FERTILE RANCH OF 1400 ACRES GOING AT AUCTION SALE

The Balfour Guthrie ranch, north of Ashland across Bear creek, will be the scene of a public auction Thursday, May 25, at which time 1400 acres of fertile land including 200 acres of the finest alfalfa in Jackson county will be sold to the highest bidder. Judging from the numerous inquiries received by the Walter H. Jones Land Auction company from interested parties in California, Washington and all sections of Oregon, a big crowd will be present. Colonel A. L. Stevenson, well known auctioneer of Corvallis, will arrive in Medford Wednesday to complete arrangements for the sale which is scheduled to start promptly at 9:30 Thursday morning. Lunch stands will be stationed on the grounds so there will be no delay in continuing bidding throughout the day. Bids will be received first on tract No. 26, across from the Power company's sub-station on Nevada street. To reach this place which includes a set of improvements, cross Bear creek at the Oak street bridge, turn right, and follow the auction signs. One hundred dollars per acre was spent in clearing and leveling some of the Balfour Guthrie land four years ago. Since that time the entire ranch has been sub-divided by City Engineer F. H. Walker, of Ashland. Pasture tracts are made up of from 50 to 200 acres, while the farm land tracts consist of from 12 to 50 acres. In discussing Thursday's auction sale, Walter H. Jones, agent, estimated that the 200 acres of alfalfa would yield two tons per acre, and that the remainder of the ranch is as fine as any in the Rogue River valley.

Attorney Moody read Bray's testimony to the jury and said, "If you can get a threat out of that testimony the defense is welcome to it."
