Dutch lunches should be served. Steer will have its place on the lunch menu and one of the most gala evenings on the Legion's calendar is expected.

A large number of Legionnaires and members of the local auxiliary plan to attend tonight's gathering.

NERVES OF STEEL SHOWN BY COUPLE IN MURDER TRIAL

ing more seven weeks of jail confinement. His lips and facial muscles move constantly, in an odd nervous reflex.

Once, during the trial Banks manifested extreme agitation. That was when Attorney Hammersley made mention of his father. In a brief review of the defendant's career, his brother-in-law, Charles P. Moran, quitted him with a comforting pat on the shoulder.

Jail attendants say that Banks spent a sleepless Friday night, and was highly perturbed by the testimony of Tommy Williams that afternoon.

Charles P. Moran, kin of Banks, is a man of about 60 years—a typical successful mid-west business man, of evident wealth and refinement. His wife, Banks' sister, is a woman of past 50 years. She dresses in excellent taste, and is ever a highly interested listener, to the testimony. She consoles Mrs. Banks from time to time. Moran retained Attorney Longman and Hardy for the defense.

The jury is a cross-section of Linn county—six men and six women. The women are of the home and farm, the type of women who go to church on Sunday, and have a high sense of civic duty. The men are the same. Substantial citizens, schooled in hard work. All give the impression they would carefully weigh every move and declaration, and not be easily moved by dramatic appeals to sympathy.

Of the men jurors, Captain Page, Juror No. 12, holds the most interest for spectators. He is about 65 years old. During the direct testimony, he is an alert listener, but during the cross examination, he sits with closed eyes and folded hands. He is a retired sea captain, with the roll of the sea in his walk, and a picturesque figure. The press table calls him "Cap Rickety."

MRS. FOLKENBERG CALLED TO REST

Mr. and Mrs. Folkenberg moved from Medford to Hillsboro in June, after residing here and being prominently identified with musical activities for eight years. Mrs. Folkenberg had taught music in academies and colleges and was an accredited piano teacher. Mr. Folkenberg expects to return to Medford and resume music instruction.

Junior High P. T. A. Affair
 Enjoyed by Larg Crowd
 The gymnasium at the Junior high school was decorated to form a beautiful setting Saturday afternoon for the benefit concert, at which members of the Parent-Teacher association were hostesses.

Great bouquets of lilacs and tulips, a false ceiling of pastel streamers, and a woodland spring scene, painted by Gladys Sturdivant, formed the predominant notes in the decoration scheme.

There were 19 tables of cards in play and prizes awarded Mrs. W. A. Holloway, in contract, Mrs. D. L. Flynn, in progressive auction, Mrs. Hubbard in pivot auction, and Mrs. Hanson in pinocle.

While refreshments were being served by the Junior high school girls, a musical program was presented under the direction of Miss Margaret Arnold, music supervisor at Junior high school.

Several numbers were played by the girls' orchestra. Ben Hostmark entertained with a vocal solo and Frankie Rinsbacher appeared in a Spanish dance. Bob Walker and Thos. Harvey sang a duet number and Corinne Harwood sang a solo, playing her own ukelele accompaniment.

Solo numbers were also played by several members of the orchestra. Entertaining with violin solos were: Christie Elson, Viola Cleven and Terlene Young. A flute solo was played by Jeanette Thatcher and Edith Hodgkins and Rebecca Chaney entertained with vocal solos.

DEMOCRATS HOWL AS ADJOURNMENT THREATENS BILLS

be a lot of trading back and forth between the White House and the senate before things are straightened out.

The situation on the most important items might be summarized as follows:

THE THIRTY-HOUR WEEK is as dead as Caesar. A more moderate means for control of industry and labor may be found later.

THE NORRIS MUSCLE SHOALS bill will be passed and signed within a few days. The final form will probably provide government construction of transmission lines with a modification of the house provision for making fertilizer.

THE TRUTH-IN-SECURITIES bill will be passed in satisfactory form. THE GLASS BANKING bill is being subjected to subtle administration opposition. The best guess is that it will not pass.

THE GASOLINE TAX bill will certainly pass, continuing the one cent a gallon federal rate for another year. The electrical tax will be transferred from the consumer to the companies.

THE PUBLIC WORKS CONSTRUCTION program is deeply involved in bickering but will probably pass eventually. It will carry two billion but the LaFollette-Costigan bloc will try to boost it to five.

THE SOLDIERS' BONUS is dead, no matter how many armies march on Washington.

The guiding hand behind this Morgan investigation still is that of Mr. Roosevelt.

There are unmistakable signs that he and Mr. Pecora made more decisions about this coming inquiry than any of the investigators themselves.

Prosecutor Pecora announced the date for hearing Mr. Morgan two hours before he saw Chairman Fletcher of the investigating committee. Ordinarily, Fletcher would be running the inquiry, but now he is only being told what has been done.

Former Atheist To Hold Series Meetings Here
 Martin S. Charles, one time infidel lecturer, debater and organizer, and former editor of the "Godless World," an atheistic monthly magazine, is conducting a series of special meetings at Pull Gospel church, Newtown and Main streets.

He is being assisted by his co-worker, Ralph Underwood, 33-year-old evangelist who from the time he was 14 years of age was known nationally as an anti-religious agitator of the most vehement type.

The men were converted in California a year ago and are now on an international tour crusading against infidelity and unbelief, coming here from several successful meetings in Canada and enroute to California and eastern cities.

Mr. Charles will devote 15 minutes at each service to answering questions of unbelievers and open a meeting at 7:30 until next Sunday. All unbelievers and infidels are invited to attend these services.

Kiwanis Clubs To Be Grange Guests
 PHOENIX, May 8.—(Spl.)—Phoenix Grange entertains the Kiwanis clubs of Ashland and Medford Wednesday night with a supper. A small charge will be made. All communities are invited to attend. A program will be furnished by the clubs.

Christian Church Thronged At End Revival Services

The Christian church was crowded at all services Sunday, bringing to a close the three weeks' successful evangelistic meeting conducted by Teddy Leavitt. There were 566 in the Sunday school. Mr. Leavitt taught the class of high school students and when he extended the invitation to join the church 18 young men and young women responded, and there were 15 other young and older people who joined the church at the morning and evening services, making 31 additions during Sunday and 60 during the meeting.

Mr. Leavitt left this morning for his home near McMinnville and will return with his family and open a meeting at Rogue River next Thursday evening.

Mr. Leavitt has spent many years as a pastor and in evangelistic work, including the Klondike country, logging camps and many cities all over the country, presents the gospel message in a clear, forceful, instructive and convincing way and gets results. He made many friends during his stay here.

There will be a reception for the new members at the church next Monday evening, to which all members and friends will be invited. Mr. Leavitt will be present.

PAST AND FUTURE POLICIES TOLD IN DEPRESSION FIGHT

"The administration," he said, "has the definite objective of raising commodity prices to such an extent that those who have borrowed money will, on the average, be able to repay that money in the same kind of dollar which they borrowed. We do not seek to let them get such a cheap dollar that they will be able to pay back a great deal less than they borrowed."

"In other words, we seek to correct a wrong and not to create another wrong in the opposite direction. That is why powers are being given to the administration to provide, if necessary, for an enlargement of credit, in order to correct the existing wrong."

There is every indication Mr. Roosevelt will employ promptly the provision of the inflation bill providing for government purchase of outstanding government bonds as a means of making millions, now invested by banks in these obligations, free for industry's use.

His declaration that "well considered and conservative measures will be proposed" for industrial supervision was regarded as meaning that something new in the way of legislation would be advanced in the place of the 80-hour work week bill now pending in the house.

An unofficial committee, headed by Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.), has virtually completed the drafting of a plan for self-regulation by industry through a relaxing of the anti-trust laws and is expected to put it before the President this week.

Industry has been described by J. H. Rand, Jr., prominent manufacturer and a member of the Wagner committee, as considering a proposal to put 3,000,000 men back to work on a specified date as part of the program.
