

OREGON TRADING AREA BRIGHTENS AS PRICES JUMP

PORTLAND, Ore., May 12.—(AP)—Strengthening commodity prices throughout the nation are being reflected in corresponding degree in the Oregon trading area, with general optimism prevailing among dealers and sellers.

Continued advances in hops now creates little excitement, so accustomed are producers to such recent movements, but more interest was being shown in the news that hides and wool are advancing again.

Increases in prices of wheat and flour as well as millstuffs and hay continue.

The Journal said "It is almost impossible today to purchase more than a small supply of wool simply because of the prospects for better prices." Through eastern Oregon 17 to 18 cents a pound is offered for medium grade wool. Firm offers of the higher price for several hundred thousand pounds have been made at Baker but holders want more money. Prices in the Willamette valley are firmer to higher, dealers here said today.

Large bids in mohair are inclined to strengthen but nothing can be confirmed in the way of sales at the current 7-cent price.

A rather keen call has been heard for hides in the Portland area, with further strength suggested. Calf hides are up to 5 cents a pound, with sheep 4 1/2 to 5 cents.

There was a further strengthening of the dried bean market here as a result of tight holding at Oregon-Idaho sources and in California.

LETTER TO BANKS BY WIFE ADVISED COURSE IN BATTLE

and is as admirable as the revolver found on the hall cot in the Banks home. They had a plan. They did not change their plan—only the details.

The defense's objection contended the note was "confidential matter, without foundation, not identified as Mrs. Banks' handwriting, and prejudicial to the defendants."

Attorney Lonergan twisted Attorney Moody by calling his remarks "preparation for your jury address," and "it has been 18 years since I heard his voice raised to so high a pitch."

The jury was excused during the argument. Mrs. Marjorie Satterlee, a young mother and former secretary to Banks, now a resident of Roseburg, testified she was acquainted with the handwriting of both defendants, and that in their writing, "Daddy, dear," and "Mother" were favored terms of endearment between the pair.

Both Banks and Mrs. Banks were cheered by the rejection of the note, but their spirits drooped with the damaging testimony of Edward Thomsen and Captain Bowler later. Both defendants became moody later in the day, and sat with bowed heads. Mrs. Banks seemed wearier than on any day of the trial.

Rapt listeners of every word are Charles P. Moran of Cleveland, Ohio, and his wife, a sister of Banks. A serious man has come over Moran the past two days, as the state drives home its most damning testimony and evidence. Moran is reputed to be supplying finances for the Banks' defense.

Another out-of-town man is visiting Medford merchants, soliciting sales books, waiter checks, and other printing. Remember you can buy all of this printing at home cheaper than out of town, and help maintain a home payroll. Don't buy any printing from traveling men—you always pay their expenses, plus the price of the printing. Phone 75 and have a local man call and see you.

NEW BASEBALL TEAM ORGANIZED

Medford is to have another representative in the sports world, according to an announcement made by George Robertson yesterday. Robertson announced that a new baseball team, under the name of Gilmore Lions and managed by himself, would accept all challenges.

The team is composed of former Junior Legion players and former Medford high school and college players. The season was opened last week with an 8-5 victory over Jacksonville and a second game is scheduled with Butte Falls for May 15.

Players on the team are Lewis, Sakratia, Patton, Wilson, Bingham, J. Smith, J. Sakratia, Old Hughes, H. Newland, B. Smith and G. Smith.

Anyone wishing to arrange a game with the lions is asked to call Robertson at the Hotel Medford.

LA GRANDE, Ore., May 12.—(AP)—The Lions club of LaGrande will sponsor the annual pet parade here tomorrow. About 1000 children and their pets are expected to enter.

ACTION ON SAVING HIGHWAY TIMBER TO BE DISCUSSED

Mrs. Jessie Honeyman of Eugene, who thrilled a Medford audience yesterday afternoon in an address at the city clubrooms, will speak tonight at the courthouse auditorium under the auspices of the Medford Garden club at 7:30 o'clock, on the work of the Oregon Council for Preservation of Roadside Beauty.

Just now the council is deeply concerned with the proposed cutting of timber along the Crater Lake highway, between Prospect and the national forest. Mrs. Honeyman stated yesterday, and proposals for action to be taken to prevent this cutting of timber will be considered tonight.

Members of the Medford Chamber of Commerce and all other persons interested in preservation of highway beauty are urged to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Honeyman is a forceful and interesting speaker and fully conversant with her subject.

Several prominent men, well informed on the subject, will also speak tonight.

The use of the auditorium has been made possible through the kindness of the Property Owners' association, headed by George Iverson, the latter group having consented to use of another room of the courthouse for meeting place tonight.

ROOSEVELT WINS CUP AND BANNER IN HEALTH WORK

When children of Roosevelt school go out after things, they go out after them, and they don't bring them back singly—at least, that's their record in health. This afternoon at the annual observance of Health Honor roll festivities the honor cup and the health banner were both awarded by Ruth Swanson Dodson, school nurse, to the Roosevelt school.

The cup was awarded the school for having the highest percentage in daily health inspection, and the banner was won by having the greatest percentage of pupils on the Health Honor roll.

School honors in the latter classification went to the Junior high school and second in the first classification to Washington.

The cup now becomes the permanent possession of the Roosevelt school, this being the third consecutive year it has been won.

Programs were held in each of the elementary schools in celebration of the completion of another year of health work. Health Honor Roll pins were presented 1296 children in the elementary and junior high schools. This total was slightly under last year's figure of 1319 and blamed on the depression, which has made it seem difficult for many children to comply with the health requirements.

At the Washington school Dr. E. W. Durno was the speaker of the afternoon and a parade around the building was staged by the children. A May pole dance was featured at the Lincoln school and Coach Darwin K. Burgher spoke to Jackson

QUALIFYING PLAY SLATED SUNDAY

If the weather man is kind to valley golfers Sunday, qualifying rounds in the spring handicap tourney at the Medford municipal course will be played, according to F. W. Chausse, manager of the course.

Several have already qualified for the tourney, but Chausse wanted to hold qualifications open until at least one good Sunday's golf was possible, thus enabling a greater entry list. Present indications are for the tourney to be larger and better than the spring tourney of last year, which formally opened the course.

Recent rains, although they have held up play, have put the course in excellent condition, with the fairways grassy and level, and the greens fast.

CADETS ON PARADE . . . AND HILLS BROS COFFEE

Roasting "a little at a time" insures flawless flavor for every pound

THE RICH, enchanting taste you find in your first pound of Hills Bros. Coffee comes in every pound! This is the result of Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros.' exclusive process.

Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. roast their coffee evenly, continuously, a little at a time. Year in and year out, every berry in Hills Bros.' rare blend receives exactly the same roasting—exactly the same flavor!

Such uniformity can't be achieved by ordinary bulk-roasting. For big batches don't permit a uniform spread of heat. Disappointing flavor-variations naturally result.
