Callaghan and Mrs. Margaret Maddron of Sacramento, Calif.

CONVICTED SLAYER NEAR BREAKDOWN IS WORD TO JUDGE

through the door which was held on the other side by Mrs. Banks, the defendant fired a bullet intended simply to frighten the officer, believing at the time that his own life and the life of Mrs. Banks was in imminent danger. Perjury Claimed. The trial lasted three weeks. The defense introduced several men who declared they were eye-witnesses to the killing. The state declared it was successful in controverting their stories by gaining admissions from each that although he was in the street in front of the Banks residence, not one saw any of the others.
